City Schools.

The city schools open Monday and buildings have been thoroughly cleaned and many much needed improvements added. This work has been done under the supervision of the building committee, composed of William Ballance, chairman, and L. D. Bennett and J. I. Unruh, who have been very diligent in this matter and who believe that anything to be done should be done in the best way and manner possible. Central building has undergone a thorough cleaning; the roof has been repaired and repainted; room 13 has been divided and instead of one large room we now have two as neat rooms as it would be possible to find anywhere. The work of dividing this room was begun last Tuesday and is completed, and the woodwork painted the blackboards have all been reslated and are in fine condition. Two large tables, water and other improvements have been added to the laboring, making it one of the best rooms in the state for that purpose, and when we say that it will be in charge of Prof. McClelland you can rest assured that our laboratory will be a success. The desks have been overhauled and many new ones added.

The Brush patch on the east end of the park has all been cut and it presents a much better appearance, and with better care; next year the grounds will present a good sod of blue grass and clover. The ward buildings have all been overhauled and the school house on the Missouri Pacific track has been rearranged; the door placed in the south end, a tight fence eight feet high between the track and the building has been built and every precaution possible has been taken for the safety of the children.

The Mercerville school building has been thoroughly overhauled, painted, new furniture provided with and presents a very creditable appearance.

The flag for the high school is here and as soon as the different schools are organized it will be dedicated with the proper eclat and the young America can gaze on the emblem of one of the grandest nations on earth.

The assignment of teachers for the coming year is as follows:

1. Carrie Grousel.

According to declarations of certain insurance companies, it is probable that an objection will be made on the part of the companies to insuring live stock running in pastures fenced by barb wire, as the losses in a great measure are due, as reported by the farmers, to lightning in connection with the wire fences. In the majority of cases stock is killed while standing near the wire, owing to the good qualities of the wire as a conductor of electricity. Because of the wire fences the risk of insurance companies is greater.

FEW POLITICAL POINTS

County Attorney Travis Shies His Castor in the Ring For the Judicial Plum

However He Lost What Little Enthusiasm He Had When He Came Here—Independents Casting About

The seething political caldron is quite busy just now, and huge clouds of vapor are filling the air with all kinds of gossip. The other day County Attorney Travis Shies was here, ostensibly on a visit to County Attorney Morgan, but in reality to see if there would be any chance for him to secure the democratic nomination for judge of this judicial district. Two years ago Travis was a howling republican but renounced this party faith to get an office. He did not get much comfort here, for every one who knows Judge Chapman favors his return to his present seat, so Mr. Travis went home with his office seeking enthusiasm quietly but persistently cooing away. Next we will hear of him yelling in the alliance ranks in hopes of getting a state office.

The independents are now knotting their brows over the question of putting in nomination a candidate for the judgeship. Last Tuesday a portion of the county central committee met at Syracuse to discuss the matter and it ended in Messrs. Tipton of Nebraska City, Campbell of Syracuse and Baldwin of Palmyra being selected as a committee to confer with the Cass county independents on the subject. As yet nothing has been done, but a call for a judicial convention will be forthcoming in a short time.—Nebraska City Press.

CASS COUNTY AT LINCOLN.

Our Enterprising Florist and Fruit Grower to Compete

Among the enterprises of which Cass county feels justly proud is the fruit and plant growing establishment conducted by W. J. Hesser at his home six miles south-west of this city.

Mr. Hesser has very appropriately denominated the place, and it is universally spoken of as "Hesser's Picnic Gardens," presumably named thus because of its peculiar adaptiveness to picnic parties, and of the frequent outings that are held there.

Mr. Hesser not only supplies the home trade with an abundance of all kinds of fruit and plants that can be possibly grown here, but his reputation as a florist has become known throughout the state, and when the wealthy citizens of many of our large cities desire to secure an elaborate collection, their wants are always supplied at the Picnic Gardens.

