THOUSANDS OF "VETS"

Grandest Parade of the Organization Ever Witnessed at Detroit.

Ex-President Hayes, Governor Thayer and Many Others Notables in the Line.

Forgot their Feebleness

DETROIT, Aug. 4.—This has been a proud day in the history of the grand army of the republic. It has witnessed the grandest parade in the organization and has made the twenty-fifth, or "silver encampment," an occasion of magnificence and grandeur surpassing the fondest dreams cherished by its humble founder, Dr. Stephenson, of Illinois, twenty-five years ago. For six hours to-day under the bright sun 40,000 veterans tramped sturdily over the line of march, and such was the inspiration of the moment that even the feeblest of the maimed and crippled comrades found themselves adequate to the ordeal of the march.

The firing of a salute from the United States steamship Michigan in the harbor announced to the waiting veterans at 10:30 that the command to move had been given by the commander-in-chief. When General Veasey appeared before the reviewing stand the vast concourse of people clustered about Campus Martius and cheered themselves hoarse. The general reined his charger and pause. General Alger and Detroit post his escort, passed by him and drew up before the reviewing stand, fronting it, with canes at charge.

General Veasey looked on with a gratified smile, then lifting his hat gracefully from his brow, allowed his horse to pass with slow steps before them. As he passed before the reviewing stand every occupant arose to his feet. The foremost was General Miles of the regular army who had been leaning over, bareheaded, with his white-gloved hands knitted above his sword hilt. Gen. Veasey reached the end of the post and the Detroit veterans unfurled their flag, the band struck up a lively tune and the crowd cheered once more.

Gen. Veasey then rode to the stand and dismounting entered his box in front. Detroit post passed by and the parade continued toward the massive war arch. Besides the staff of the commander-in-chief there were on the reviewing stand Secretary of War Proctor, Secretary of the Navy, General Miles, Assistant Secretary of Interior Bussey, two or three governors and a half dozen past commanders-in-chief.

Will Picnic To-morrow.

We understand that the former pupils of Miss Bessie Rummel, together with their estimable teacher, will enjoy an outing to-morrow. The jolly young folks will load up in carriages and seek a grove where they will enjoy themselves in the highest sense of the word. We bespeak for them an excellent time.

Great preparations are being made for the state camp meeting at Bennett, Neb. It is to be held Aug. 13-21 inclusive. Bishop Mallalen, of the M. E. church, is to preach on Sabbath and on Monday is to dedicate the new tabernacle. Rev. G. H. Detwiler, of Iowa, is the evangelist. J. M. Harris and wife, of Illinois, are to lead the singing. Twelve of the best preachers of Nebraska have promised to preach, and the day for each man has been arranged four months ago. We notice five presiding elders and Dr. Mirrell, of Omaha, among the number. There will be good provisions for staying on the grounds over night. If you have your own bed clothing you can get a cot and tent room for ten cents. The dining hall will furnish meals for twenty-five cents. Good preaching, good singing, good shade, etc. Bennett is on the B. & M. between Lincoln and Nebraska City. You can take the 9:30 here and reach Bennett about 4 p. m.

Being overstocked with light double and single buggy harness, carriage dusters, robes, fly nets, stable sheets and a very large assortment of ladies' and gentlemen's saddles, I will sell the above stock for the next thirty days at and below cost.

Do not fail to notice the announcement of the base ball game to take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, as suspended across Main street, between the business houses of Mayer & Morgan and Sherwood. The plan is unique, tasty and shows that interest is manifested on the part of our business men, in the amusements of the day.

The strike among the job printers of Omaha is still on, with slight odds in favor of employers. Non-union men were brought from St. Louis and Kansas City yesterday and set at work for the Republican printing company. The firm of Ackerman Brothers & Heintze have acceded to the demands of the union and strikers returned to work.

Early this morning Grant Clarence Martha Clarence, Melissa Clarence, and John Clarence, of Union, and H. J. Clarence, of Nebraska City, drove into the city and put up at the Goose House. Indications pointed to the fact that there was a good prospect for a wedding and upon inquiry THE HERALD reporter found that H. J. Clarence had secured license to wed Melissa. The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the Goose House to-day at 3 p. m., Rev. H. B. Burgess of the Episcopal church officiating. THE HERALD extends congratulations and wishes the happy couple a life of usefulness and prosperity.

Affairs at the Smelter in Omaha have not materially changed to-day. The manager of the smelting works claims that no effort will be made to start the works for several weeks, yet other reports seem to indicate that an effort will be made to resume work soon. James Bacon, the leader of the locked out smelters, said yesterday: "We are certain to win the fight within a few days. The company has seven million dollars' worth of material now lying idle, which must be worked up in order to fill present engagements. The company will find it difficult to get men to take our places." While thus far there has been no serious trouble, a gang of strikers entered the smelting works yesterday and compelled a number of willing workmen to quit work. This called out a proclamation from the mayor to the effect that all organized mobs disperse and refrain from congregating in large numbers so as to cause trouble.
