PERSONAL

Col. Otis Dovey is seeing his people in Omaha to-day.

Superintendent Coursey and Wm. Webber are in Omaha today.

Frank Stander, the Louisville banker, is in the city to-day.

Miss Berta Hyers will take a vacation in the metropolis to-day.

Dr. Yoder and wife will hear the Marine Band at Omaha to-day.

Mrs. L. A. Newcomer was among the Omaha through this morning.

Hon. W. B. Shryock and daughter of Louisville are in the city to-day.

Miss May Berry and sister were Omaha passengers this morning.

Mrs. M. B. Murphy was ticketed for the Marine Band concert this morning.

H. H. Vanaranam will leave to-night for New York to be absent a month or six weeks.

Will H. Miller arrived home last night after a successful month's business tour of the state.

Mr. Pinkerton, the suave night operator, went to Waverly on the early train this morning.

Mr. Steimker and daughter returned last evening from their pleasant visit at Burlington, Iowa.

Mr. Waugh and Dr. Humphrey went to Omaha this morning to attend the great military band concert at the Coliseum.

Posy Messersmith is building a tight fence around his strawberry patch to keep the berries, he says from wandering away and getting lost.

James Herald and wife have moved back to Plattsmouth after a two years sojourn in Boston. Their many friends will be glad to learn that they have come to stay.

Rev. A. B. Buckner will preach at the M. E. church to-night. This will be his last evening here, and those who wish to listen to an able sermon may govern themselves accordingly.

George Corcoran of York, the genial editor of the only democratic paper in that republican bailiwick, stopped off a few minutes this morning on his return home from the east.

The directors of the Livingston Loan & Building Association will hold an adjourned meeting in the secretary's office over Carruth's store Thursday, the 23rd, at 7:30. Money to loan.

"Cap" one of the best horses in the county which was formerly owned by Jones & Fitzgerald died yesterday at Union. He was the property at the time of his death of E. W. Barnum & Son.

The big show to-night takes place at Sam Atwood's barn under the auspices of the kids. The admission price is one cent, or an equivalent in trade. The entertainment will be of a minstrel nature.

A stray bolt of lightning shattered a tree near Holmes barn on Vine street night before last, the report of which was heard all over the city, yet the boys sleeping in the barn 50 feet away were not wakening and knew nothing of it until the next morning.

The barbers of this city have tackled the printers for a game of baseball and you can bet your last dollar they can be accommodated. The game will be a daisy, and the day will be fixed for as early a date as is convenient for all parties. The "shavers" ain't in it, as we will prove later on.

A prominent grain merchant of this city was introduced by a minister yesterday to his friends as a "Mr.—" a Hebrew clothing merchant. Explanations hastily followed, but there still rankles in the bosom of the corn king a lingering suspicion that somebody was putting up a job on him, as he couldn't see the resemblance.

It is reported that Paul Vandervoort and Judge Dwyer are having quite a correspondence just now what it will result in, is difficult to prognosticate. We would not be surprised however if the milly Vandervoort succeeded in getting Dwyer into the independent party. The Judge is painfully disgusted over the Boyd veto of the peoples measure, and may attempt to punish the democratic party for not openly disowning and condemning the governor. We await the Judges action in the premises with much trepidation, and shall endeavor to keep our readers posted as to his actions.

ARBOR DAY.

It is fittingly celebrated by All the Schools of the City.

The legislature two years ago made the 22nd of April a legal holiday and named it Arbor Day, that it might be utilized by all Nebraskans as a day to be especially devoted to tree planting.

Our public schools have for some years taken notice of the day and added very materially to the beauty of the school grounds in the city by the planting of trees; but this year the exercises were more elaborate.

At the high school the pupils at Mrs. Halsey's, Miss Wilson's and Miss Seales' rooms were taken to the high school room where Professor Halsey's and Mrs. McClelland's classes united with them in rendering a very pleasant program. The first number was a song entitled "Welcome to Arbor Day," by the entire school; then prayer was offered by Rev. A. B. Buckner. An interesting essay was then read on "Necessity for Tree Planting," by Myrtle Leving, which was followed by an exceedingly pretty vocal duet by Flora and Anna Bibby. The debate came next, on the subject: "Resolved, That Elm Trees are Preferable to Oak and Maple for Planting in the School Yard." Robert Ballou championed the affirmative, while Emory Buckner took care of the negative side of the proposition; several of the scholars expressed their views on the subject, which made it of much interest.

Prof. Halsey favored the schools with a violin solo. The sophomore class of the high school enacted some charades on the subject of trees, and the entire school sang a song entitled "The Tree We are Planting This Spring Day." The school then adjourned to the campus, where each room planted its own tree—except the high school; there each of the four grades were allowed to plant a tree.

