Beauty Your Homes
By going to Low Moore's and selecting a nice line of his hardy plants. They will bloom beautifully all summer on the lawn and will live out doors all winter. His prices will be a surprise to you; these plants are so cheap it is a wonder Mr. Moore can raise them. Now is the time to plant them out, and the sooner 'tis done the earlier your flowers will bloom.

SWEET SCENTED FLOWERS.

Llewellyn Moore's the Recognized Headquarters for the Artistic and the Beautiful.

Aquilegia chrysantha, coreopsis lanceolata, chrysanthemum maxima aurirrhinum, platycodens and clematis make up a partial list of Mr. Moore's grand plants, that are perfectly hardy and are not injured by a Nebraska winter. Mr. Moore has a fine stock of geraniums, coleus and some of those richly colored French canna, also a fine line of bedding plants. In roses he makes a specialty of the following hardy varieties: General Jacquinet, Md. Planter, Perle, Niphotos, together with the old standard La France and that Queen of the rose family, the American Beauty, which under favorable circumstances has produced roses 8 inches across, bright red and of a most delicious fragrance. No collection of flowers is complete without some of these hardy roses. Mr. Moore has the reputation of being the best rose grower west of Chicago, he never forces his plants, thus making them tender but gives them every requisite to make them hardy and strong. This spring is an unusually good one for setting out plants and should be improved by our people. Remember the place where plants and prices will suit the most exacting is at Llewellyn Moore's on West Locust street, and call at once.

PERSONAL

Mrs. Newell went to Omaha this morning.

Mrs. Tom Rhoden is visiting relatives in Omaha today.

E. S. Grewel and wife are visitors at the metropolis to-day.

Ed McMahon left this morning for North Platte to work for the U. P.

D. S. Draper was called to Council Bluffs to-day on important business.

Mrs. George E. Dovey and daughter Alice were Omaha passengers on the belated train this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pfeiffer went up to Omaha this morning, accompanied by Miss Eda Gering and Ernest Pfeiffer.

Philip Thierolf was out yesterday after a tedious tussle with pneumonia.

J. W. Sage is hauling the red sand stone from the cars to the court house site. The stone is split up into slabs that can be handled without much trouble.

An old cistern at the court house grounds, comes right in the way of the wall and is making much trouble. It will be filled up and an arch of stone will be built across it.

The fastest time ever made on a long run was made by Jay Gould's special on the Chicago & North-Western last week when he traveled 102 miles and a fraction over in sixty minutes.

The boys killed sixty-five rats yesterday at the old slaughter house grounds of Jonathan Hatt and several got away. Mr. Hatt is now snugly located on his new premises near Orapolis.

The statement of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad and lines in its control for March, compared with the corresponding month of last year, shows net earnings of $110,000, a decrease of $88,800.

Kelly Fox says his records were not at the Journal office. If that be true then why is it we could not get the proceedings of the council meeting at his office, and were referred by Mr. Fox himself to the Journal for information?

A main street business man vent fishing the other day without lines or bait. He had a pocketful of hooks and must have expected the fish to swallow the hooks and when they came out on the bank to pick their teeth he would catch them. It would not work as you can learn by asking a certain exclusive dry goods merchant in this town.

The flyer due in this city at 3:30 this morning did not arrive until after 8 o'clock, owing to the destruction of a bridge by fire near Malvern. The train came around by way of Hamburg and the K. C. The 7:15 train which carries the Omaha passengers from the flyer was consequently over an hour late and the 9:25 train for Omaha was also over an hour late.

When in this city two weeks ago President Perkins was heard to remark that the railroads could stand the loss of two crops better than the passage of one Newberry bill, and that but for the proposed legislation the Burlington would have expended five million dollars in improving their property in Nebraska this year—not a dollar of which would now be paid out.—Plattsmouth Journal.

Annual Convention of the National Educational Association.

The annual convention of the National Educational Association of the United States for the present year will be held at Toronto, Canada, and as it will on this occasion be of an international character, it promises to be the most successful meeting of the series. Most of the railroads have agreed to give half-rates, plus $200 membership fee to all who attend the meeting, this rate being open to the public generally as well as the teachers. The Canadians are making great preparations to welcome and entertain teachers, and numerous cheap excursions are being arranged to all important points on the Great Lakes, the St. Lawrence, and the sea-side, after the convention, which will afford to teachers the best opportunity for enjoying their summer holidays they have ever had. The official bulletin, containing programme for the meeting, railway arrangements, and all other particulars, is ready, and will be sent free to any one desiring it, on their dropping a post card to Mr. H. J. Hill, Secretary Local Committee, Toronto.

"The Little Tycoon."

