THE CHILIAN TROUBLE

is creating alarm on the Pacific coast as it now looks as if war with Chili was inevitable. The Montauk has been ordered got ready for service as soon as possible. The Montauk was built during the civil war and served during the latter part of that struggle in the naval campaign on the Mississippi river. She has a single revolving turret, in which are mounted two fifteen-inch rifled guns, which are formidable weapons for use in coast and harbor defense. It is understood that as soon as Montauk's machinery has been connected and made ready for operation, similar work will be done on the Nahant and Jason.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

The national committee of the prohibition party has called the national convention of that party to nominate candidates for president and vice president of the United States, and to transact such other business as may properly come before it, to assemble in Music hall, St. Louis, Mo., June 29. The basis of representation has been fixed as follows: Each state entitled to four delegates at large. Each state is also entitled to twice as many delegates as the number of congressmen which the state is entitled to elect in 1892 (this is the new apportionment). Each state may send one additional delegate for every 1,000 votes, or the major fraction thereof, cast for Fisk and Brooks in 1888. Each territory is entitled to two delegates. The District of Columbia is entitled to two delegates.

REPEALING RECIPROCIETY.

The bill introduced by Congressman Breckenridge, of Kentucky, is a prominent piece in the tariff crazy quilt which the democrats in congress are at work upon. The republicans can not hope for better political fortune than that this bill be repealed. Repealing reciprocity, repealing equitable trade relation with other nations! Repealing the clause of the tariff law by which the United States is enabled to demand from other countries fair treatment of its products and special privileges for certain products of this country! The democrats are welcome to the honor of repealing this clause of the McKinley law. The republicans wish all speed to the congressman from Kentucky. They beseech and urge the democrats to push the bill with all the vigor possible.

REPEALING RECIPROCIETY.

But how inconsistent is the democratic party! For nearly a year and a half they have been clamoring that reciprocity was free trade. As its provisions have been hailed by the people, as under its operation foreign markets have been enlarged and others opened for the first time to American products, the democrats have been crying that reciprocity was stolen from the democrats, that it was free trade. But now they are going to repeal it. If reciprocity is free trade, why repeal it? Does not the democratic party believe in free trade? Either the democrats were mistaken when they called reciprocity free trade, or else they are mad now and like the madmen of old are tearing themselves to pieces. They had better get together in congress and map out some policy and stick to it. These bills for the repeal of everything fast and loose is going to make mischief for the bourbon party.—Iowa State Register.

TRADE FLOURISHING.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: It was suggested two weeks ago that the exports in December were likely to be extraordinarily large. The preliminary reports just issued indicate that the exports in that month were probably the largest ever known, for while no increase appears in cotton, and exports of provisions, cattle, and oil were slightly less than a year ago, a gain of $20,000,000 appears in breadstuffs, making the net increase in principal items $17,540,854, or nearly 25 per cent, indicating that the aggregate exports for the month will probably exceed $116,000,000, against about $98,000,000 last year, when the amount was greater than it had ever been in any month. The exports of flour increased 50 per cent, and exports of wheat are 150,000 bushels, against 4,800,000 bushels last year, while exports of cotton are 437,000 pounds greater in quantity, though no increase appears in value owing to the low prices. The enormous exports overshadow all other features in the commercial situation. They insure large supplies of money, if ever needed, but at present the markets are everywhere well supplied except at southern points and better supplied there than a week ago. Treasury disbursements have been large, and there is no reason to look for a lack in the supply of money. Another fact of large importance is that the iron output was not diminished in December, as is usual, owing to the stoppage of furnaces during the holidays, but was 188,952 tons weekly, against 188,135 December 1. The market is fairly active, though the enormous output gives buyers an advantage, and Alabama and Virginia iron is offered at low prices. Copper is flat, and in tin there is little change, but lead is weak at 4.20 cents, and the market for coal very dull on account of the heavy output. The wool production last year is estimated considerably larger than that of the year before, but the stocks on hand are somewhat larger, indicating that the consumption in 1891 has been about the same as in 1890. The market shows no important change, and just at this season none is to be expected.

