Last month was the coolest July on record according to the weather bureau. The temperature was relatively lower all over the country; it is evident, however, from the manner in which August was ushered in, that better growing weather is in store for us.

To-morrow will be a "Red Letter" day for colored people all over the country. All patriotic, liberty loving people should assist in making this day one of joy and thanksgiving. The colored people of this city will celebrate in Weep-

A JAG OF EXHUBERANCE

Fastens Itself Onto the Burlington Club at Omaha

By the Nonpareils Allowing them to Beat them on their Own Grounds—Which Means they are the Champions of the State

Nonpareils 6, Burlingtons 7.
Two hundred people accompanied the Burlington club up to Omaha yesterday and helped them win a game of ball from the Nonpareils, but it was a close shave. In fact, it was too close for comfort and caused many of the visitors to water about the gills and froth at the mouth. The Nonpareils were a pretty pert set of young men and got away from the Burlingtons in the sixth inning in a distressingly easy manner. This is the way they done it by innings:

First Plattsmouth gave the Nonpareils a whitewash and then brought a man across the plate in their half.
And here's how the score looked after the first inning: Burlingtons 1, Nonpareils 0. And they stayed that way until the first half of the fourth inning when the Nonpareils tied the score by getting one run. Then the Burlingtons forged ahead again in their half by getting one run. And then the score stood this way: Burlingtons 2, Nonpareils 1.

In the fifth the Nonpareils bunched their hits with a couple of errors and piled up four runs. And here is where the Plattsmouth crowd looked sick. The gloom over their section of the earth was thick enough to be chopped with a knife at this time. And say, how the resident population of the village did gey the people from Plattsmouth about this time. We won't mention it.
Then both parties blanked in the seventh and the Nonpareils, as a sort of a clincher, don't you know, added another to their score in the eighth. And now matters had reached a desperate strait. The score stood: Nonpareils 6, Burlingtons 2, and the unfortunates who had bet on the Burlingtons were very, very silent. And the Omahaog were jubilant; nay, they were more than jubilant—they were exuberant. They roared and yelled and tortured the visitors with exquisite pleasure and began to figure on a great jag after the game. And right here is where Mr. Yapp kept them from scoring any more.

At the beginning of the last half of the ninth inning the score was still 6 to 2 and here came the change. It was not unusual change either but was large, lurid, tropical dew-drops as we would say. There is in this village of Plattsmouth a gang of Hoboos and they thought that Omaha was a good place for them to visit yesterday and they were in it. And there was also another gang of villagers part Hoboos and part Chumps but all these gangs are possessors of voice, ranged from a steam whistle to a whole calliope. And all these people opened up at once and the very heavens trembled. Several of the Nonpareils were killed outright and the rest mortally wounded. Mr. Jellen, who pitched for the Nonpareils, became very much afflicted with the rattles just here and began by blizzing up the bases with the aid of Shanahan, the short stop, and the Mr. Jellen gave Jack Schuhhoff a nice little ball and Jack hit it and then Yapp hit and then Sam Patterson took a turn at it and when the Alliance had quit howling and the smoke and dust had cleared away the Burlingtons had five runs in and had won the game.
Both clubs played very roudy ball at times and again they played fine. Bradford stole home on Creighton just as easy as pie at one time but the umpire sent him back and he scored later on.

FROM THE LEDGER.
Sam Hathaway concluded that he could not endure life alone any longer and left this morning for Saline county where his wife is visiting. Sam will assist in threshing the wheat crop of that county, after which he will return home.
G. F. McNamee departed Thursday morning of last week for Saline county, to transact business and visit relatives. He went so quietly that our reporter failed to "spot" him last week, but we will not let you do so again Mr. Mc.

Chas. McNamee probably thinks all editors are hogs—at least he fed us on corn a few days ago, but it was new corn, the first "roastears" we have had this season. Thanks friends Charley, we will remember you.

On last Wednesday night death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Leaches, and took their little daughter, Hazel, aged five weeks. The little one had been suffering from whooping cough and its frail constitution was not sufficient to withstand the attack. The remains were prepared for burial by Undertaker Tenney, and taken to Weeping Water on the afternoon train to be laid to rest in Oak Cemetery where other relatives of the family have been interred. The remains were accompanied by Mr. Elias Peck and daughter Lula, the mother being too weak to go and was forced to bid farewell to her little darling at the depot. A large number of friends were at the depot to comfort the grief stricken parents and to them the sympathy of the entire community is extended.

Paul Gering and family are removing to-day to the Weckbach mansion.

The Eighth Annual St. Louis Exposition will open Wednesday, Sept. 2nd, and closes Oct. 17, 1891.

Marriage license issued, John H. Gorman, Denver, age 38, Miss Jennie Rankin, Burlington, Iowa, age 29.

An excursion train loaded with a G. A. R. delegation from California, enroute for Detroit, passed through our city yesterday.

In the police court the case Thompson vs. Petersen for damages on attachment, being tried before a jury, is pending as we go to press.

Arrivals at the Riley: F. P. Blair, W. D. Ponge, O. J. King, A. Neyh, Will Clomston, Fred Engel, A. F. White, Omaha; F. N. Solno, St. Joe, C. S. Raner, Schuyler, Geo. Coleman, Chicago, H. M. Bristol, Ithaca, N. Y. M. N. Newman, Ashland, E. J. Dougherty, Kansas City.

On last Wednesday as Mrs. W. H. Betts was on her way to this place Rosa Peters who was with her fell out of the buggy and one wheel ran over her arm producing what is termed a greenstick fracture of the humerus. Mrs. Betts came into town with Rosa and called on Drs. Douglas & Brendel, who reduced the fracture. Rosa is doing nicely.—Avoca Enterprise.

Judge Ramsey and family accompanied Judge Crites home this morning and will visit at Hay Springs, Chadron and the Hot Springs, South Dakota for a couple of weeks. During the absence of Judge Ramsey his accommodating clerk, Charles Grimes will issue marriage license and file causes as readily as if the court were present in person.

A. C. Wright, one of the stalwart sons of republicanism and withal a young man of excellent attainments and good habits, departed Saturday evening for Columbus, Ohio, where he has been engaged by the republican state central committee for work during the coming campaign. While the work would be a labor of love by the zealous champion, we are glad to note that his services command a good salary. THE HERALD with hosts of friends in this city heartily wish the young man success in his new field.

Take your prescriptions to Brown & Barrett's, they dispense pure medicines.
