

Indians Who Ride in Fine Carriages.
The Sioux nation is rapidly becoming a nation of aristocrats. During the past few weeks many fine new carriages have crossed over here to the Sioux reservation, and all of them belonged to members of the Sioux nation who came here at different times and purchased them, paying for the same in good hard cash. Carriage dealers are now, in consequence, doing a rushing business with the Indians, and the demand for the finest and most expensive carriages is increasing, all the prominent and wealthier Indians appearing determined not to be outdone by any other member or members of the tribe.

The purchase by one Indian of an elegant carriage is sure to arouse the jealousy of some other Indian, and then some rustling is done. Cattle or anything that will net them the money needed is hurried to the nearest market and disposed of, and with the money thus obtained the fortunate Indian will hurry to a wagon and carriage dealer and purchase the finest carriage that can be procured.

The Lower Brule and Crow Creek Indians are already the possessors of many fine turnouts, and should they keep on as they are now doing every Indian will soon travel about in a carriage of his own. If the carriage manufacturers would paint their carriages a gaudier color it would result in largely increased sales, on the frontier at least, but at the rate the Indians are purchasing it is quite probable that they are satisfied with the plain color.—South Dakota Cor. Minneapolis Journal.

To Have New Eyelids.
Harvey Chaffee, of East Valley, a well known oil contractor, who was badly burned by a natural gas explosion on the 7th of May, is in the city for the purpose of having the skin grafting process tried on him. Mr. Chaffee was very severely roasted. The skin was burned off his face and neck, and ten holes were left in his head. The most serious scorching was that upon the eyelids. They were completely burned off both eyes, and in their stead at present is the raw, inflamed and swollen flesh. The sight is most repulsive, but Mr. Chaffee bears his misfortune with great fortitude.

When asked if his injuries were painful, he replied: "Yes, sir, they hurt me right smart at times, but it takes a great deal to make me grunt. I can stand a heap. You ought to have seen me when I was burned. My ears were as big as your fist and my head as big as a half bushel measure. I was a regular sight. You can ask my wife there," and he referred the reporter to a pleasant woman who sat near.

The work of putting new eyelids upon the unfortunate contractor is to be done by Dr. F. D. Edsall, who said that he would cut the material for Mr. Chaffee's eyelids out of the patient's arm. Except for his burns Mr. Chaffee was in a healthy condition, and his own cuticle would perhaps knit more rapidly than that from another person. The new eyelids will be bereft of eyelashes, but utility and a cure is what is sought after rather than beauty in this case.—Pittsburg Post.

Twenty Pound Salmon for a Cent Apiece.
The present wonderful run of salmon has so glutted the market that for some time these silver sided beauties have been selling at five cents apiece, but the price took a tumble yesterday and several fishermen sold a boatload of fine salmon, weighing about twenty pounds each, at the pitiful price of one cent apiece. One cent for a twenty pound silver salmon, the finest quality of that excellent fish, is the lowest price perhaps that a food fish ever sold for in this or any other country, but salmon are so plentiful that people do not know what to do with them.

It is estimated that enough fish could be taken there in one day to fill 1,000 barrels. Fishermen say they can make big money by selling salmon at a cent apiece to the canneries if they will only buy all they can catch. One man caught fourteen with a gill hook attached to a hoe handle yesterday, and another man claims to have found them in such numbers in shallow water in the Dungeness that he threw them out with a pitchfork and soon got fish enough to last for a month.—Fort Townsend Leader.

Sharks to Long Island Sound.
An unusual number of large sharks was reported during September in Long Island and Fisher's Island sounds. To these the name of man eater is generally applied. As a matter of fact, however, the true man eating shark (Carcharodon carolinianus) is rarely seen on our coast. This species grows to a length of twenty-five feet and to the weight of one ton, being surpassed in size only by the basking shark. It is a relative of the enormous shark whose teeth occur fossil in the phosphate beds of South Carolina. Any shark measuring nine or ten feet in length is liable to be called a man eater, and not without warrant, for all of them will attack man with slight provocation or when suffering from hunger.—Forest and Stream.

His Distinguishing Characteristic.
Fangle (to Crinkle, Yalevard, '99)—By the way, I saw a man from your college at a summer resort. He was carrying everything befofe him.
Crinkle (proudly)—Yes, sir. That is a distinguishing characteristic of our men. What was he doing?
Fangle—Acting as waiter in the dining room.—Harper's Bazar.

Gutta serena is the gum of the percha tree, which grows in the Malayian islands and that locality. The price of this article has more than doubled within two years, chiefly because of the wastefulness of the natives in collecting the gum by telling the trees and the increased demand for it in insulating electric wires.