Wonderful.

E. W. Sawyer, of Rochester, Wis., a prominent dealer in general merchandise, and who runs several peddling wagons, had one of his horses badly cut and injured with a lariat. The wound would not heal. The horse became lame and was a nonwithstanding the attention and application of various remedies. A friend handed Sawyer some of Haller's Barb Wire Liniment, the most wonderful thing ever saw to heal such wounds. He applied it only three times and the sore was completely healed. Equally good for all sores, cuts, bruises, and wounds. For sale by all druggists.

Safe and Reliable.

"In buying a cough remedy for children," suggests H. A. Walker, a prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "never to be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's because I have found it to be safe and reliable. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by E. G. Fricke & Co."

DOWNING HIS RIVAL.

It Was a Mean Trick, But All is Fair in Love.

It was night—sweet, delicious night—the crisp, clear moonlight night of the temperate zone—one of those nights on which all the poetry in man's and woman's nature rises to the surface, and on which there is naught but love and calm delight in the heart.

It was therefore strange, says the N. Y. Press, to behold a young couple facing each other and regarding each other with looks so cold and chilling that an iceberg would have seemed like a furnace in their vicinity.

"I know why you wish me to leave you," he said in sharp and metallic tones, even audible of whom seemed to fall from his lips with a click.

"Why?" she asked with a toss of her queenly head.

"Because," he hissed, "because you expect a visit from my rival."

"What if I do?" she said. Then throwing a colder glitter into her eyes than had previously illumined them, she added: "Perhaps he loves me better than you do."

"Oh, he loves you," laughed the youth sardonically. "Without doubt he loves you, for I've heard him praising you."

"Heard him praising me?" The cold glitter left her eyes. "What did he say?"

"He said you were pretty—yes, pretty. I do not seek to hide the fact from you."

"He said I was pretty!"

"Yes, he said you were pretty—almost as pretty as your friend, Miss Somely."

Her face became deathly white.

"Almost as pretty as Miss Somely?" she repeated mechanically.

She was silent while you could have counted twenty, or perhaps twenty-one.

Then she said: "Hadn't we better go in, John, instead of staying out here at the garden gate?"

And as they passed out of the moonlight into the house he said softly to himself: "I've cooked his goose!"

Plenty of Her.

A Woodland beauty is thus described by a California paper: "A remarkably pleasant young lady, with a sweet face and amiable disposition, is engaged as waitress at the tables of the Craft hotel. We always envy her when we see her laugh, there is so much of her that seems to be having a good time. She is real pretty, 17 years old, and weighs over 300 pounds."

It has been calculated that a bee must suck 218,750 flowers for every ounce of honey gathered.

Cough Following the Grip.

Many persons, who have recovered from the grippe are now troubled with a persistent cough. Chamberlain's cough remedy will promptly loosen this cough and relieve the lungs, effecting a permanent cure in a very short time. 25 and 50 cent bottle for sale by E. G. Fricke & Co.

ERE is what the manufacturer says in regard to Solid Silver Metal goods and Solid Nickel Silverware:

"There has been a growing demand for years for a grade of Spoons and Forks to take the place of Solid silver and plate ware. We have experimented for some time to attain this end, and are now able to offer the public our Rogers' Metal and Rogers' Solid Nickel Silver. We guarantee this metal superior to any Nickel Silver manufactured and have the greatest confidence in assuring our customers that this ware is inferior to service only to solid silver. It is a beautiful white color, is highly polished and especially for hotels, restaurants and boarding houses, as it will stand more hard usage than any other metal; is very tough and hard; will hold its color and will not wear any plateware ever manufactured." All our customers know Rogers' ware by reputation. This firm have manufactured plated ware since 1865, and their name is never put on goods that are not of a high grade, so our customer can rest assured that they are getting some very desirable goods when they get goods under their brand. Come in early and secure a share of these goods before it is too late.
