John H. Becker is in the metropolis to-day.

S. A. Davis came in from the west this morning.

W. J. Horton of Wabash is in the county seat to-day.

Charles McEntee will visit relatives in Omaha to-day.

Mrs. Bird Critchfield has gone to Weeping Water on a visit.

Wiley Black went to South Omaha this morning with a fine car of fat cattle.

Patrick Blessington, a prosperous farmer south of Louisville, came in on the Schuyler this morning.

Rev. Burgess showed his pleasant countenance at the depot this morning as he boarded the train for a day in Omaha.

Our genial post master and his worthy spouse started this morning for McCook to visit their daughter, Mrs. Margaret Jackson, for a few days.

Eight more car loads of the Wisconsin red stone came in last evening for the court house.

Samuel Richardson and son Will were the purchasers of the Metcree farm mentioned last week.

The gymnastic exhibition at the opera house on the evening of May 13, will be an excellent entertainment.

A washout on the M. P. grade near Orapolis is being rapidly repaired in order to be ready for the track layers.

The pay car brought its usual quantity of good cheer this morning. The car was attached to the K. C., which arrives at 10:15.

There was a fight and some bloodshed out on the bottoms yesterday, but eye witnesses refuse to tell who the parties were.

The fish car and guests of Mr. O'Brien, as printed several days ago in THE HERALD, departed for the Elkhorn lakes last evening.

The "Kaffee Klatch," together with a select party of friends, will be entertained by Mrs. S. H. Atwood at the family residence on high school hill this evening.

Engine No. 245 came out of the shops this morning with one of the new straight stacks and extension fronts. It will pull Nos. 3 and 4 in charge of Engineer Ford.

The young ladies of the Presbyterian church are getting up a novel entertainment for Thursday evening, April 14th. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

County Commissioners Todd and Trietsch are at Union to-day meeting the Otoe county commissioners to arrange for an iron bridge across the Weeping Water on the county line road.

Miss Edna Eaton is the new cashier at Dovey's since they have put in their new system of cash carriers. Business is expedited by the new system and a record of the business is also more easily kept.

The Murray Banner made its appearance at our sanctum to-day. It is a neat paper and from its well filled advertising columns it is evidently doing business in a five community and has come to stay.

Hon. Anderson Root sold a load of oats in Plattsmouth on Friday last for 50 cents per bushel. Several of our farmers are taking advantage of the excellent market to dispose of the surplus. Murray Banner.

The supreme court has adjourned to June 25. It seems the "entente cordiale" has been slightly strained between Judge Maxwell and his associates on account of the recent decision and the haste shown in issuing the writ which ousted Boyd.

Engineer Davis, who runs the 19, pulling the flyer between Pacific Junction and Lincoln, saved four and one-half tons of coal in the round trip by the use of the new straight stack which the company is fast putting on all its engines.

The weight social at the new church in Mercertown to-morrow night for the purpose of raising money to purchase furniture for their new house of worship will no doubt prove an interesting time. The largest lady takes the cake and the largest gentleman will be suitably rewarded. Don't forget the time, to-morrow, Friday evening.

Thomas B. Reed in Rome.

Behold me as I stand,
Where Rome has stood
For twice a thousand years
And more!

Behold us both:
Me and Rome!
And then, dear friends,
Please give your eyes a rest.
Rome has her history,
And I have mine;

But Rome, although she sat
Upon her seven hills
And ruled the world,
Never sat in the speaker's chair
Of the Fifty-first congress
And bossed that
Megatharian aggregation
As I did.

And that is where I've got
The bulge on Rome!
Here in old Caesar's district
I sit me down, and with my feet
Upon his ancient mantelpiece
I feel at home,
Me and Caesar!

Twin stars that twinkle through all
time,
Two iron heels that trod as one
Upon the people's necks,
And then we got it in our own!
By gosh! dear friends, I don't like
that a little bit.

And Caesar didn't, either,
Although he didn't have a
Word to say after it was over,
For obvious reasons!
But Brutus wasn't a patching
To Springer of Illinois,
Or Rogers of Arkansas;
And Caesar has something
To be thankful for!

I'm with you, Rome,
From the Passamaquoddy's
Tumbling tide of sawlogs
To where the tawny Tiber flows,
And we should organize
A Reed and Roman trust,
And swipe the universe!
Are there objections?

I hear none.
The eyes seem to have it!
The eyes have it!
Then let her go, Gallagher!
But I shall never think
That in that elder day
To be a Roman
Was greater than a speaker
Of the grand old Fifty-first.
And don't you forget it!
That's what!

"Chimes of Normandy."

The Andrews Opera Co. closed their engagement at the Grand Opera House last night with the ever popular "Chimes of Normandy." This opera is one in which the real merit of the company is most prominently set forth. George Andrews was given a rousing reception on his entrance, and also an encore on the famous waltz song in the first act. J. C. Taylor in last night's role proved himself something besides a singer. As "Jean Grenichen" he has one of those difficult tenor roles, different from the stereotype lover, and his efforts were warmly applauded. Ed Andrews and Jas. K. Reknard furnished the usual amount of fun that is so much desired in comic opera. C. A. Parker, the new acquisition to the company, took the part of "Gaspard, the Miser" and played it with such perfection that he was accorded a curtain call at the end of the second act. Selma Taylor made a saucy "Serpolette," and Nannie Wilkinson a pleasing "Germaine." The chorus and orchestra were strong and showed marks of thorough drilling. Taken as a whole the production was a masterpiece and it is to be hoped that on their return in September the Chimes will not be left out of their repertoire.—Sioux Falls Press.

Remember this company will appear in our city to-morrow night for the COMPLIMENTARY BENEFIT to J. P. Young. Don't fail to pack the house. Prices 35, 50 and 75 cents.

