Solomon Ward, an old-time resident and well-to-do farmer of Cass county, residing near Greenwood, was helping shell corn Thursday and not feeling well he went into the house, but had scarcely entered when he fell dead on the floor. The cause is attributed to heart disease.—Elmwood Echo.

A special meeting of the legal voters of school district No. 32, has been called for Saturday, February 13th at the school house to decide upon plans for an addition or extension to the present building; also to consider plans for a heating apparatus to heat said building. All legal voters should make it a point to be present at the meeting.—Louisville Journal.

Nebraska Press Association.

The Nebraska Press association closed its twentieth annual session last night. The total enrollment was nearly double that of any previous meeting of the association.

Columbus was chosen as the place for holding the next session. A resolution was passed favoring liberal financial aid for making a creditable exhibit at the world's fair.

Officers for the ensuing year were chosen as follows: F. G. Simmons, Seward Reporter, president; Ross Hammond, Fremont Tribune secretary; C. M. Hubner, Nebraska City News, Edgar Howard, Papillion Times, M. H. Barber, Fullerton Journal, A. C. Jordan, Beatrice Express, H. M. Crane, Bloomington Echo, L. J. Simmons, Harrison Journal, vice presidents. Delegates to the national association at San Francisco in May were chosen as follows: T. E. Sedgewick, J. S. Hildebrand, R. H. Wahlquist, S. R. Razez, C. W. Hyatt, E. W. Correll and A. S. Bixbey. A carriage drive about the city and a visit to the normal college and the manufacturing institutions were features of the afternoon. The session closed with a grand banquet last evening.

THE EAST BLOCKADE.

Getting the Grain Which Chicago has Just got rid of.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Grain is not moving with the vigor of a month ago. In many respects the traffic is unsatisfactory. Little grain is coming into Chicago and even that is greater than the eastern roads can handle. Two-thirds of the latter are now badly blocked. The alleged cause is severe weather in trunk line territory. There is a constant cry for empties. The east is getting the grain, but fails to return the cars. Much of the traffic sent east is stored on side tracks, anywhere and everywhere, between Chicago and New York. The operating departments have been overburdened. They have taken more grain than they can dispatch. The result is a violent case of indigestion. Freight in sight now creates nausea, whereas it has usually been hailed with delight.

When the western lines beheld a few weeks ago that the eastern roads were getting into shape they issued orders to again load grain for the seaboard via Chicago. Receipts have overwhelmed the carriers from this city and a second lull has come to the west. Moreover, the demand for cars in the west has also diminished of its own accord. All grain in Kansas is going to New Orleans and that city, also, is blockaded. Nebraska now has two great markets, New Orleans and Chicago, while a considerable percentage of its products escapes by intermediate routes. Baltimore is blocked and Philadelphia partially closed. It is no slight task to get the present grain crop to its ultimate market. The railroads are realizing the fact

AMUSEMENTS.

A Big House Sees "The Midnight Alarm"—A Play Full of Fine Acting.

One of the best audiences that this city has turned out for some time graced the Waterman last night to witness the presentation of "The Midnight Alarm." The audience was amply repaid by witnessing one of the finest theatrical performances given here for some time.

The play and the company were both of the highest grade. The scenic effects of the play were very fine, especially the East river bridge in the first act and the drawbridge in the third. The company was very evenly balanced, all the performers being well up in their particular lines.

Robert Nevill as "Harry Westmore," Frederick Julian as "Silas Carrington," George F. Hall as "E. Chippington Chaser" and Edith Julian as "Sparkle," the news girl, were superb delineators of their respective characters. If the company should ever re-visit this place there is no doubt that even a better house than last night's will greet them.

Another of the entertaining features was the fine work of the orchestra. The present combination is the best this city has had for a long time and it behooves our citizens to turn out and encourage it to still live. Their music last night was on a par with any heard here this winter.

The next attraction is "Below Zero." Saturday, February 6.

Department Commander

As the majority of state officers and those enlisted in the state service are old soldiers, it is natural that considerable interest should be manifested at the capitol in the election of a commander of the G. A. R. departments of Nebraska, who will be chosen February 18, when the state encampment is held at Columbus. At the last election there was little or no contest, but this year the array of candidates is confusing. Among those mentioned prominently are Judge A. H. Church, of North Platte, Church Howe of Auburn, Judge Hayward and A. Allee of Nebraska City, J. H. Culver, of Milford, C. E. Burmeister of Omaha, General Dilworth of Hastings, Johnson, of Osceola and Bob La Fontaine, of Kearney. If there are others in the field they are not known to the public.—Lincoln Journal.

A Brakeman Injured.

At about six o'clock this morning D. P. Millikin, a brakeman with Conductor Geo. Richardson, had his hand mashed while coupling cars at Pacific Junction. The injured man was brought to this city and Dr. T. P. Livingston found it necessary to amputate the thumb on the left hand. The first two fingers were badly mashed but there is hopes of saving them. Mr. Millikin is an old employe of the B. & M., a married man and lives at Lincoln.

The state of Nebraska vs. Ed Wiley was called in police court this morning. After selecting a jury the case was continued until Tuesday, February 2 at 10 o'clock. Following is the jury selected: W. T. Cole, Frank Davis, Wm. Herold, Claus Brackenfield, June Black and Tom Patterson.

World's Fair Notes.

The Hon. W. C. P. Breckinridge of Kentucky, according to present plans, will deliver the oration dedicatory of the exposition buildings, on October 12, 1892.

The United States Potters' association has applied for 32,000 square feet in the manufactures building, and announces its intention of making an exhibit that will not be surpassed by any showing made by the famed potteries of Europe.

The Columbian Navigation company has been incorporated with a capital of $500,000 for the purpose of running steamboats to Jackson park during the exposition, for the accommodation of visitors. It is believed that many thousands of visitors will prefer the lake route in reaching the exposition.

The Chemical National bank of Chicago has been granted the privilege of establishing and operating a bank on the exposition grounds. It will afford to exhibitors and visitors all the conveniences and safeguards of a metropolitan bank, including safety deposit vaults.

Secretary Dickinson estimates that $125,000 will be necessary for the expenses of the national commission for the year ending June 30, 1893, divided as follows: Two meetings of the commission, $30,000; salaries, $50,000; rent, $5,000; board of control and committees, $10,000; stationery, printing, etc., $10,000; expenses connected with admission of foreign exhibits, $20,000.

It is the intention to have one room in Delaware's exposition

"Below Zero."

The opera house was so well filled last night that the atmosphere was certainly not below zero, although the company was not in point of merit, as they rank high in the minds of all who were present. "Below Zero" is a pretty little "skit" with just enough of plot to make it interesting and to hold it together to introduce numerous specialties, all of which were first-class, the musical olio especially. The conversational part of the play was very witty and the make-up of some of the characters excruciatingly funny. The Rentfrow's Co. can always be assured of a good house whenever they come to Little Rock.—Little Rock (Ark.) Democrat.
