Mr. Oldham was taking them to the Nebraska City market.

BASE BALL LEAGUE

A Strong State League Can Be Formed in Nebraska.

WILL PLATTSMOUTH BE IN IT?

Fremont, Grand Island, Lincoln, Beatrice, Nebraska City, Hastings and Kearney are Other Probable Members.

With the first breath of spring, the thoughts of the base ball enthusiasts turn lightly to the green sward and the festive bleaching boards. Again in his memory visions of the fateful day when the local team pounded the wax out of the "State Champions" come again like a beautiful dream, and sad recollections of the time when the aforesaid local team was pounded into the earth by a gang of hoboes from the realms of the Minneboohoo or Murray haunt his waking hours. So he journeys through life. He yearns at all time for the wild energy "the game." One of these enthusiasts writing from Grand Island to the Omaha Bee yesterday unfolded to the "fans" of their state a grand scheme for a state base ball league. He suggests that various cities send to the base ball editor of the Bee the names of some cranks on the base ball question who are fit and suitable persons to form a strong league. He names among other cities Plattsmouth, Lincoln, Grand Island, Fremont, Beatrice, Nebraska City, Kearney and Hastings as suitable places. THE HERALD is of a strong opinion that Plattsmouth ought to be in it. We had a fine team last year and with proper management ought to have made money. Under Manager "Whitey" Miller we flew high and our team was a source of great pride to our citizens. Under sundry other persons we flew low and became a disrupted and bursted corporation. Only one bright spot is visible after our wild career under "Whitey" and that is our successful string of defeats in the Black Hills. We will never go back. An opaque curtain will forever separate us from the wild Indians of the Hills. Our sad hearts will never forget the cruel way they treated us. With a good team under a good management this year the town ought to be generous enough to keep it up. As for suitable persons to represent this city at a convention, we would suggest "Whitey" Miller, T. S. Clifford, Sam Patterson or innumerable of our other citizens, and by way of suggestion we may add that Plattsmouth would be a good place to hold a convention. We have the room and the capacity to hold 'em and we would make it pleasant for them if they would meet here.

OUR SILVER ANNIVERSARY.

Two Dates in May Selected on Which to Celebrate Nebraska's Quarter Centennial.

The committee on the silver anniversary of the state of Nebraska held another enthusiastic meet Friday evening in the office of C. A. Atkinson, in the Montgomery block. An exchange of views on the best date for the proposed celebration developed a substantial unanimity of opinion on the desirability of holding it in the early summer, and Wednesday and Thursday the 25th and 26th of May were finally settled upon for the exercises. The 25th will, it is thought, be largely devoted to the library programme, while the 26th will be given over to parades and other public demonstrations of the progress and strength of the commonwealth.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Gillilan, Griffith and Butler was appointed to interview the city government and ascertain what assistance could be expected from that source. The committees appointed at the last meeting to perform various duties were instructed to proceed with their duties without delay. So much interest in the project had been expressed, not only in the city, but in every part of the state, that it was felt desirable to proceed rapidly in order that the greatest demonstration ever seen in Nebraska might be arranged. Every committee member felt that this could be done and substantial progress was made toward that end last evening. The next session will be held on call of the chairman.—Lincoln Journal.

W. F. Fox of Milton, California, writes THE HERALD under date of January 20 that he is busily engaged sowing wheat; and that the thermometer stands seventy degrees above in the shade. Quite a difference between California and Nebraska climate.

Midnight Alarm.

It is seldom that our people are given the opportunity to witness a genuine metropolitan theatre company here when it does come their way they should turn out and give it a patronage like it deserves. "The Midnight Alarm" is one of the best theatrical organizations on the road and a full house should greet it on its appearance here next Friday. The company never plays in small towns but in order to fill in vacant dates between Kansas City and Omaha they have given this city a date. They come here from Nebraska City where they show Thursday. If we are correctly informed, the villagers of Nebraska City have been spreading abroad the rumor that this city was a dead duck in the show line. We want to inform our misguided friends that they have a wheel in their head on this point. Plattsmouth is still very much in it in the show line and we are confident that next Friday's house will show it.

She Was a Bright Little Girl.

In a St. Louis parlor car the father sat on one side of the aisle and the mother and their eight-year-old daughter sat on the other side. The father was a good-looking young man and there was nothing about his appearance to show that he was connected in any way with the little girl and her mother across the aisle. The mother was reading a novel; the little girl was reading a spelling-book. The pretty young woman in the next seat cast sheep's eyes at the father, who looked flattered but embarrassed. Then the young woman coughed and the father winked. The whole carload of passengers except the mother saw the little play. The eight-year-old daughter watched it from behind her book. When it had gone far enough she read aloud:

"The cat sees the rat." "Hush," said the mother, "read to yourself, dear," and she returned to her novel. The passengers sniggered. Presently the good-looking young woman turned to the father and said with the sweetest of smiles: "Won't you please fix this window blind? The sun annoys me."

The father blushed and stepped over and his ingenuous little girl read in the same bold, clear tones:

"See, the cat has caught the rat." Some of the passengers were still grinning when the train drew into town.
