In Memory of Kellogg Poissall.
"Loved one thou hast gone and left us.
Here thy loss we deeply feel."
Ah! These words by poet spoken
Come to us with anguish real.

For we too have lost a loved one.
Kellogg now has gone to God;
He will be with us no longer—
His body lies beneath the sod.
He was just the sweetest flower
Ever given to arms of love.
God has placed him in his bower,
To bloom in beauty up above.

Why, oh why, we cry in anguish,
Could our darling not here stay?
With his life so full of promise,
Why must he be taken away?

But we know in all our sorrow
That our God knows what is best;
That He cannot err in judgment,
So we trust Him for the rest.

And we thank Him for the treasure
Given to us these few months,
Knowing we ere long shall join him
In the home where are no tears.

And we know in the hereafter,
By God's love and strength and grace,
We shall join the hosts in heaven,
And see Kellogg face to face.

THE HERALD was wrong in mentioning Lora Davis as being the newly elected noble grand at the last meeting of the Odd Fellows, as John Cory was the man elected.

E. E. Hume, business manager of W. J. Gilmore's "Twelve Temptations" company, paid THE HERALD a visit to-day. He has been here before with various first class enterprises.

Colonel Henri Gering and Dr. Brendel came in from Beatrice last evening and report a most delightful time at that hospitable city. The doctor brought with him the necessary papers making him a full fledged pharmacist.

J. P. Young is to be congratulated for securing W. J. Gilmore's gigantic spectacular production entitled "The Twelve Temptations." It is one of the finest companies traveling and will appear at the opera house to-night.

WEeping WATER.
FROM THE EAGLE.
H. D. Travis has made some nice improvement around his residence this spring.

Wave Allen has made the citizens of Elmwood a proposition to build their grist mill. Wave is a rustic and knows lots about a mill.

The county alliance met in regular session here last Saturday. Delegates from all parts of the county, being in attendance. The meeting was harmonious and much business of benefit to the order transacted.

The colored people of Omaha have again decided to hold their annual picnic in our park this season. The advance guard was here last Friday to make preliminary arrangements. The date of their coming has not been decided upon yet.

D. T. Dudley is back again after taking a long trip among the people of Iowa, who seem to be special favorites of David's. He says that since that state has gone prohibition, the people have more money to buy books with, and more disposition to read them.

Captain Hull, of Plattsmouth, is as generous as Charley Cherry. He offered to give the thief the key to the watch that he stole. Hull had a bottle of beer cooling in the well, stolen from him. He agrees to give the chap a full bottle, if he return the other one.

Of Course, Why Not?
The independent conference between Farmers' Alliance and R. of L. called to order after adjournment of Alliance, with L. G. Todd in the chair and H. D. Barr, Secretary.

Pleasant talks were given by LeMasters, Gilbert, Strickland, Todd Clark, Flower and Barr upon the subject of consolidation in the interest of reform. Everything was harmonious and a committee appointed to devise the best way of effecting systematic action. Only members of both orders were allowed admission. A thorough consolidation of the two societies is only a question of a few weeks.—Weeping Water Eagle.

Vigorous Advice.
Our neighbor of the Elmwood Echo must have been knocked out by some of the Elmwood women folks, judging from the following advice which he gives:

The most damaging, damnable and nefarious imposition ever perpetrated upon innocent morality, or ever tended to stain the spotless character of personified virtue, is that which emanates from the mouth of gossiping woman. Her soul must be tarnished with the blackest hue of hell; her motives are sinful and calculated to crush virtue to the dust and lower the white-winged object of morality into the scum of degraded degradation. God pity the gossip who invades peaceful homes with her vile prevarication and seeks to destroy the fraternal germ of confidence and blacken the character of innocent and well meaning individuals. Christ disapproves of such work and hell yawns for such pretentious Christians. These gossiping vipers are known in most every neighborhood and despised equal to the extent of their acquaintance.

A. O. U. W.
All members of the A. O. U. W. are called to meet at Rockwood Hall Saturday (Decoration day) at 12:30 to take part in the decoration day exercises. It is desired that every member should be present.