To Those Who Wish to Build.
As well as those who do not, consider yourselves invited to inspect the elegant line of builders' hardware just received at Breckenfeld & Weidman's. In their show windows may be seen as fine a line of oxidized silver, copper, brass, bronze and nickel door trimmings as could be found in Chicago. Call in and see what they have and get prices.

The cablegrams from Europe say that an American by the name of Wm. Jacques and daughter were assaulted in Florence yesterday by Italians and that the daughter will die of the wounds received. If this report should prove true serious complications may grow out of it, as President Harrison or Mr. Blaine will not tolerate such treatment to American citizens without invoking the dogs of war.

Charged With Rape.

Jacob A. Jones of this city has caused the charge of rape to be lodged against one Bert Parker, a young man about 24 years of age, and alleges the crime to have been committed on the person of his 13 year old daughter Melinda, about noon on last Monday. Parker was arrested and taken before Judge Ramsey and waiving examination he was bound over to the district court in the sum of $500, failing to get a bondsman he was remanded to jail. This morning his step-father Philip Batch secured a bond and he was released. The father of the girl alleges as a reason of his failure to prosecute sooner that he did not learn the facts until a neighbor who lives in part of the house informed him of the facts. The girl in the case is not very prepossessing and looks nearer sixteen than thirteen.

Judge Archer's Court.

Philip McCully vs. O. A. Hirsch. Replevin judgment for plaintiff.

Hester Pool, a young lady of eighteen summers residing near Union, has caused the arrest of William Philpot, a prominent young man of the same vicinity, on the charge of bastardy. Deputy Sheriff Black arrested Mr. Philpot and lodged him in jail. The examination will come off some time this afternoon.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co. and O. H. Snyder.

The Sisters' school in this city has grown to be one of the best educational institutions in this part of the state. The town owes Father Carney a debt of gratitude for his zeal in erecting such commodious buildings and organizing and caring for so successful a school.

Go to Phillip Krause for your dry goods and groceries, where you will find the best of everything, he also keeps fruits and vegetables in their season.

The Marionette Comedy Co. of this city met with a cordial reception at Cedar Creek the other evening and added several dollars to their surplus.

A Cane for the M. D.

A good story comes all the way from San Francisco. It is said that a lady applied to her physician in that city for advice and a prescription. He had long attended her and her family, and on this occasion he recommended that she go to a popular watering place in that part of the country, giving her a letter of introduction to a physician who resided at the springs.

On the way there the lady remarked to her daughter that as long as her doctor had been treating her he had never stated just what was her ailment. "I've a good mind to open this letter and see what he says of my case to the other doctor." Acting on the impulse she tore open the envelope, and, taking out the letter, read, "Dear Doctor—Keep the old lady four weeks, and then send her back to me."—Detroit Free Press.

Races in Brazil.

The pure whites of Brazil comprise about 35 per cent. of the total population; 25 per cent. or so are negroes, and about 35 per cent. mulattoes, while the remainder are aboriginal Indians. In the northern provinces the Indians are most numerous, and in Rio de Janeiro, Bahai, Pernambuco and Minas the negroes are to be found in great numbers. The greater part of the Europeans in Brazil (who live in the support towns and the adjacent provinces) are those from the Latin races, chiefly the Portuguese and Spanish.—Detroit Free Press.

As early as the campaign in Spain, in 1367, in support of Peter the Cruel, and also in the following reign of Richard II, the English soldier appears to have been in white and with a red cross of St. George on his breast and back. In 1491 there is evidence of red being adopted for a small number of men at least, when a contingent for the army of the king maker (the Earl of Warwick) was sent from Rye dressed in red coats.

The highest place in the world regularly inhabited is stated to be the Buddhist monastery, Haine, in Tibet, which is about 16,000 feet above sea level. The next highest is Galera, a railway station in Peru, which is located at a height of 15,635 feet. Near it, at the same level, a railway tunnel 3,847 feet in length is being driven through the mountains.

In the Seventeenth century rotating pumps, like the Pappenhamp engine with two pistons and the Prince Rupert with one, were first used. Pumps with plunger pistons were invented by Morland, an Englishman, in 1674; the double acting pump by De la Hire, the French academician.

It is hardly worth while to dread a thunderstorm, as there is only one chance in about a million that a person will die from a lightning stroke, which is doubtless the most instantaneous and painless of all causes of death.

Mr. Young, a few days ago, wrote E. C. Usher, the manager of the Fremont opera house, where the Andrews Opera Company had recently been, to know if the show was as good as had been recommended. Here is Mr. Usher's reply which speaks for itself:

FREMONT, May 6, 1891.

Mr. J. P. Young,

Dear Sir: Yours of May 4 received this morning. Will send you one of our daily papers to-night; they do not come out until 4 o'clock. The Andrews Opera Company are first class and give a first class performance. I am sure your people will be pleased with these attractions. Plats!

The following is a fishy flavored special that appears in to-day's Bee from Lincoln.

In the middle of a crowd of men on O street this afternoon Lieutenant Governor Majors and Colonel J. D. Calhoun met. The outing of Boyd immediately became the subject of discussion, and during the course of it Calhoun suddenly ejaculated:

"Tom, you needn't plead ignorance. I have tumbled to this deep-laid scheme and one of my informants is in Washington. It is simply this: When Secretary Proctor of the president's cabinet resigns, Manderson is to be selected for that position, then Thayer will resign as governor and you will succeed to that position and then the position of senator, made vacant by Manderson."

For the first time in his life Tom Majors turned deadly pale, made one or two ineffectual attempts to talk and finally rushed away without saying anything.
