Albert Sly and Floren Waterman are Now in the Tails of the Law.

The leader of the gang who robbed the Adams express company at Glendale on the evening of November 30 is under arrest; a female accomplice is also in custody and the capture of the remainder of the gang seems only a matter of time.

The leader of the gang turns out to be Albert Sly, a noted convict from the Missouri penitentiary. The operation of this gang commenced last October with the robbery of the Omaha street car barn; they next appeared at Kansas City in the same month; then came the robbery of the Pacific express company on the Missouri Pacific near Omaha November 4, and the American Express robbery near West Union Junction, Wis., November 12. In all of these robberies Sly figured as leader and their engine of warfare was dynamite.

After the robbery at western Union Junction William A. Pinkerton found out that Sly, in 1883, while acting as driver for the American Express Company at St. Joseph, Mo., defaulted with a package containing $20,000. At that time, after a long search, Sly was apprehended in California by the Pinkertons. He was returned to Missouri and sentenced to seven years in the Missouri penitentiary at Jefferson City. On coming out it was learned that Sly became associated with a gang of rough burglars, who made their headquarters around Kansas City and Omaha. On the theory that Sly was possibly concerned in the robbery at Western Union Junction the Pinkertons quietly began an investigation towards locating Sly and succeeded in tracing him to St. Louis a few days previous to the Glendale robbery on the 'Frisco road.

Pinkerton's force and the force of Chief of Police Harrigan of St. Louis soon joined hands, and some days after the Glendale affair Chief Harrigan received valuable information from a furniture dealer, who furnished houses on the installment plan, concerning a woman and four men renting a house on Swan avenue in St. Louis, on the outskirts of the city. This furniture man had fitted up five house on Swan avenue and the people occupying the same had mysteriously disappeared after the robbery, leaving the furniture and everything behind them. This Chief Harrigan investigated very carefully, and it was found that the house had been occupied by a blonde woman, supposed to be the wife or mistress of one of the four men. They disappeared from the house three days after the Glendale robbery. Their baggage was traced to the depot and the check numbers showed that they were all bound west.

Chief Harrigan's men traced them to Omaha, where the party split up, taking up different routes west. Chief Harrigan's men managed to get accurate descriptions of the fugitive and Sly's identity was fixed beyond a question, as also the identity of the woman connected with the gang, Robert A. Pinkerton at this time was in California and on the eve of departure for the east, but remained and assisted the San Francisco police, who had been communicated with.

Sly had, it was ascertained, gone by way of Denver to Southern California. With this information R. A. Pinkerton went at once to San Diego and searched that place thoroughly, then going to Los Angeles, arriving there a week ago. For several days he kept up a search of the saloons, gambling houses and places of that kind without success.

Through a breakage on the railroad there had been no mail delivered for three days at Los Angeles, and on Saturday last Mr. Pinkerton, accompanied by Ross Whittaker of the San Francisco detective force, and an officer of Los Angeles, took up a watch in the postoffice and express offices at that point. All three were furnished with photographs and accurate descriptions of Sly. On the afternoon of Saturday Mr. Pinkerton observed a man in the postoffice at Los Angeles who answered the description of Sly and resembled the old photograph which he had closely. Tapping him on the shoulder and stepping up and taking his hand, so that he could not attempt to use a gun, as Sly is a desperate character, Mr. Pinkerton addressed him by the name of Sly.

Sly denied his identity, and said his name was A. S. Denton. That settled it in Mr. Pinkerton's mind at once, for Sly's right name is Adelbert Denton Sly. He was at once taken into custody and searched. In his possession was found $2,000 and a lot of personal property, and on his person was found the gold watch taken from the person of Messenger Mulrennan of the Adams Express, after he had been injured by the explosion of dynamite at the robbery November 30, at Glendale, Mo. Sly tried to throw the watch away, but it was recovered by Pinkerton.

The search of the house on Swan avenue gave Chief Harrigan positive evidence against the thieves, as in the house was found parts of paper and other evidence taken from the express car which had not been thoroughly destroyed.

The finding of the messenger's watch in Sly's pocket fixes the crime onto him very strongly.

Abelbert D. Sly, who is better known in the crook fraternity as Bert Sly, is a native of Wisconsin, was born and raised near Oshkosh. After committing the express robbery in St. Joseph, for which he was sent to the penitentiary in 1884, his family moved to St. Joseph, Mo., where they now reside. Since his release from the penitentiary in Missouri he has been twice in custody in St. Joseph, once for highway robbery and once for burglary, and he is at the present time a fugitive from justice from St. Joseph, where his wife and three children now reside. His father and mother now live at Independence, Mo. His avowed ambition was to be a second "Jessie James." The desperado is 35 year of age, five feet six and a half inches high, weighs 140 pounds, dark complexion, brown eyes and black hair, and generally wears a dark mustache. He has a scar above the left eye and two false front upper teeth. Aside from his disfigured his utter disregard of the distinction of mean and true, his most notable characteristic is his singularly abstemious habits.

HERE is what the manufacturer says in regard to Solid Silver Metal goods and Solid Nickel Silverware: "There has been a growing demand for years for a grade of Spoons and Forks to take the place of Solid silver and plate ware. We have experimented for some time to attain this end, and are now able to offer the public our Rogers' Metal and Rogers' Solid Nickel Silver. We guarantee this metal superior to any Nickel Silver manufactured and have the greatest confidence in assuring our customers that this ware is inferior to service only to solid silver. It is a beautiful white color, is highly polished and can hardly be distinguished from pure silver. We recommend this ware especially for hotels, restaurants and boarding houses, as it will stand more hard usage than any other metal; is very tough and hard; will hold its color and will outwear any plating ever manufactured. All our customers know Rogers' ware by reputation. This firm have manufactured plated ware since 1865, and their name is never put on goods that are not of a high grade, so our customer can rest assured that they are getting some very desirable goods when they get goods under their brand. Come in early and secure a share of these goods before it is too late.

We Guarantee our Prices to be the Lowest and Invite Competition.