The peach crop of Maryland was so great that a fine crop has been left on the trees, as it would not pay to pick them. Thousands of trees will be dug up on account of the rapid spread of the yellows.

A GRAND RALLY
To be Held at Weeping Water Next Saturday Evening.
Extensive arrangements have been about completed for the grandest rally of this campaign, to be held at Weeping Water next Saturday evening. Hon. A. M. Post, republican candidate for judge of the supreme court, and J. L. Webster, will be the orators for the occasion.

It is the desire of the republicans of this place that Plattsmouth be well represented and negotiations are pending with the M. P. road by which it is absolutely certain that free transportation will be secured for all that desire to go. Mr. Webster will arrive in this city on the flyer and accompany the Plattsmouth delegation to Weeping Water. The services of the B. & M. band have been secured expressly for the occasion. The train will leave the M. P. station shortly after 5 p. m. Judge Sullivan is entitled to credit for the enterprise exhibited in working up the excursion.

"An American Boy."
The three-act musical comedy, "An American Boy," will be seen for the first time before a Plattsmouth audience at Waterman's opera house Thursday evening, Oct. 29. The company has just closed a successful engagement at the People's theatre, Chicago, and the papers of that city speak well of the performance. The comedy is a new departure to the stage, and is void of all sensation, the character of the boy part in the play being manly and bold.

Music, singing, dancing and refined specialties are a sparkling feature of the performance, and the American Boy Trio, the Union Quartette and the many new features make the new comedy a brilliant success.

During the play the following specialties will be introduced:
Act I.—Song and chorus, "Only a Boy," by Willie McDermott. Act II.—Dance Imagination, Frankie St. John; "The Tramp," Geo. K. Robinson; the universal favorite, Lizzie Anderson, in her specialties; ballad—"The Street Singer," Harry N. Welch; "The Sewing Girls," Misses Parkhurst, St. John and Ardine. Act III.—Original medley, introducing national airs by entire company; Spanish dance, ballad and chorus, by Harry N. Welch; the Union Quartette; the American Boy Trio; the Four Rubes, and many new and novel features.

A Social.
There will be a game social Friday evening, Oct. 30, at the residence of V. V. Leonard on Sixth and Locust streets. The proceeds will be devoted to the interests of the commercial class of the high school. Everybody invited. 21

THERE ARE,
Beautiful words never spoken,
Whispers of cheer that might save
Hearts drifting, weary and broken,
Down to the night of the grave,
Silence more deadly than passion,
Glances that slander can send,
Fram'd in the world's devilish fashion,
To murder the heart of a friend.

Looks, spotted with impeaching,
Souls lying crum'd on the plain,
With tear frozen eyelids beseeching
The touch of love's sunlight again,
Burses to bear for the weaker,
Jaws to dig from God's mine;
And gems, fairer still, to the seeker
In the angel's tears that shine.

Within us the soul's silent treasure
Waiting the kiss of the light,
Sweet scented blossoms of pleasure
Our fingers may cull from the night,
Fruit shining ripe on toll's mountain,
Pearls that sleep under life's sea;
Music in God's laughing fountains
Undress'd of by you or by me.

Larks singing down in love's meadow,
Throats that pipe by the hill;
Out of time's darkness and shadow,
Whispers that comfort and thrill,
Voices within ever singing,
Melody softens'd by tears,
The phoenix of hope at last springing
Sereas from the ashes of years.
—J. E. Parks in Detroit Free Press.

Greeley Before the Camera.
Horace Greeley dreaded the camera more than any man I ever saw. He was brought to my studio by Whitelaw Reid and Sam Sinclair, famous in his day as one of the great workers on The Tribune. The great editor had just been nominated for the presidency of the United States. He came into my studio with an armful of papers, threw himself carelessly in the chair, adjusted his glasses, turned to the editorial page of The Tribune, began reading one of his own articles, and, without raising his eyes to me, said, "Fire away!" He had a great armful of papers, which he threw on the floor at his feet. When I was ready to take the picture I posed him properly and made a very good impression. I took him in several positions, and I noticed that every time there was a moment's delay with the camera he picked up his papers and began reading with avidity.

At the same time I took a group portrait of Greeley, with Whitelaw Reid on one side and Sinclair on the other. I doubt if any of those pictures are in existence. But the photograph then made at the first sitting of Greeley alone is the one generally accepted as the best likeness. I have in my possession a letter from him acknowledging the receipt of the pictures—at least I suppose that is what it does, for it has taxed the ability of experts in chirography to decipher it. I regard it, however, as a pleasant memento of the great journalist and statesman.—A. Bogardus in Ladies' Home Journal.
