CONGRESSMEN AT-LARGE

The states that gain representatives in congress under the new apportionment will do well to elect them at large...

There is no constitutional necessity for the election of congressmen by districts. They are apportioned to the states as states...

It is a trite but correct remark that, as the human form has been molded by nature, the best shape is undoubtedly that which she has given it.

STUDENTS AS RESPONSIBLE BEINGS

In discussing certain evil prevailing among the students at Harvard University it should not be forgotten that the president and faculty of the college have certain very well defined views as to the relations existing between the institution and the students.

idea is that the students are men, and must be punished only by the consequences of their offenses...

If parents want their boys under moral surveillance they must send them to some other and smaller college than that at Cambridge—New York World.

THE said downfall of Daniel S. Soper, the democratic secretary of state of Michigan has had for more than thirty years, should be a sufficient warning to the voters of all other states.

KAISER WILHELM is said to be contemplating a visit to America. He should postpone his visit until next year and take in the World's Fair if he is anxious to see France knocked out.

Those who wear these appliances of tight lacing often complain that they cannot sit upright without them—sometimes, indeed, compelled to wear them during all the twenty-four hours; a fact which proves to what an extent such articles weaken the muscles of the trunk.

A Negro Servant's Wit.

A copy of the Salem (Mass.) Gazette of Aug. 12, 1788, contains the following anecdote: A gentleman in the state of Connecticut regularly attended public worship on the Lord's day with all his family...

INVESTING MONEY.

VALUABLE OPINIONS ON THE BEST WAY TO INVEST $100.

Varying Ideas of Well Known Capitalists. Savings Banks and Building and Loan Associations Recommended as the Safest Places to Keep Money.

Hundreds of thousands of thrifty young men and women throughout the United States, who are ambitious to secure a competency for their old age, are at a loss to know how to invest their small savings to advantage.

With a view of obtaining some opinions on the subject a reporter called a few days ago upon some of the most prominent and successful business men of the country, noted for their shrewd investments, and asked them to give their opinions of the best way to invest $100.

Mr. Henry Clews, who has earned a reputation for his sound judgment in all matters relating to investments, said: "The best investment for $100 is to place it in a good savings bank and make the foundation to build upon by frequent additions to it."

When a man is known to own his home it gives him a status in the community greater than anything else. It also gives him an established credit which, when obtained, if judiciously and conservatively used, will make it much easier to acquire this world's goods.
