ter thirty-two days' sail, or within one day of the fastest passage on record. She is square-rigged on four masts, but carries fore-and-aft canvas on the fifth mast. Her masts are only 160 feet high; nevertheless, she looks heavily sparred. This leviathan is fitted with a cellular double bottom, and can carry 2,000 tons of water ballast thus reducing the expense of ballasting to a minimum.

The largest British ship is the Liverpool, of 3338 tons, built of iron, one the Clyde. Sne is 323 feet long, 48 feet broad and 28 feet deep. Her four masts are each square rigged, 40 but she is far from clumsy aloft, is easily handled, and has run fourteen knots an hour for a whole day. We are much impressed by her exceptional size, but for beauty she compares unfavorably with such a ship as the Thermopylae, or a large wooden-built ship of America having bright, lofty spars and THE Chicago Inter Ocean says decks as white as a hound's tooth. Iron decks do no lend themselves readily to adornment. Next in size is the Palgrave, of 3078 tons.

The United States ship Shenandoah, of Bath, Maine, built by Messrs, Sewal & Co., of that port, is the largest wooden vessel in existence. She is 3,258 tons register, and will carry about 5,000 tons of heavy cargo. She has just left San Francisco, Cal., with 112,000 centals of wheat worth $173,000. This is the Bs Ramsey
