The following is taken from Tuesday's Lincoln News: "Owing to the intensely cold weather last evening the attendance at the A. O. U. W. memorial meeting at the Baptist church was not large and the exercises were somewhat curtailed.

Walter Houseworth, of No. 80, presided, and the Easterday Bros. rendered some excellent music. Walter Hoge read a paper prepared by H. C. McArthur, on the death of No. 9, and G. D. Chapman spoke of the death of No. 15. Grand Master Tate made the principal address, speaking especially of John J. Upchurch, founder of the order, who died five years previous to that day."

The Volunteer Firemen of the state of Nebraska held two business meetings yesterday at Fremont. At the forenoon meeting little was done except to hear the report of the committee on credentials and effect an organization for business. A resolution was introduced endorsing the appointment of Geo. F. Corcoran, as a proper and competent person, by the director general of the world's fair, to arrange for a complete exhibit of fire-fighting appliances and their workings at the world's fair to be held in Chicago in 1933. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year. W. H. Havens, Fremont, president; H. L. Spaulding, Norfolk, first vice president; S. H. Sorbeger, Wahoo, second vice president; Geo. F. Corcoran, York, secretary; A. J. Tomlinson, Red Cloud, treasurer.

A Large Ice Crop. This morning a HERALD reporter took a ride out on the river where they are cutting ice for next summer. He first visited the place where H. C. McMaken & Son are cutting ice, at the mouth of the Platte river, and watched them load the ice. They loaded about five wagons every ten minutes. It is done by hitching a horse to a long string of cakes of ice in what they call a chute and pulling them up onto a long platform, from where they are loaded into the wagons, loading from five to eight wagons at a time. Mr. McMaken said they would put up about 8,000 tons of ice, and that it was the best ice that had been put up in this city for years.

We next visited the place where F. S. White is cutting ice, about opposite the B. & M. depot. Here they were also getting excellent ice, but they had from ten to fifteen wagons waiting to be loaded, as they load by hand, two men lifting a cake out of the water and putting it into the wagon, making very slow work of it.

We then drove further down to where Wm. Weber's men were cutting ice. They also had a slow way of loading but did it faster than Mr. White's men.

ACREED TO DISAGREE.

That Was the Verdict of the Jury in the Ellenbaum-Ellstein Case.

All day yesterday Judge Ramsey was occupied in hearing the replevin case of Ellenbaum vs. Bilstein. Numerous witnesses were examined and a good deal of conflicting testimony was given. A number of butchers were put on the stand to testify as to whether a man could go into another meat shop and tell whether a certain hide belonged to beef hanging in the shop. They all testified that it could not be done. Ellenbaum introduced as evidence the head and hide of the cow in controversy. S. L. Thomas and his son both testified that they thought the hide belonged to the animal they sold Ellenbaum, as they remembered the cow in question had a white spot on the back and also white spots on the right front leg, near the hoof. Bilstein swore, as did also Kinkead, that he purchased the cow of a couple of men, but did not know their names, but said they lived nine miles southwest of Plattsmouth. Bilstein also testified that he had made no special effort to find the man whom he bought the cattle of, to prove where he got them. Ellenbaum testified that he had lost two head of cattle, and Kildow, Bilstein's hired man, testified that he had always helped Bilstein butcher, but there were two cattle killed that he did not help. According to Kildow's testimony, these two were killed about the time Ellenbaum says he lost his two. The plaintiff was represented by A. N. Sullivan and the defendant by S. P. Vanaika and Mathew Gering. The case was given to the jury, which was composed of June Black, E. R. Todd, L. D. Bennett, H. M. Gault and Ed Oliver, last night at 8 o'clock. The jury was out all night and at 9:30 o'clock this morning they announced to Judge Ramsey that they had failed to agree on a verdict, and were discharged.

The jury stood three for defendant and two for plaintiff. The jury was discharged and the case will have to be tried again.

A nover trial has been called for Monday a. 10 a. m.

Supreme Court Decisions.

Alexander vs. Meyer, appeal from Cass county, affirmed. Opinion by Chief Justice Maxwell.

In an action to foreclose a tax lien for taxes paid in 1872, 1873 and 1874, the court below found the tax deeds void and rendered a decree for the taxes and interest. One of the defendants filed no answer and the other attempted to plead adverse possession, but failed to allege that he had been in the exclusive possession of the property. Held, that the statute of limitations must be pleaded either by demurrer or answer or its protection will be waived.

2. No error appearing in the record the judgement is affirmed.

TROUBLE BREWING.

An Illinois Man Locates His Wife Here, Living With Another Man.

About five years ago there lived in Niota, Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Schneider, and about that time it is reported that Schneider got into trouble and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. While he was serving his time his wife left and he was unable to locate her.

About two weeks ago Chief of Police Fry received the following letter from him, dated at Niota, Illinois:

TO CITY MARSHAL:

DEAR SIR:—I would like to inform you that I am looking for a man and woman named Ed Wedmore, and the woman is my wife; she went away with him nearly four years ago. I had lost all track of them. But it is hinted to me that they resided in your town; I want them arrested for adultery if they can be found. Now if you know of them, arrest them and notify me and I will come out there and identify them. GEO. J. SCHNEIDER.

The chief of police after receiving the letter wrote him the description of the parties, which he furnished. After a short search he located her at Bethlehem, living with a man named Ed Wedmore. Word was telegraphed to Schneider and he came in this morning on the flyer.

Mrs. Schneider never secured a divorce from her husband and has never been married to Wedmore.

Schneider says he had no children when he was living with his wife but now his wife has two, aged respectively two and one year.

Wedmore is working for F. S. White, cutting ice. The woman is attractive and good looking.

Schneider went over this morning to see his wife and see if he could not effect a reconciliation. He informed the chief of police that he would return, but as we go to press nothing has been heard of him.

INSTANTLY KILLED

A Fatal Accident Occurred on the M. P. Near Union.

An accident resulting in the death of Frank Snell occurred yesterday morning. The victim, with his brother, Wm. Snell, and C. E. Huston, were passengers on a Missouri Pacific train. They went out on the platform to take a drink and passed the bottle around. Frank leaned out from the platform to look ahead as the train was crossing the Weeping Water river between Wyoming and Union, when his head struck the bridge timbers and he fell, striking the ice below the bridge. His death was instantaneous. Snell was about thirty years of age, was a single man and worked on a farm near Talmage.

Mr. Sherman Kneel, formerly of this city, now manager of the telephone exchange at Hastings, Neb., was married this morning at Columbus to Miss Eva Amberger.
