The Colorado Cactus Blossom Concert company will give an entertainment at Rockwood Hall tomorrow evening. Let everybody turn out as the admission is only 25 and fifteen cents and you will be glad you went as there entertainment is a rare treat.

Several exchanges note instances where farmers have purchased cheap (?) groceries of the fellow who is underselling the average grocery merchant, and in the end the farmers find the goods almost worthless, and yet they find plenty of "dupes."

Miss Lila Halsey, of Evanston, Ill., sister of Prof. Halsey, arrived yesterday and will teach in our city schools during the coming term. The professor is receiving a visit from Mrs. Edwood Postlethwaite, of Philadelphia, and Miss Lizza McKee, of Rock Island, Ill.

The World-Herald contains quite a lengthy article in which a plan is set forth by Dr. Billings by which he claims to be able to cure cholera of all kinds by a process of incubation similar to the plan introduced by Dr. Koch in his famous consumption cure. The discovery doubtless will be a valuable acquisition to the scientific investigators.

The state business men's association have conceived a novel idea for advertising the state, by sending through the east a train load of Nebraska products, to exhibit as an advertisement of its resources. Assessments were made on each county to defray the expense, $225 was asked from Cass county, the money to be raised by subscription. Several counties have taken hold of the matter and will make a good showing. One man from each county can accompany the exhibition train. Cass is one of the leading counties and could make a showing to if not leading any other county. Who will take hold of the matter and see that Cass is not left out.—W. W. Rep.

Julius Pepperberg informs us that our old friend Hon. Orlando Tefft while preparing to attend the old settlers reunion at Union last Saturday, met with a painful though not a serious accident. As Mr. Tefft was standing on a trunk reading some clothing he suddenly lost his balance and before he could regain his footing, fell backward over the stair railing and fell headlong down stairs. He hurt his foot quite seriously and a small gash cut on his head, otherwise received only a severe shaking up. It was indeed a narrow escape as the results might have been far more serious. Dr. Brendall of Murray, is attending him and in a few days, in all probabilities he will be around again.

AN EXCITING GAME

Victory Perches on the Banner of the Leans.

The Second Great Ball Game Between the Fats and Leans Results in a Victory For the Leans.

Leans 22. Fats 12
The second game of ball between the Fats and Leans materialized at the ball park yesterday. As all were aware that the Fats covered themselves with glory in the first game and as indications were that the second game was to be for blood a good number of interested spectators was on the ground long before the game was called.

The Leans were composed of an ambitious, sprightly set of boys, who, apparently, estimated their strength in comparison with that of the more sedate Fats about as a 14-year-old son would his enormous amount and discriminating quality of knowledge as compared with that of his father.

So they entered into the game with a vim, and in the first inning ran in several scores. It appeared that the Fats rather acquiesced in the opinion that the Leans knew more about the game than they did and accordingly did not seem to play with the enthusiasm that usually characterizes good material.

The Leans put Pollock in the box and the Fats had a decidedly provoking time in finding his balls. But as the game progressed and the oil around their fatty joints and muscles began to wax warm the audience began to conclude—if we may be permitted to use that time-worn, modernly revised chestnut—that they were decidedly "in it" after all—"in it" to the extent that the heavy side of the teter board had the greater number of scores, but Hackney hustled around and urged the boys to their utmost, which, with the aid of an occasional rank decision from the umpire in their favor, helped win the game.

R. B. Windham let several of the oily kind to first by not finding the ball in time, but he took his spite out on the ball when he got to bat. He never failed to arouse the heavy fielders from their gentle slumbers.

Salisbury, too will make a batter as he attains maturity, and as a fly catcher he is clear "out of sight," for he made a "snap" at a fly and gobbled it up greedily to behold.

Hackney attempted to "rattle" the heavyweight pitcher and was a remarkable success.

Fox, of the heavyweights, played first, and it was seldom that they could force a ball past him.

On the whole it was a remarkably interesting battle and after the smoke of battle had cleared away and the disabled had been cared for the summing up indicated that the Leans were masters of the situation by a score of 22 to 12.

Y. P. S. C. E. Meeting.

That Sociable.

Last night occurred the social event of the season. Twas a caution, the number of people that went "over the hill to the poor house" As aforesaid the social given at the residence of J. C. Eikenbary by the ladies aid society of the M. E. church was a success in every sense of the word. There were present about two hundred people both old and young, from the city and vicinity. The large grounds about the institution were well lighted with Japanese lanterns and notwithstanding the cool, chilly atmosphere, the young folks enjoyed a jolly time in the open air. The spacious parlors of the house were well filled with a merry throng who passed the time in pleasant conversation and listening to selections by musical talent present.

Only in one particular instance were the ladies as well as the guests disappointed. They had miscalculated in regard to the number of people to be present and brought only enough cream for a small portion of the crowd, thus making it necessary for a large number to go hungry. However the social time will long be remembered both by those present and the host and hostess, and allow us to say that the poor house is not the worst place in the world to go, under the proper circumstances.

The Normal Closes.

Last Saturday closed one of the most successful institutes ever held in the county; 135 teachers were in attendance and all are very enthusiastic over the work done. Prof. Noble and Waterhouse deserve a great deal of praise for their untiring efforts to make it a success in every particular. These two gentlemen, with Prof. McClelland, of Plattsmouth, and Mrs. Edwards, of Lincoln, comprised the able corps of teachers who did such satisfactory work.—Weeping Water Republican.

Birthday Anniversary.

Last night there gathered at the home of David Miller a company of neighbors and friends of the family to celebrate the 80 anniversary of Mr. Thomas Mitchell's birthday. Mr. Sullivan on behalf of the guests presented to Mr. Mitchell an easy chair, which will be appreciated by him in future years.

A Close Call.

As Mr. W. W. Davis was mowing weeds on the public highway, he alighted for the purpose of oiling his machine, and carelessly stepped between the horses and the machine. The horses started to move and luckily instead of being thrown across the sickle bar he fell on the machine near the seat. It was indeed a fortunate escape and Mr. Davis may well feel delighted that the result was not serious.

Police Court.

J. C. Martin, the man arrested yesterday by Chief Archer, was discharged from the complaint of burglarizing, but was fined $5 and costs on a charge of peddling without license. In default of the payment of which he went to jail.

A case of Kroehler vs. Wm. Kniss for obtaining money under false pretenses will probably be tried tomorrow.

This morning about 10 o'clock Mr. B. J. Rennells, a switchman, was coupling cars, when his left arm was caught between the bumpers, breaking his forearm and otherwise bruising his arm.
