Musical Sounds and Noise

It is a curious fact that musical sounds fly farther and are heard at a greater distance than those which are more lond and noisy. If we go on the outside of a town during a fair, at the distance of a mile we hear the musical instruments. but the din of the multitude, which is so Druggists. overpowering in the place, can scarcely be heard, the noise dying on the spot. To those who are conversant with the power of musical instruments the following observation will be understood: The violins made at Cremona about the year 1600 are superior in tone to any of a ter date, age seeming to dispossess them of their noisy qualities and leaving nothing but the pure tone. If a modern violin is played by the side of one of ose instruments it will appear much the louder of the two, but on receding a handred paces, when compared with the Cremona, it will scarcely be heard .-New York Ledger.
