Remarkable Facts.
Heart disease is usually supposed to be incurable, but when properly treated a large portion of cases can be cured. Thus Mrs. Edna H. H. H., of Edinboro, Pa., and Mrs. M. J. H., of Ovid, N. Y., were cured after suffering 20 years. See Circular, or write to Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., for New Heart Cure, which cures the former, "wonderful" wonder for the latter. L. J. Logan, of Edinboro, Pa., who had heart disease for 20 years, says two bottles made him "feel like a new man." Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold and guaranteed by F. G. Fricke & Co., Frank of a wonderful testimonial book.

Some years ago Chamberlain & Co., of Des Moines, Iowa, commenced the manufacture of a cough syrup, believing it to be the most prompt and reliable preparation yet produced for coughs, colds and croup; that the public appreciate true value, and in time it was certain to become popular. Their most sanguine hopes have been more than realized.
Over three hundred thousand bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy are now sold each year, and it is recognized as "the best made," wherever known. It will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment. For sale by F. G.
Fricke & Co.

The holding of the World's Fair in a city scarcely fifty years old will be a remarkable event, but whether it will really benefit this nation as much as the discovery of the Restorative Nervine by Dr.
Franklin Miles is doubtful. This is just what the American people need to cure their excessive nervousness, dyspepsia, headache, dizziness, sleeplessness, neuralgia, nervous debility, dullness, confusion of mind, etc. It acts like a charm. Trial bottle and fine book on "Nervous and Heart Diseases," with unqualified testimonials free at F. G.

tain no opium, morphine or dangerous drugs.

Remarkable Rescue.
Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He old her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her.
Her Druggist suggested Dr. King's new discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from the dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this great discovery at F. G. Fricke & Co's Drug Store neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have tried it you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any throat, lung or chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is

CONCEALING THEIR DEFICIENCIES.

Why One Old Negro Would Not Write and Another Could Not Count.
Two stories characteristic of the negro were told in the smoke room of a transatlantic steamer.

Said a gentleman from New Orleans:
"I stood on the levee in our city one morning while the paymaster of a river steamer was engaged in paying off the roustabouts.

"As each man presented himself at the cashier's window the paymaster asked the question whether he would sign his name or make his mark. If he was unable to write the paymaster of course subscribed the name and left a piece for the man to piece up.

"You must recollect that since the close of the war and the establishment of schools for freedmen the negroes of the south are very unwilling to admit ignorance upon their part.

"The payment of the men proceeded without incident until one young up country dandy presented himself at the window in response to the calling of the name Eugene Jackson.

"Will you write your name or make a cross, Jackson?" said the paymaster.
"I'll write my name," replied the negro.

"The pen was handed to him and the place for his signature was carefully pointed out on the pay roll.
"The man took the pen clumsily, dipped it in the ink, looked at it and then at the pay roll and finally laid it down on the desk.

"What time is it?" he asked, looking up at the paymaster.
"It is just 10 o'clock," was the reply.
"Well, then," said the dandy, "I guess I ain't got time to write my name. I've got to meet a man at the custom house at 12 o'clock, and I guess I'll just make a cross."

"The custom house," said the New Orleans man, in conclusion, "is about ten minutes' walk from where the man was standing."

"That reminds me of a little experience I once had with a negro," said a brick manufacturer of a little town up the Hudson, who chanced to be of the party.

"We called the man old Uncle Ned," continued the speaker. "He was a dear old white-headed fellow, with a bent back and about seventy years old at the time the incident I am about to relate occurred.

"He had lived in a little shanty in the town for years and did odd jobs at whitewashing, masonry work and various other things.
"One day I wanted a man to stack some brick for me in piles of a thousand each, and to turn a little something in the way of Uncle Ned I hired him for the job.

"Can you count, Ned?" I asked him after I had told him what I wanted.
"Yes, indeed, I kin, massa," the old fellow replied with a chuckle, "I kin count right smart, and be ran off the numerals up to ten glibly enough.

"Ned began his task and worked steadily for some hours. I looked out of my office window after awhile and saw that he had far exceeded his number of a thousand bricks to a stack.

"I walked out to see about it. He was hard of hearing and did not detect my approach as I came up behind him. I drew nearer and overheard him say, as he lay each brick on the stack: 'A nudder an' a nudder, and der goes a nudder. A nudder, an' a nudder, and der goes a nudder.'

"What in the world are you doing, Ned?" I asked.
"Countin' de bricks, massa," he replied, as he continued, 'A nudder an' a nudder, and der goes a nudder.'

"But, Ned, you can't count bricks that way; that is not counting. I thought you could count one, two, three, four, etc."

"Yes, I dm told you I could count, an' so I did up to ten, but Ned's pretty cle now, massa, an' after ten he dm forget his schoolin', an' so he counts a nudder, an' a nudder, an' der goes a nudder."

"There was something pathetic about the poor old fellow's speech," continued the speaker. "Of course I paid him for his day's work," he added; "but I had to have his stack of bricks recounted, and had to give the balance of the job to a couple of twelve-year-old boys, who were more expert at figures than he."—New York Herald.

English Hospital Statistics.
Taking the quantity of medicine used at St. Bartholomew's hospital, London, as a fair criterion of the medicine used per patient, the quantities of medicine used every year in the hospitals of this country are as follows: Ointment, 80,000 pounds; cod liver and castor oils and various kinds of mixtures and lotions, etc., 150,000 gallons; upward of half a million pills, and between thirty and forty tons of linseed. Mr. H. C. Burdett estimates that the hospitals of the kingdom have invested property worth ten millions.
Their income is nearly a million and a quarter per annum.

The expenditure per bed varies most strangely. It is least in Scotland and greatest in an Irish institution. At Westminster it is only £70 per bed; at University College hospital it is £110 per bed; at the Royal Surrey County hospital it is £111; at the Devon and Exeter £51, and about the same at the South Devon and East Cornwall hospital.— London Tit-Bits.

Accidents Will Happen.
Did you note that dispatch from Atchison, Kan., relating how "Mrs. Ellen Patton, a local poetess of considerable note, dislocated her jaw this morning while yawning?" Did you observe that record of how Rufus Gettleridge, of Worcester, Mass., "broke the small bone of his left leg in stepping out of bed?" Did you reflect upon the solemn fact that Colonel Warton, of Jefferson, Mo., while picking his teeth "with a wooden tooth-pick, drew it down into his lungs and died of lung disease?" This bit of writing is simply intended to show how, in the midst of life, you may be—somewhere else.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Castoria.

dren. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
Dr. G. C. Osceola,
Lowell, Mass.

Castoria.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. AUSTIN, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KIRKHOPE, Conway, Ark.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our products yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
