PERSONAL

E. J. Wittee went to Omaha this morning.

Mrs. J. J. Cassidy is an Omaha visitor to-day.

Sam Shoemaker is doing business in Omaha to-day.

Miss Ellen Idecock was a passenger this morning for Omaha.

Ed. S. Hill came in on No. 5. this morning from Deadwood.

Dick Straight is doing business Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Mrs. E. F. Martin and Mrs. Hickle are visiting in Omaha to-day.

R. B. Whindham is transacting business in the metropolis to-day.

Rev. Reed accompanied by Miss Latta Hubble are in Omaha to-day.

Mr. F. J. Morgan, our efficient clothier, goes to Cedar Creek on No. 3 this evening.

The telegraph this morning reports Judge O. P. Mason is dying with gangrene.

John Schippagasse, our enterprising fruits dealer, is in Omaha to-day on business.

Rev. Wittee departed this morning for Beloit Wis. to visit his eldest son who resides there.

M. D. Warner, a prominent farmer of Iowa, and a visitor in the city, departs to-day for his home at Carroll.

Rev. F. J. Johnson, of York Neb., preached at the Swedish church yesterday and went to Omaha this morning.

J. N. Wise left this morning for Omaha, where he resumes his work pertaining the arrangement of the tax lists.

Miss Jannet Livingston and her friend Miss Hill, of Chicago, went up to Beatrice this morning for a few days visit.

Judge Archer spent Sunday with his son in Havelock and returned this morning bringing the young man with him.

Miss Mary Shafer spent Sunday with the Hawksworth family and returned to her home at Burlington Iowa this morning.

Mrs. John Quick accompanied by Mrs. Belle Hepper and her relative Minnie Rippeth, was a passenger for Omaha this morning.

Mrs. J. P. Lewis and little girl were passengers this morning for Webster City, Iowa, where they will visit relatives for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hyatt, who have been visiting Mr. Moses Hyatt of this city, returned Saturday evening to their home in Sidney Iowa.

Rev. E. B. Graham, editor of the Midland, at Omaha departed for home this morning. He was accompanied by Mr. J. R. Connor, a talented musician, who assisted Rev. Graham in conducting services at Murray yesterday.

Mr. H. A. Triplett, formerly an old classmate with THE HERALD scribe, now traveling salesman for the firm of Reynolds & Grant, of Omaha, was in the city to-day. Mr. Triplett takes front rank among the many efficient salesmen sent out by Nebraska's metropolis.

Mr. K. Dressler, who has been the leading tailor in this city for years past, leaves this evening for his old home in Frankenhausen, Germany, on a visit to his father. Mr. Dressler will remain in Germany till next spring, when he expects to return to the United States. THE HERALD wishes Mr. Dressler a pleasant journey.

The Republican County Central Committee which met at Weeping Water Saturday, issued a call for primaries to be held on the 12th, of Sept., and that county convention shall meet at Louisville, Sept. 19, 1891. The ratio of representation shall be based on the whole number of votes cast for attorney general Hastings at the last state election.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson's brother and sister Logan and Stella Brown accompanied by Miss Maud Vivian leave this evening for a visit at Rock Island, Ill. Miss Stella, who spent the winter with her sister, and attended the Plattsmouth schools, will not, we are sorry to say, return with the folks. Mr. Johnson will return in a few days, leaving Mrs. J. for an extended visit at home. We don't just feel at liberty state the object of Loge and Miss Vivian's trip but we will suggest to the boys that they had better keep him fresh in their memory and be prepared to smoke when he returns.

Dinwidy Bros. were pleasant callers at THE HERALD sanctum to-day. One of the boys hails directly from Iowa and says he has formerly been a democrat but he must vote republican on the prohibition question this year. Mrs. Dinwidy says that he has seen very little of drunkenness during the past five years, having not seen a single place where liquor was sold over the bar. This speaks well for Mills, Fremont, Page and Montgomery counties, in which Mr. D—has traveled.

I. N. Twiss, having concluded his visit here with his brother C. S. Twiss, returned to his home at Cannon City, Col., this morning. Mr. Twiss will visit in Omaha a few days before leaving for home.

Always take your prescriptions to Brown & Barrett's. tf

Be More Deliberate.

After fittingly commending Mr. Hackney, of the Hotel Riley, for the enterprise displayed in operating the motor line, the Mirror of last week makes this uncalculated attack upon Mr. H.:

"This paper would entertain a better opinion of Mr. H. if he would not allow a certain little pigeon-toed lawyer to make a tool of him in the matter of dispensing the patronage of the hotel and the motor road."

We have authority for saying that the above is not a true statement of affairs and will not be substantiated by facts, as the "Mirror" can easily ascertain upon investigation.

It seems that the "Mirror" was prompted to give vent to its feeling of displeasure, simply because Mr. H. did not see fit to patronize the establishment, exclusively, in the matter of printing. Mr. H. having a general interest in all the newspapers of the city preferred to distribute his patronage among the different offices—a spirit of liberality which is surely as commendable, and that is entitled to just as much praise as that attributed to him by our contemporary, for his public spirited business qualities.

