JOHN FITZGERALD'S CONDITION.

A Thoroughly Reliable Statement From the Attending Physicians.
Owing to the prevalence of so many contradictory rumors concerning the illness of Hon. John Fitzgerald, a Journal representative has elicited the following opinion from Dr. Coffman of Omaha, viz: That Mr. Fitzgerald will recover. At present all active symptoms have passed; he is entirely conscious and recognizes and talks intelligently with his friends, who are permitted to visit him. He is still, however, in a very feeble state of health from the results of cerebral congestion. The opinion of Dr. Coffman is concurred in by Dr. Garnett of Hot Springs, Ark., who is here in consultation with him.
—Lincoln Journal.

Prof. Ewing in Trouble.
Prof. C. C. Ewing, formerly teacher in Rathbun's Business College of Omaha, who was expected to assume control of the business course in our public schools, beginning Oct. 5th, was arrested last evening, on complaint of one of his former pupils, charging him with betraying her. At this writing it is impossible to state, authoritatively, as to the guilt of the accused, but it is truly hoped that the truth will be known and justice meted out.
We are informed by the board that he will not be permitted to proceed with his work in the schools, as was originally intended, let developments be as they may. In all probability, other arrangements will be made, by which the business course may yet be established and maintained.

He Found What She Wanted.
"The moon I'll explore in a big balloon,
And seek for its magic tree,
For its fruit will give you eternal youth—
"That's not what I want," said she.
He wrung his hands in wild despair,
As he fell on his benched knees,
"Oh! What shall I do? Shall I kill myself?"
"That's not what I want," said she.
"Then, maiden fair, whom I love in despair,
To your greatest wish I'll agree;
Shall I whip John I. and make him howl?"
"That's not what I want," said she.

A Sad Affair.
Mrs. Jas. Johnson, of Weeping Water, well known to many of our people, met with a fatal accident at Lincoln yesterday. Mrs. Johnson, accompanied by friends, was returning from a drive, when the horses became frightened at an electric car and proceeded to run. Mrs. Johnson became alarmed and jumped from the vehicle, striking her head upon the pavement, from the effects of which she died in a few hours. The funeral will take place at Weeping Water to-day.

A New Enterprise.
We have received a sample copy of the first issue of The Alvo Advocate, a news-paper to be published by the Alvo Publishing Company. The paper is a six column folio, starts out with a paying list of advertisers and on the whole presents a creditable appearance. It is the wishes of THE HERALD that success may attend the efforts of the publishers.

The young people made themselves perfectly at home and spent a very enjoyable evening playing high-five and eating the delicate refreshments which were served by the hostess. At a late hour all departed, pronouncing Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman the most charming of entertainers.

An Enterprising Clothier.

The grand fall opening as previously announced to take place at the "one price clothier" establishment last evening at 8 o'clock, proved an occasion of considerable interest. The proprietor had provided good music for the occasion, and each person in the great procession that filed through the store-room was presented with a beautiful souvenir, with the compliments of the genial proprietor, Joe Klein. It is evident that this establishment will continue to take front rank among our clothiers. The stock is complete, embracing every essential article in the line of clothing, and prices are always reasonable.

A Big Suit.
By the district court, of Lancaster county the case of Fitzgerald & Mallory vs. the M. P. R. R. was called in the court yesterday. The case involves $1,500,000.

well Patronized.
"Braving the World" was rendered last evening in the presence of a large and apparently appreciative audience. The company has a three nights' engagement at this place, concluding Wednesday. The company will present "My Gerladine" to-night. The company doubtless will again be greeted with a full house.

T. TIMOTHY CLARK.
Plattsmouth, Sept. 22, 1891.

Laid to Rest.
The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dickson's little child took place at the residence of Mayor Richey this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Buckner officiating. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of their neighbors and friends in this time of sad bereavement.

Business Men to Meet.
The Business Men's Association will meet at K. of P. hall Friday evening, Sept. 28. It is highly important that every business man be present, as a plan is on foot by which the advantages of our town and surrounding country may be advertised and brought before the people. This is a matter in which all are interested and it behooves every one to be present.

A Disgraceful Row.
Last evening Andy Broback, bar keeper at "White Elephant" saloon, and David Wellengdrien, a Swede living near Louisville, indulged in a battle of words, and finally considering this too mild, they went into the street and engaged in a hand to hand fight. The only surprise is that we do not have more of these disgraceful brawls, when these gapping door ways of hell are permitted to dispense this poisonous stuff to the people. The combatants were marched up to Justice Archer's court, upon complaint of Jack Denson, and the costs to each, including the fine, was $11.

M. E. Conference.
The M. E. conference of Nebraska meets at Lincoln to-morrow, at 9 a. m. in the St. Paul church. The conference is expected to be one of interest as lay and ministerial delegates are to be elected. It will be in session one week. Bishop Goodsell will preside and preach Sunday morning. The B. & M. will sell tickets at one and a third fare on the certificate plan. Quite a number of our people contemplate attending.

From THE HERALD we learn that a Business Department will probably be added to the Plattsmouth school. Aside from the ordinary common school branches there is nothing so essential to the young man starting out in life, as a perfect knowledge of Book keeping, and the various forms of legal and business articles. Penmanship, is not given the attention in our schools it demand, and frequently young men and women who are fairly well educated, write letters which can hardly be read. We are glad to notice this evidence of go-a-head-iveness in the Plattsmouth school and hope the "Business Department" may become a reality.

Mrs. J. W. Bridge and sister, Mrs. Rhinehart, returned from Peru, Neb., last night. Mrs. Bridge has been visiting there for a month and her sister accompanied her home.