If the Tabor Grand had possessed a "standing room only" card, it would have been out last evening, for "The Little Tycoon" packed the house from gallery to parquet, with dozens standing throughout the entire performance. The play is a new one here, and Denver people have never seen it before. There was an audience such as few companies draw, and Denver numbers among its attractions the best on the stage. "The Little Tycoon" as presented last evening was one of those "best attractions". The company is an excellent one, not only in principles, but in chorus; the scenic effects are original and pretty, and with the attractive plot which underlies the whole it was very pleasing to those who witnessed the first performance. There were many remarks as to the beautiful costumes, and the scenic change in the second act brought forth hearty applause.—Denver News.

They will appear at the Waterman next Saturday night with their own orchestra and a company of forty people, beautiful scenery and elegant costumes. Reserved seat sale opened Wednesday morning. Price, $1.50.

Henry Vallery in Trouble.

A telegram to the Bee from Wahoo says that Henry W. Vallery, whom everybody knows at Plattsmouth, having resided west of town many years, has been bound over to the district court on the charge of criminal libel. Vallery has been in jail for several days awaiting his preliminary examination, and when taken before Squire Honck of Weston he waived examination and his bond was fixed at $500, which he finally succeeded in getting and is now at Liberty. The charge on which he was held was for a written charge filed with the school board in which he alleged that the teacher, Miss Eliza King, had told him that she had been indiscrete with about a dozen of the young men of the neighborhood. About fifty witnesses were subpoenaed and were present at the time of hearing. Miss King has an excellent reputation and it is believed that Vallery made the charges against her on account of jealousy.

The National Association of Stationary Engineers.

The meeting of Lodge No. 2 of the above order in this state at opera house Tuesday evening was a very pleasant affair. J. W. Matthews Esq. of Omaha deputy president for the state was the guest of the order, together with F. E. White, C. W. Sherman, and M. D. Polk. W. B. Short wielded the gavel and ably presided over the evening meeting. After a formal opening of the Lodge Mr. Short introduced president Matthews who delivered a most excellent address full of practical illustrations that were of value to the members and of interest to the visitors.

Among other things Mr. Matthews gave a history of the organization which is but nine years old yet it contains over 8000 members who are working engineers. The speaker showed that the order was different from other labor organizations in that the question of prices for labor was never discussed, a man had a right to sell his labor for what he could get, and that no strikes were ever or could ever be brought about by the stationary engineers under their present constitution; he also showed the great necessity for a competent board of examiners to examine and license engineers, for the safety of life and property, and which he believed would place a premium on skill and experience, that good men might have more profitable employment and that impostors could be weeded out. Nine states, we are told, have this law and its workings are perfectly satisfactory to the public as well as the fraternity. The tenth anniversary of the birth of the order will be celebrated in Omaha next September when delegates will be present from all over the united states. Mr. Matthews address was well worthy of repetition in these columns but lack of typos compels us to leave it out. After the regular order of business had been closed remarks were made by M. D. Polk, F. E. White and C. W. Sherman. On motion, F. E. White and M. D. Polk were unanimously elected honorary members of the order and were duly initiated, for which courtesy and testimonial of confidence they warmly thanked the members present.

Fourth of July.

President Matthews of the National Association of Stationary Engineers, of Omaha, says they will come down two hundred strong and that the order from Lincoln will add another hundred to the throng, if suitable grounds for the celebration can be had in this city. The grounds will be forthcoming all right and the visitors will be well treated.

The Hutchinson-Green Murder.

The following special to the Bee gives the latest news obtainable on the lamented shooting affray at Lincoln. The dispatch says: Mrs. Jennie Greene, the woman shot by E. W. Hutchinson, is slowly dying. The cause leading up to the crime is believed to have grown out of a suit instituted by E. W. Hutchinson, jr., a son of the murderer, to recover possession of promissory notes aggregating $1000 in value, which the young man had entrusted to the custody of his father to place in a bank. Instead of fulfilling the trust reposed in him the old man gave the notes to the charming young grass widow, Mrs. Greene, on whom he has been making frequent calls for a number of months. The old man claimed that the notes were his own. Hutchinson has not yet been found and it is thought by some that he may have committed suicide by drowning in Salt Creek.

The City Council.

A lively time was had at the council meeting Tuesday evening which may be even livelier to-night. Gutsché demonstrated the fact that he was loaded for bear, and would be a bad man to tackle. After much discussion of the Land and Improvement Co. petition for vacation of plat and other kindred matters, the council took a rest until to-night, when the ball will roll again. The mayor appointed his committees for the ensuing year, the personnel of which shows excellent judgment on the part of the city's chief executive. The new committees are as follows:

- Finance—Gutsché, Salisbury and Minor.
- Judiciary—Murphy, Browne and Peterson.
- Fire and Water—Erowne, Jones of the Second and Dove.
- Claims—Larson, Jones of the First and Murphy.
- License—Jones of the Second