The public spirited proprietor does not underestimate the value of advertising, and never fails to avail himself of every opportunity to show his plants, and thus place their merits prominently before the public. As has been his custom for several years, Mr. Hesser will have an exhibition at the state fair—a display that can not fail to add greatly to his reputation as a florist, and be a great credit to the county. The Herald reporter had the privilege of gazing upon the plants after they had been placed in the car, and upon being confronted with the task of picturing the scene on paper, we are at a loss to find words adequate to do it justice; suffice to say there were two cars well filled with plants of all sizes, varieties and natives of nearly every country on the globe. Some of those which seemed the most interesting were the banana, of which he has several varieties; pine-apple; orange, which, by the way, has fruit sufficiently developed to compare with a large walnut. He has palm trees from China, Australia, West Indies and Japan; from the last named he has on hand 600 plants, and he has a bill of 300 more that will arrive in a few days. Doubtless Mr. Hesser's display will compare favorably with, if not excel, that of any competitor.

Look out for JOE'S Grand Fall Opening he will announce exact date within a few days.

ELMWOOD ITEMS

FROM THE ECHO.

Little Charley Beardsley was dragged six or eight rods, Tuesday evening by a cow, but was not seriously hurt. He got the rope tied around his arm and fell down and might have been killed had not Billy Ince stopped the critter.

John Keefer, who with his family went to California, over a year ago, has returned to old Cass county fully satisfied that mortal man cannot live on climate and fruit. John thinks of opening up an implement store in Alvo.

Frankie Baker furnished amusement for the bystanders Tuesday by riding his cow through the streets; but when near the post office Frankie got too "loxy" and tickled the cow in the flank with his toe. She responded by a sprightly buck that sent her young rider headfirst to the ground, but fortunately he was not hurt.

The Cass County Fair. Many people inquire of us on what date the county fair will be held, but we are unable to inform them as no notice of it has ever been sent to this office, and we cannot find a bill or premium list in town.—Elmwood Echo.

THE HERALD is able to state, authoritatively, that the editor of the Echo received the same information pertaining to the fair that was sent other papers in the county. He was also sent a complimentary ticket and a special letter of invitation. Several premium lists and posters were sent to Elmwood and vicinity as well.

It appears to us that the pretended ignorance of the matter on the part of the Echo is manifested for the purpose of injuring the fair, but we cannot see that this is a wise course to pursue, as it is held in the interests of the county, and we expect Elmwood and vicinity to receive its share of the benefits.

For the benefit of the Echo we again state that the officers have left nothing undone that, in their judgment, would contribute to a successful fair. Indications are that it will surpass all others ever held in the county. The dates are Sept. 15, 16, 17, and 18.

If you want to see nice clean and well made up clothing you should go to JOE and look his stock over

The Creole Burslesque Co., the aggregation of colored folks, that showed here a few weeks since, gave evidence while here that the managers were slightly crooked, but subsequent developments indicate that the entire concern is a fraud. They showed in Kearney Friday evening and as they were about to depart the hotel man attached the baggage, and proceeded to detain it for the payment of hotel bills. The company will have to deal more honorably or cease traveling. If there is anything distasteful to a community it is an aggregation of dead beats operating as swindlers.

The public schools will open Monday morning, and J. P. Young is prepared to supply all School Books at ACTUAL COST FOR CASH ONLY, as the books are sold for the board of education. J. P. Young has a large line of School Supplies and will save the pupils money on most of them. Remember, he sells for CASH and can afford to sell cheaper.

Farewell Party.

The home of R. F. Dean was handsomely decorated last Friday night and was the scene of a very pleasant party given to allow friends and acquaintances an opportunity to say good-bye to Miss Lottie Dean who was soon to take her departure for Michigan, where she will visit relatives and attend school this Fall and Winter. The invitations were very general and from the number present it would seem that all invited were there. Refreshments of the very finest order were served from nicely decorated tables and as the evening was pleasant, guests were allowed the full freedom of the grounds; so that with even the large number present, there was room for all. It was not until a late or rather an early hour, that guests said good-bye, and the general verdict of those present is that it was one of the most enjoyable social gatherings of the season.
