The N. Y. Symphony Club.

A great musical organization. The following letter was received, which explains itself:
Rock Rapids, Ia., Feb. 16, 1891.

J. F. Young, Esq., Plattsmouth, Neb.—Our people are in raptures over the delightful entertainment given us by the New York Symphony Club Saturday evening. The opera house was packed from "pit" to gallery with an enthusiastic crowd, that insisted upon recalling each member of the club repeatedly.

Mr. Chas. F. Higgins, particularly, captured every auditor with his magnificent handling of his $1,000 violin. Every motion and touch bespoke the finished artist, and in his hands the violin became a living creature.

The universal comment upon the club here to "grand," "superb," "a perfect success," "the finest ever in the city," etc., etc. Your people must hear them or suffer regret.

This company will be at the opera house Tuesday, March 10.

The Secret of Success.

F. G. Fricks & Co., druggists, believe that the secret of success lies in perseverance. Therefore they persist in keeping the finest line of perfumery, toilet articles, cosmetics, drugs and chemicals on the market. They especially invite all persons who have palpitation, short breath, weak or hungry spells, pain in side or shoulder, oppression, night sweats, dry cough, smothering, dropsy or heart disease to try Dr. Miles' unequalled New Heart Cure, before it is too late. It has the largest sale of any similar remedy.

WOMAN'S REAL PLACE.

A CONTRAST BETWEEN THE SHOP GIRL AND THE SERVANT.

The Former Tries to Keep Body and Soul Together with Scarcely More Money Than the Latter Gets as Pocket Money.
The Cause of the Evil.

The kitchen and nursery versus the factory and store question has long engaged the attention of women who are devoting their lives to the improvement of the material condition of their sisters.
In other words, those philanthropic persons are wondering whether, after all, the working woman has done a wise thing by leaving the sphere which was peculiarly her own, with different surroundings, since the days of Adam, and invading the occupations which are, by their nature, adapted to men.

Some opinions on this subject have recently been given. They came from women who thoroughly understand the existing conditions of life, and their expressions were echoes which are heard everywhere nowadays. The best friends, male and female, of the working women are asking the same question—Way do women put themselves under circumstances where they may be led to starvation or shame when they can readily avoid both by remaining within their natural sphere?

The answer given by a leader of the working women is the only one that covers the question in many cases. It is the "factory craze." The "saleslady" and the "factory lady" have an ambition to outstep the wives and daughters of their employers in the matter of dress, and they see nothing absurd in carrying out their purpose. And the community seems to agree with them.

WIVES IN TWO LINES OF WORK.

Careful observers say that in this matter the girls act just the same as the young men of the day who crowd one another for positions, etc., whose pay is $4 or $5 a week, but who have a taste in which they can see, here, a four-times that much. The busy little clerk and the factory girl, who would be horrified if any one offered to entreduce them to the rosy, healthy servant-girl who has an account at the bank, or to the robust mechanic who can produce a larger roll of bills on Saturday evening.

The "lady" who sells handkerchiefs and toilet boxes during the day for an income of fifty cents is the other half of the "gentleman" who sells cuffs and collars for sixty or seventy cents a day.
They are the natural product of the new American lady and gentleman craze, and they never realize just what it means unless they get married. Then the "gentleman" clerk writes he had "mated with a girl" in domestic service who knew how to "cook and who had a little money laid by; and the "lady" regrets that she did not devote her smiles to a mechanic who could support her. The police courts and the divorce courts give the culmination of these stories every day in the year.

But the purpose of this article is to give further particulars that enter into the contrast between the women in domestic service and those who have flooded men's occupations. According to the most accurate statistics obtainable, the wages of servants in this city average, at the lowest estimate, $15 a month, besides board, lodging and in many cases all the clothing needed. Perhaps $3.50 a week might be fixed as the average money compensation of all the women in domestic service.

Now, according to the statement of Miss Ida Van Etten, Mrs. Creagh and Miss Foster, the average wages of working women in stores and factories is, at the highest estimate, $4 a week.

A COMPARISON.

That is a half dollar difference in wages, and that half dollar represents, in a comparison, the board, lodging, etc., of the servants. Of course, no woman can live on fifty cents a week. It takes her whole $4 to pay for board and lodgings if she gives anything like proper nourishment to her body. So it amounts to just this: At the end of a week the servant has $3.50 to lay by, while the "saleslady" has not a penny.

As to lodging, the average servant has her own little room, nicely furnished and heated in winter. The "saleslady," if she boards, has a cold room at the top of the house, shared by three or four other unfortunate. The latter works on an average of ten hours a day, while in the holiday season she works as much as sixteen hours, and never does a penny of extra pay reach her pocket.

The servant has no longer hours, and she can rest during a great part of them, and, besides, has her two or three "evenings off" during the week. Her work, on the whole, is much lighter, and she does not know what fines are. If she falls ill, in a good family, she receives the same cordial attention that her mistress would, and is surrounded by kind attentions. And her wages go on all the time.

But how about the "saleslady" up in the top of the boarding house if she should get sick? Well, unless she is absolutely at the point of death she is packed off to a hospital when the time for which she has paid her board has expired. But even if she is allowed to remain there till she gets well, she resumes her work with her trunk under bondage to the landlady, and with a, to her, heavy debt staring her in the face. Is it any wonder that many a naturally good girl seeks escape from such troubles in the concert halls?

And is it any wonder that the comfortable servant girl generally ends her career of working for others by marrying an honest man and settling down in a comfortable home.—New York Commercial Advertiser.