On the other hand the impression left upon the readers of the "Mirror"—namely, that it is clamorous for all, is an exceedingly narrow and selfish position.

Since the "Mirror" has unjustly and in all probability in good faith made this accusation, it would be only justice to Mr. H. if it would recede from its position.

The Boy.

He is found everywhere. Anything that is done has a place for the boy. From Cape Cod to the Gulf of California the boy is the chief link in all things from a railroad system to running a church sociable. He that hath a boy hath a treasure. Oh fortune who smiles so seldom on those who await thee!

Now of all trades and professions from the throne to the humblest position the editor hath need of a boy—but no boy was his, and it was needless his boys he should hire.

'Twas last Saturday eve, the editor was working in undershirt sleeve, like a dusky young Turk, wondering why boys were in all homes but his. Now the day passed by, the sun set in the west—a clear cloudless sky. As these things occurred a commotion was started and they gave out the word a man child was born in the editor's home.

Last evening at the M. E. church was held a union meeting, under the auspices of the union society of christian young people in this city. A very interesting program was rendered and in all it was a very successful meeting. The various christian young peoples societies of this city have banded together for the purpose of accomplishing a more wide spread work here and union meetings have been planned for once a quarter the one last night being the first. A cordial invitation is extended to the young people to attend the meetings of the various societies of the city.

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Cass county fair, held last Saturday in this city, reports were very favorable from every department. Secretary Miller informs us that the society was never in better condition and the outlook was never more promising than now. Such being true, it behooves every citizen of the county to put forth every exertion necessary to second the efforts of the directors and let us strive to make the fair of 1891 the most successful in every particular that has ever been held in the country.

PLATTSMOUTH STOCK RISING

Sunday Game at Lincoln a Little Closer.

The game was called promptly as per previous announcement at the Lincoln ball park. The Plattsmouths are reported to have played better ball than of former times, tho' they were unable to carry off the laurels. The "Giants" in keeping with expectations played well and fully maintained their position in the estimation of spectators.

The Plattsmouths receive some encouragement from the fact that the score was more favorable to them. We confidently expect that the boys will come off victorious in at least six of the ten games, to be played with crack nines for which they are now booked.

The score stood: Plattsmouth 3 Giants 5.

Accidentally Shot.

Word comes from Weeping Water that Mr. Oliver Dogherty was accidentally shot yesterday by a friend a Mr. Hammond. From what we can learn we infer that it is simply another case of shooting, with "a gun that was not loaded". Too often young men carelessly handle fire arms, but these occurrences are surely frequent enough to warn all of the consequences very likely to result.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hunger, a son.

Architect Gray's little daughter, at Lincoln, is reported dangerously ill.

John H. Davis, one of our Weeping Water friends, spent Sunday with his brother, Steve, returning by way of Omaha this morning.

We are requested to announce that the Stars will cross bats with the Bons, of this city, at the Chicago avenue ball park to-morrow at 2:30. Admission free.

Jim Knotts, formerly a residence of this city, and a member of the of THE HERALD, spent Sunday with friends and relatives in town returning to his home in Council Bluffs this morning.

Mr. H. C. McMaken left upon our desk a box of Moore's early grapes, the first and we believe the finest of the season. This is conclusive evidence that Nebraska can cope with other states on early grape raising.

Hotel Riley arrivals: Will Eisher, J. P. Green, R. Vankirk, R. J. Dinning, Chicago; S. B. Purcell, J. P. Mauzy, A. Myer, F. Engle & son, D. R. McElrath, Omaha; G. P. Smith, G. A. McCreath, C. R. Stephens, Lincoln; T. Ewing, Hutchinson; S. L. G. Bryan, Ashland; M. W. Nery, Greenwood; K. Shuers, Glenwood.

The Sons of Veterans will hold a lawn sociable at the residence of B. A. McElwain on Wednesday evening, August 19. The grounds will be decorated with Chinese lanterns, and ice cream and cake will be served at 15 cents a dish. Everybody is invited to come and enjoy a cool, refreshing evening. 3t

Yesterday morning's services in the M. E. church were very interesting. Misses Pfrimmer, Kemper and Herrich presented the various sides of the deaconesses' work of the church in a very touching manner. They are doing a good work in Omaha as well as many other large cities of this country and should be heartily encouraged.

Fricke & Co's.

A PARROT'S CONCERT.
My aunt had a parrot that had been taught to sing the first stanza of "There Is a Happy Land," and Polly was very proud of her voice. One day a neighbor brought over her canary to be kept while she was away from home. No sooner would the canary commence singing than Polly would bristle her feathers and cry out: "You don't sing right! you don't sing right! Hear Polly sing!" Then Polly would execute "There Is a Happy Land" to the best of her ability.

One evening my uncle, who is somewhat deaf, was telling me that there was a concert in the town hall, and he should like to go, but did not think he could hear. Whereupon the parrot shrieked: "Polly'll sing! Polly'll make you hear!" The gentleman turned courteously to her. "Thank you, Polly! I'll stay at home and hear you!" he said. She danced about her cage in delight. "Beautiful Polly! Polly can sing!" she kept saying softly to herself, with a pride in her accomplishment that was amusing 'to see. —Wide Awake.
