The Great Hereford Sale
In calling attention to the public sale of Hereford cattle by the Ashland Land and Live Stock Co., at their ranch near Ashland, Neb., on Thursday, November 12, we wish to state that this stock is descended from some of the very best and highest priced Herefords the country, that most of them have been bred in this state and are fully acclimated. No where can be found thirty head of as fine bull of this grand breed or the same number of cows and heifers as will go at this sale. Send for catalogue and don't forget date and place. Thursday, Nov. 12, 1891, Ed Lakin, president, Ashland, Neb.

THE NEBRASKA WONDER.

How the Advertising Train is Being received in Ohio.
The advertising train is meeting with the deserved welcome wherever it stops. From the time it struck the Illinois side of the Mississippi river throngs of people have gathered to witness the display, and as was apprehended, as the train progresses eastwardly, the crowds become larger and a greater interest is manifested. Mr. King, the Lancaster county delegate in writing, home says they knew we could raise corn but the fruit that is what catches them. The printed matter is eagerly sought.

The Mansfield Daily Herald says of the train: "The Nebraska state business men's association exhibition train arrived Friday evening about 6 o'clock, two hours late, under the supervision of the following members of the advisory board of directors: R. F. Hodgkin, Omaha, general secretary; O. J. King, Lincoln, vice president; A. Lee, Fremont, treasurer; H. N. Dovey, Plattsmouth, assistant secretary; F. H. Moore, Kearney, member of trade committee, and delegates representatives of nineteen counties.

The exhibition is fathered by the Nebraska state business men's association. The purpose of the trip are not speculative in any sense of the word, the object being to show Nebraska's capabilities as an agriculture and horticultural state and her productiveness in raw materials for manufactures, that immigration may be encouraged and additional industries established.

On this train were agricultural specimens that cannot be excelled. Every variety of grain and vegetables was represented. Probably that which attracted more attention than any other one specimen was a pumpkin weighing 185 pounds. The train consisted of two cars, covered on the outside with grain, tastefully arranged, and filled with farm products of all descriptions, and a sleeping car for the accommodation of the thirty members of the association attendance.

Secretary Hodgkin said: "A great many wares manufactured in Mansfield are used in Nebraska, I am a native of Ohio and always notice anything that comes from that state." H. M. Kokjer of the firm of Kokjer & Bros., Clarke Merrick county, dealers in hardware and farming implements, said that he had sold a number of Aultman Taylor machines and Olive chilled plows, and also goods manufactured by the Humphreys Manufacturing company.

In certain portions of Nebraska a great quantity of hemp is raised, and since the McKinley bill went into effect numerous factories for the manufacture of hemp twine and ropes have been established. Binder twine, which used to sell at 14 cents now sells at 9 cents."

E. G. Dovey & Son vs. John S. Forbes. Suit on account for $189.15. Default of defendant entered and judgment for plaintiff for $189.15.

In the matter of the last will and testament of James Helman, deceased. Same filed for probate and hearing.

Wm. McNamara vs. City of Plattsmouth, garnishee. On trial to court.

District Court.
The day has been consumed considering the case McCoy vs. Petersen.

In this case Jos. S. McCoy was in debt to Petersen & Co. for meat purchased. The latter sold the account to an Iowa man, who by a process of garnishment collected the amount in full, about $90. McCoy now alleges that it was an unjust bill and sues Petersen & Co. for the recovery of the amount.

FOUND-Near the office of county judge, a piece of money, which the owner may have by proving property and paying for this notice.

Each voter should study carefully the method of voting under the Australian ballot law as per instructions in this issue.

HIGHSCHOOL NOTES.

BY PATRIC GIVE AWAY.
The schools are flourishing like plant life in springtime.

The classes in the high school are getting down to solid work and as a consequence the work is more interesting and enjoyable.

Prof. Musgrave is arranging to have type-writers for use at school hereafter. Will probably have two in readiness this week.

One of the societies in grammar school also rendered a good program. This feature of school work promises to be highly beneficial.

The P. L. S. literary society of Miss Wilson's room gave a very interesting entertainment Friday afternoon. There were six visitors present.

Luella Mathews, one of the class of '91, entered the teachers' review and commercial course, swelling the number of post-graduates now in school to four.

The large room occupied by the high school has proved insufficient for the accommodation of the students. It has been necessary to crowd in seven additional seats in the last two weeks. What are we going to do if the increase continues?

A number of the enthusiasts at central building expected to be excused Friday afternoon unusually early for the purpose of playing ball, but it was ascertained that the game contemplated could not be arranged for, and of course the boys did not get off at 2 o'clock as expected. A few of the smaller boys, therefore, became unruly and one (shall we say it?) young man took upon himself the privilege of going anyway, (privately, of course.)

When it was made known to the principal it became his painful duty, in order to impress upon the young man that "authority was his," to go out after the wandering youth. After returning him safely to the building work went on as smoothly as ever.

War Scenes.

Those who are interested in war scenes and relics would find a season of enjoyment in reviewing the exhibit in the tent near the court house. A good representation of "Custer's last fight" is given in panoramic form; charts representing the battles of Spotsylvania, Vicksburg and Shiloh are given; numerous stereoscopic views are given of battle fields, war scenes, etc. A large representation of the famous Libby prison is to be seen as it now stands in Chicago, and other interesting sights, too numerous to mention. The manager, J. W. Sperry, is a resident of Weeping Water, an old soldier and well and favorably known by many old residents of Plattsmouth. Mr. Sperry leaves to-morrow morning, but the doors will be open until 10 p. m. to-day.

Register.

An opportunity will be given to register at the following places Friday and Saturday, Oct. 30 and 31:

First ward, M. O'Rourke's tailor shop; Second ward, Turners' hall, Washington, avenue; Third ward, John Simpson's feed store, corner of Pearl and Sixth streets; Fourth ward, county clerk's office; Fifth ward, residence of J. L. Minor.

Railroad Racket.

W. J. Williams, switchman, is on the sick list.

A. W. Lewis, who has been confined to his room for several days on account of sickness, has returned to work.

Business has not been as brisk at the yards as at present for several months. There are 120 cars to be sent west this morning.

The H. & M. station house is undergoing repairs, to be in comfortable condition for the winter.

The Independent to Rally.

Hon. Jesse Harper of Danville, Ill., is billed to speak in the opera house in this city Friday evening, Oct. 30.

Mr. Harper has taken an active part in the political affairs of the country for the past quarter of a century. He was formerly an ardent supporter of the republican party and made the speech presenting Abe Lincoln's name for nomination to the presidency. He afterward became an earnest supporter of the greenback and flat money doctrine. The distinguished Illinoisian should be greeted with a full house.