Mrs. Halsey's room marched out to the grounds headed by the girls carrying the banner with P. G. S. (Plattsmouth Grammar School) emblazoned on its silken folds. The boys followed, all wearing wreaths. The class colors, lavender, were liberally displayed. The scholars gathered around the fire Elm tree that had been provided for planting and after singing appropriate songs the girls dug the pit and all the scholars in the class by turns took a hand in filling it up. The wreaths were deposited at the base of the tree and the class was dismissed for the day, it being then about 10 o'clock. The program in each of the other rooms in central building and at the ward schools was much the same so that a detail of the proceedings of the other schools would be largely a repetition of what we have given above. Many visitors were present and derived much pleasure from witnessing the proceedings which were novel and entertaining in an eminent degree.

To-day being a legal holiday the banks and most of the public offices have been closed.

An M. P. pile driver was shipped in this morning and will be used down at Theodore Buck's to build an overhead crossing for him.

Mrs. E. S. Greusel and daughter Carrie, and Miss Rose McCaulley, will see and hear the National Marine Band to-day at the metropolis.

Frank Otto of the firm of Hatt & Otto is the happy father of a nine pound boy that arrived at his domicile last night. Everything is probably free at the meat market to-day.

For practical economy we refer you to a clothing firm in this city where three agreeable gentlemen wait upon customers and use but one hat between them. Two of the clerks sleep in the store so that when the manager is out he knows the boys are in. The clerks only get out on the street when the manager is in and gives up the partnership hat. It is a great scheme.

A Nice Entertainment The regular meeting of the Young Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will be held at the home of Miss Margaret Davis Friday evening, April 24, at 4:15 p. m. Tea served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock, after which a literary program on the mission work in Mexico and Central America will be given. All are cordially invited to attend.

Late Arrival. April 22, 1891.

Just received a fresh cargo of St. Louis Bock Beer, which will be unloading at McVey's all day (Thursday) to-morrow.

FIREMENS' DAY.

May 5 to be Celebrated by the Fire Boys in This City.

The Fire Department met in the council chamber last night with President Skinner in the chair and Secretary C. A. Miller at the desk.

A good large crowd was present and much interest was manifested in making the forth-coming anniversary of the completion of the water works a success.

It was May 5, 1887, that the city held its first celebration in honor of the new water plant that had been completed a few days before. It was a great day for Plattsmouth, and from that date can be chronicled a new era in the progressive history of this busy city.

It was the first great work in the line of public improvements to be completed, and no one regrets to-day that our plant (which is the best in the state outside of Omaha) was finished and the aqua pura turned into the ten miles of maines that honeycomb the city in all directions.

The fire companies at their meeting last night after a full discussion of the matter agreed upon the following program:

Firemens' parade headed by the B. & M. band at 1 p. m. and march to grounds (Fitzgerald's Forty having been selected). After that there will be a base ball game of five innings. Also an egg race; wheelbarrow race, foot race and sack race for cash prizes. A committee on general arrangements was appointed by the president, consisting of Messrs. Walter Thomas, D. M. Jones, Geo. Poissall, C. A. Miller, Frank Morgan, Wm. Smitman, Grassman, Buttery, Newell and Newlan.

The committee on general arrangements will meet Thursday evening at the council chamber to appoint sub-committees and make further arrangements in detail for the celebration.

In the evening a grand ball will be given at Rockwood Hall, where sociability will reign supreme and a genuine good time will be had.

MURRAY BREVITIES

BY PANSY.
We were not able to make our appearance last week on account of family matters but once more we are pleased to be with you again; as man is only sure of being married but ocean his life, we therefore took a vacation but we promise more news in the future.

Our little city is booming—new sidewalks are an improvement to our town, extending from north Main street to the railroad. If we had made this improvement a month ago we would have been better off; but we are thankful for that much.

Our new editor has made his appearance among us and will soon be ready to start our new paper, "The Murray Enterprise." We are glad to welcome him as one of our number and may this movement be for the upbuilding of our vicinity.

Wm Loughridge is building an improvement in the form of a front portico to his residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt Root returned from their Iowa trip last Thursday. They will commence housekeeping at once.

Our new paper has taken up its abode in the school house for the present but a new "sanctum" will be in progress in the near future.

Jas Walker is contemplating remodeling over his house and make some improvement this spring.

Mrs. Martha Faught, from Phillip Nebraska is visiting her parents, Mr. James Root's family the past week.

A good many of our people have made garden and begun spring work in earnest.

Rev. E. B. Graham of Omaha, will preach here the coming Sabbath.

H. G. Todd has been making some improvements on his yard. He planted over one thousand evergreen trees and they look beautiful in a few years they will make quite a grove.

Elmer McConahey has left for the Western Normal College at Shenandoah, Iowa, to attend school this coming year.

Mr. B. Berger has moved his family into his new house.

WANTED—Three or four girls to learn the dressmaking trade at Mrs. Owens, third doors west of the Hotel Riley.