The Missouri Pacific is expected to be completed into Plattsmouth by the last of this week. The poor little town will make a great hoo-doo about this. The least thing sets them going now since they must lose the B. & M. shops and be only a way station on that line.—Eagle.

Colonel English worries too much about the outlook for this city, which as a matter of fact, was never better than it is today. New men and new machinery are going into the shops here, so that the idle vapors of non-resident mal contents whose wish is father to the thought of shop removal does not in the least affect the prosperity of our fair city.

J. P. Young informs your reporter that he saw "The Twelve Temptations" in Omaha two years ago, and he pronounces it the finest performance for scenery, mechanical stage effects, beautiful costumes, novelties and specialties there is on the road. The most novel feature is the "Terra Cotta" ballet, in which each lady has a live cockatoo. "Dancing on Grandpa's Shoulders" is also very novel. Mr. Y. says no one can afford to miss this rare treat and grandest spectacle ever brought to Plattsmouth. Bring your wives and children and your best girl and you will never regret it.

Flags Given Away.
J. P. Young will present every child that calls at his store, 509 Main street, with a flag for Decoration Day. Don't come before 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

The Catholic School.

There are no better schools in the state than can be found right here in Plattsmouth, in charge of the dominican sisters. The teachers are highly accomplished and with the zeal they have shown from the beginning, their success is not surprising. Father Carney has been tireless in good works for the success of the institution and must certainly feel proud of his efforts. Tomorrow evening the opera house should be crowded, that the public may have a fair idea of what is taught, and of the thorough training which is received by the pupils. The program for the entertainment—tomorrow night is as follows:

The Missouri Pacific is Here.
The long looked for road has finally reached the city, and will be completed to the Locust street viaduct to-night, where the track will end for a few days until the iron work can be brought up from Union and be put in place. As soon as the viaduct is completed the line will be pushed rapidly forward to its connection with the main line at Gilmore. The celebration of the road's completion will probably be deferred until July 4th, when Rome will be made to howl after the most approved fashion.

The Ballet Master Talks.
A HERALD representative met Mons. Victor Chiado, Gilmore's master of the Ballet, this afternoon and had quite a pleasant chat with him. We found him a courteous gentleman and a true cosmopolitan in the fullest sense of the word, having followed his chosen profession and resided at Paris, Milan, Berlin, Vienna, Constantinople, Algeria and Cairo, together with tours through many other countries.

Knowing that the boys about town as well as some of the fellows who used to be boys 30 or forty years ago. We made some inquiry as to their teaching and why they all came from Europe. Mr. Chiado informed us that regular ballet schools were supported by all the principal governments in Europe and that the young ladies not only had to begin at the age of from 10 to 12 years but they had to attend the school for seven years before they were turned out as "premiers." He says many American girls go to France and Italy where they take a regular course in these schools coming out the equal of any of their much advertised French sisters, in fact the ballet master said he considered American girls made the best dancers as they seemed brighter and were much quicker to learn. The corps of ballet performers with Gilmore's great show to-night has been recruited from all quarters of the globe and Mr. C. thinks they could not be surpassed.

District Court.
The jury has been excused until Monday morning. Nothing of public importance was transacted this morning except that all the city cases and M. P. appeal cases have been put over until next week, when Judge Hall of Lincoln will be present to try them.

One of the largest railroad deals with a theatrical company has just been completed with the Union Pacific. The amount paid by Manager Hume was upwards of $5,000 to San Francisco and return. W. J. Gilmore, the proprietor, will have next season over three hundred performers in his employ for his various companies, viz.: "Twelve Temptations," "Devil's Auction," "Imperial Burlesque" and "Sea King" companies. His Central Theatre in the Quaker City can boast of having the largest seating capacity out of twenty-five.

The two B's, Brown & Barrett, not Booth & Barrett, the tragedians, but the live drug firm, have assumed metropolitan airs by having elegant menu cards of drinks printed for their soda fountain in customers that are recherche in appearance, as well as quite convenient.

J. Q. Adams of Eagle is in the city to-day.
