A Suit Against the Brooklyn Bridge.
In a short time the most important damage suit that has ever been brought against the Brooklyn bridge will be tried. It is for $1,000,000, and will involve some nice points of law. A Franco-American inventor named Du Bois is bringing the suit. He claims that in staking the caissons of the bridge certain patents belonging to him were infringed upon, and that without the use of his inventions the bridge could not have been successfully built. So important does District Attorney Clarke consider the case, and of such grave moment to the interests of the two cities, that at his request the services of a well known patent lawyer have been secured as counsel, and he has already received from the bridge $1,000 as a retaining fee.

There is an interesting story told of Bridge Secretary Henry Beam in connection with the sinking of these caissons. He says that it was at first intended by the bridge engineers to sink a regular coffer dam, and on this place the big piles that support the bridge structure, but that William C. Kingsley opposed this plan, giving as his reasons for so doing that no ordinary coffer dam would hold in the fierce currents of the East river. Then it was that the sinking of the caissons was decided upon. In other words, they used a coffer dam, not in the regular fashion, but upside down. And now the wooden box rests on a bed of rock forty feet below the bottom of the river.

Mr. Beam says that Mr. Kingsley would have been the last man in the world to have allowed the invention of another man to be used in the construction of the bridge without paying him for it, and that if Du Bois' patents were infringed upon it was by accident and because the bridge engineers did not know that that style of coffer dam had been patented.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Human Discontent.
A rich man of Boston has one son. He led him about, he instructed him, he kept him as the apple of his eye. The son became of age this summer. The father has no other occupation save that of nursing his income, and as he is a man of sense and liberal views he told his son that he must not stand idle, yet left to him the choice of business or profession. At the same time he wrote privately to twenty-four friends and acquaintances asking their advice in the matter. The twenty-four were prominent each in his own calling.

And each replied in turn, complaining of his business and advising the father to seek elsewhere for the future prosperity of the young man. The law was crowded, journalism brought but little money, banking was an uncertain prop, and so on throughout the catalogue. The father is still undecided, the boy is idle, and all because no one of the twenty-four is contented with his lot, while he admires the fortunes of other men.—Boston Post.

New Lunar Crater.
A careful examination of a photographic negative of the moon recently obtained by means of the Lick telescope revealed the picture of a most important lunar crater whose existence had never been suspected previously. The explanation lies in the fact that the human eye is not so constituted that steady gazing will bring out the minutest details of the object looked at; on the contrary, the eye grows tired and details are lost. Not so the photographic plate, however; the effect of a constant pouring in of rays of light into the camera has a cumulative effect.

The longer the exposure under suitable circumstances, the greater the display of detail in the result. So in this case, the "photographic eye of science" takes cognizance of a crater on the moon's surface that has never been, and in all probability never will be, seen by human eyes.—New York Recorder.

Over Three Years in a Mattress.
In July, 1888, Captain Joseph Lowe, of York, filled his bed with grass, which he had cut for that purpose. Soon after Mrs. Lowe thought she felt something moving under her side of the bed, but the captain told her it was imagination. Captain Lowe was afterward sick and laid upon that side of the bed, when he felt the same motion. In April, 1889, he died, but not until Tuesday of last week was the bed opened and emptied, when out came a live, healthy, but terrible hungry turtle. He was ravenous, and would snap at anything offered him, it is said. The straw or hay for two feet across was "chewed very fine."—York (Me.) Courant.

A New Instrument.
A scientific instrument has been gotten up by Professor Bigelow which is called the aurora inclinometer. By extensive researches he has found that the same law which underlies the working of electricity and magnetism is operating on the sun, and that sunlight is a magnetic field in which the magnetized earth rotates as does the armature of a dynamo. The instrument will be sent to Alaska, where it will be used in the study of the aurora, as it is there seen in the best conditions.—New York Times.

A Traveled Baby.
There was in this city recently on a visit a baby only about nine months old which has seen more traveling than commonly falls to the lot of most older people. It was born near Chicago and has since been to the City of Mexico, thence to Massachusetts, then to Portland, Me., and return, and is now living in Maynard. At that rate most of the world will be familiar ground in fifty years.—Marlboro Enterprise.

Bill Paid After Many Years.
A young man in the employ of Emerson Hall over a quarter of a century ago contracted a little bill with Dr. H. C. Newell. It slipped his mind at the time and he always thought it paid until a few days ago, when he accidentally came across a bill from the doctor dated twenty-six years ago. He at once paid it. Such honesty is indeed worth noticing.—St. Johnsbury (Vt.) Caledonian.

The Use of Ayer's Pills,
Haste, drastic purgatives to relieve distress in a dangerous practice, and to hasten the disease of the patient to cure it. What is needed is a medicine that, by gradually opening the bowels, corrects the entire habit, and establishes a natural daily action. Such an agent is found in Ayer's Pills, which, while thorough in action, strengthen as well as stimulate the bowels and excretory organs.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels became regular and natural in their movements. I am now in excellent health."
—Wm. H. DeLauney, Dorset, Ont.
"When I feel the need of a cathartic, I take Ayer's Pills, and find them to be more than any other pill I ever took."—Mrs. R. C. Grubb, Burellville, Va.

"For years I have been subject to constipation and nervous headaches, caused by derangement of the liver. After taking various remedies, I have become convinced that Ayer's Pills are the best. They have never failed to relieve my bilious attacks in a short time, and I am sure my system retains its tone longer after the use of these Pills, than has been the case with any other medicine I have tried."—H. S. Sledge, Weimar, Texas.

We want every mother to know that croup can be prevented. True croup never appears without a warning. The first symptoms is hoarseness; then the child appears to have taken cold or a cold may have accompanied the hoarseness from the start. After that a peculiar rough cough is developed, which is followed by the croup. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse; a few doses of Chamberlain Cough Remedy will prevent the attack. Even after a rough cough has appeared, the disease may be prevented by using this remedy as directed. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co. Druggist.

For many years Mr. H. E. Thompson, of Des Moines, Iowa, was severely afflicted with chronic diarrhoea. He says: "At times it was very severe; so much so, that I feared it would end my life. About seven years ago I chanced to procure a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It gave me prompt relief and I believe cured me permanently, as I now eat or drink without harm anything I please. I have also used it in my family with the best results. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Two years ago the Haller Prop. Co. ordered their bottles by the box—now they buy by the carload. Among the popular and successful remedies they prepare is Haller's Sarsaparilla & Burdock which is the most wonderful blood purifier known. No druggist hesitates to recommend this remedy.

Her face had been drawn to one side, but the Pain Balm relieved all pain and soreness, and the mouth assumed its natural shape."
