What Watson Thinks.

Hon. J. C. Watson of Nebraska city was in the city yesterday, and while talking with a Bee reporter, he said:

"There seems to be a desire among a good many republicans to have the state convention held early. In all probability the central committee will be called together soon to select the time and place for the convention. The principal fight will be upon the election of a judge for the supreme court. I have heard that the independents will probably bring out ex-Judge Reece, ex-Attorney General Leese or Judge Morris of Crete.

"In case Judge Cobb does not decide to become a candidate it would seem that the selection ought to be made from the First congressional district. I have heard the names of Judge Pound, Judge Chapman and Judge Davidson mentioned as timber.

"I think we will win. Look at the bitter and terribly mixed up fight we had last fall when it looked like the ground had slid out from under us, yet we elected every officer but the governor. If the convention simply selects a good man I think there will be no difficulty in electing the republican candidate. There is no reason why we should not elect our man.

"I know that some well known lawyers hold that a gubernatorial election should be held this fall, but I do not construe the constitution that way. There is no authority for such an election, as I read the law. It might be a good thing for some of the anxious candidates who are already coming to the front for the race a year from next fall."

"Twelve Temptations"

William J. Gilmore's magnificent new spectacle, "The Twelve Temptations," which was greatly admired wherever seen last season to be presented at the Waterman on Thursday night May 28 but in a manner that will show it to be entirely new in every respect. The present season is to be devoted to the "Second Edition" of this gorgeous spectacle, which means that an entirely new scenery has been specially prepared, a number of trick scenes invented, with newly imported specialties; also premiers and the largest corps of dancers ever seen in one organization. The piece will also have the advantage of a carefully selected dramatic company; also, the best pantomimic artists that can be secured. Mr. Gilmore, who is very progressive, has spared neither pain nor expense in this season's production, which will be notable for no less than a dozen of novelties. The costumes have all been designed by Silver & Maxwell and in money value represent a small fortune, while the scenery is said to exceed in richness that which was shown last season, which is saying a great deal. Sixty-seven people form the numerical strength of the company, which uses for its transportation a special train of three sixty-foot cars. The sale of seats will open next Monday morning at J. P. Young's; $1.00 admission 75 cents gallery 50 cents children 35.

The Ladies society of the Christian church will meet to-morrow afternoon with Mrs. Sol. Osborn at the corner of 8th and Locusts street. Catarrh cured, health and sweet breath secured, by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Nasal injector free. For sale by F. G. Frick and O. H. Snyder.

News was received here to-day that Robert McDonald of Pacific Junction, well known by some of our people here, died in Denver on Saturday last of consumption.

Rev. Chas. Bremicker and Rev. A. Van der Lippe, D. D. German Presbyterian ministers of Dubuque, Ia., were in the city yesterday the guests of Rev. White. They left this morning to attend a German Presbyterian ministers' convention at Hickman, Nebraska.

The Eden Musees, the Omaha ball team, did not leave a very good reputation behind them this morning. They left a livery bill only partly paid and beat the Perkins House bar out of cigars and other luxuries as coolly as though it was their custom to do business that way. The home club paid their legitimate expenses or that too would have been sneaked out of.

AND THEY STILL WIN.

Yesterdays' Game an Interesting One.

Plattsmouth Again Troupes an Omaha Aggregation of Freaks.—The Locals Put up a Strong Fielding and Batting Game.

Plattsmouth 7; Eden Musees, 6. A vast assemblage of people flocked to the base ball park yesterday to witness the slaughter of the Freaks, and the saw it.

There was a man with a large brassy voice and he of the little we small voice and he with no voice at all. Altogether there was not less than 3087 people present at a conservative estimate. And they saw a game that did their hearts good. They saw the team of cripples representing Plattsmouth play a good game. That is, they played ball from start to finish. The Musees came from their cages up at Omaha with a lurid countenance and a desire to wade through the carcasses of a lot of ball players from the star city.

The "Freaks" were led by one Wilson. Once upon a time Wilson batted a ball out of the lot and made a home run, and in a fit of generosity, the people dubbed him "Home Run" Wilson. But he can't do it again. Yesterday he was a large lucious plum pudding. He caught a fine game for the "Freaks" but at the bat he wasn't in it.

The only Yapp started to catch for Plattsmouth but in the second inning he dislocated his thumb and was forced to retire into left field. Lacy was kindly traded to Plattsmouth by the "Freaks" and took Yapp's place. He caught a fine game. Perrine pitched a great game during the four innings he was in the box, and Sam Patterson also fooled the visitors in good shape. On first both Perrine and Sam put up great ball. The old "Buck" covered second in a manner befitting the occasion. He caught Wilson about six feet off second on a clever throw by Lacy, but his window glass eye had been left at home on the shelf. At third, "Whitey" Miller played good ball considering the condition of his hand and arm. Tom Patterson played short in a satisfactory manner. After Yapp's injury he retired into left field and distinguished himself by making a couple of fine catches. Jack Schulhoff was the star batter in yesterday's game. He got three safe hits, and he got them just as they were needed, too. He made one error in the field, but in batting he was out of sight. Bert Holmes played right field in good shape.

For the freaks, Wilson, Dallas, McConnell, Lucas and Mahoney played good ball. Mahoney stole bases like a fiend; but Lucas, he of the large brassy mouth, was no good on base running; he thinks he is, but that's where he's off.

This is the way they done it by innings—

In the first, the "Freaks" got one run and Plattsmouth blanked.

In the second, Omaha blanked and Plattsmouth blanked.

In the third, Omaha tied the score by adding two runs to their string.

Both sides blanked in the fourth and fifth.

In the sixth, the Musees added one to their pile, while Plattsmouth rolled up three runs in her half.

In the seventh, Omaha got two runs and Plattsmouth one, and then they quit scoring.

Following is the tabulated score:

Thirtieth Anniversary.

Yesterday being the thirtieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Taylor, who reside about three miles west southwest of this city, about 4 o'clock a large number of their friends and neighbors arrived and for one hour afterwards carriages kept coming loaded down with old friends, till nearly 150 people had arrived, nearly all of whom were past the middle age of life.

Following we give a list of those present who were here thirty years ago: Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wiles, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wiles, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Gopen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vallery, sr., Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vallery, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eikenbary, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wiles, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. White, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beck, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Todd, Grandma Thomas, Mrs. Wm. Taylor, J. C. Eikenbary and Nelson Jean.

After all had arrived, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were brought out on the porch, where Judge Chapman in a short but very appropriate address presented them with a beautiful combination book-case and secretary, after which a most sumptuous repast was served. When the inner man had been satisfied all came out on the porch and lawn where Mr. V. V. Leonard took a picture of all present.

The afternoon and evening, till 8 o'clock, was spent in telling stories and recounting interesting happenings of the early days of Nebraska, when the majority of the guests left for their homes, leaving a few of the old settlers to enjoy the late evening by themselves.
