I feel it my duty to say a few words in regard to Ely's Cream Balm, and I do so entirely without solicitation. I have used it more or less half a year, and have found it to be most admirable. I have suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since I was a little boy and I never hoped for cure, but Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many of my acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

If a well could be dug to the depth of forty-six miles, the density of the air at the bottom would be as great as that of quicksilver. By the same law a cubic inch of air taken 4,000 miles above the earth's surface would expand sufficiently to fill a sphere 2,000,000,000 miles in diameter!

Beards were at various times taxed in England, and the sheriff of Canterbury paid 3 shillings and 4 pence for wearing a beard. In the first year of Elizabeth's reign every beard of above a fortnight's growth was taxed 3 shillings and 6 pence, but the law was too absurd to be enforced. Peter the Great imposed a tax of a rouble upon beards, but it was soon canceled.

THE BOY WAS RIGHT.

He Knew the Proper Way to Eat, While His Father Did Not.

They came into the restaurant, a man and a boy, says the Detroit Free Press. The former wore the air of a business man out for his noonday lunch, and as it was Saturday it was easy to guess the boy was taking half his holiday helping in the office. The man sat with a preoccupied air while waiting to be served, and answered the boy's questions in an absent-minded way, which showed that he had not thrown business cares off. The boy chatted about this, snickered about that, fumbled his knife and fork until he dropped them, and eyed every waiter who passed with a quizzical stare at the contents of his tray. And the manner of their eating was as different as the manner of their waiting.

The man hustled his food down his throat as if he neither enjoyed it at the time nor expected to later. The boy took time to arrange his side dishes to his own notion, those he liked best nearest to hand, and then went to work leisurely to take a sip of this, a taste of that, or to season another to suit. He may have taken large mouthfuls—boys will—but he took plenty of time to talk between bites—boys will also do that. The father filled his mouth and washed the food down with scalding hot coffee. The boy got his coffee sugared and creamed just to suit him, and then let it stand and cool off while he was eating. The father finished with lemon custard pie, and gave his mouth a swipe with the napkin in precisely nine and three-quarter minutes from the time he broke ground on his cold roast beef, while the boy had only just laid aside his soup-spoon and was working along toward the best parts of his chicken potpie.

"Can't wait for you, Fred," said the father impatiently, after noticing the progress of the boy and looking at his watch; "I'll go on to the postoffice and stop in as I come back," and he went to pile a fresh load of responsibility on his mind while his stomach was growling under a load of badly chosen food, hastily bolted under unfavorable conditions. When he came in five minutes later the boy sat with his knife and fork on a standstill between apple roll and rice pudding, and kept the impatient man of business waiting two whole minutes longer while he finished it and drank his coffee.

"Pretty good lunch, papa," he said cheerily. "Stuff and rubbish!" growled the man. "Always sets like lead. Afraid he won't be the man for business his father is, doctor," to a friend sitting at a table near by. "There's where Mr. Blank is wrong," remarked the doctor to his companion after the others had gone out of hearing, "and the boy is right. If he keeps on eating in that way he'll be an active, clear-headed business man ten years longer than his father will ever wear, with his bo-a-constrictor style of eating. No; the boy is right."

A Misunderstanding.

A well-dressed man, with his hat tilted back on his ruffled hair and an excited look in his eyes, entered Devoe's art store at 101 Fulton street Wednesday afternoon, says the N. Y. Sun, and stalked up to the counter, behind which several clerks were standing. The man slapped his hand imperatively on the counter. "I want a quarter of a million," he cried, "and I want it quick." The clerks turned pale and stared at the stranger. A porter slid quietly to the door to get a policeman. The well-dressed but excited stranger started at the clerks in astonishment. "What the dickens is the matter with you fellows, anyhow?" he cried. "Can't I get a quarter of a million without all of you having fits?" "Pray, sir, don't get excited," said a clerk, patting the man on the arm. "The porter has just gone after it. We can't get so much money in a second, you know." The stranger looked thoughtful a moment, then laughed, and the laugh gave the clerks another unpleasant shock. "Ha, ha!" said the stranger. "I see, I see. Don't get alarmed. I merely want paint—paint, not cash. A quart of vermilion paint." The clerks recovered their self-possession. "I beg your pardon," said one, "but you talked so fast that it sounded as if you had demanded a quarter of a million. We thought you meant dollars." The stranger got his paint and the clerks went out and treated themselves.

A Fatal Mistake.

Physicians make no more fatal mistake than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Franklin Miles, the noted Indiana specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease" which may be had free of F. G. Fricke & Co., who guarantee and recommend Dr. Miles' unequalled new Heart Cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous and organic heart disease, short breath, fluttering, pain or tenderness in the side, arm or shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, smothering, drowsy, etc. His Restorative Nervine cures headache, fits, etc.

It Should be in Every House. J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cocksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it Free trial bottles at F. G. Fricke & Co's druggstore. Large bottle, 50c and $1.00.

The girl's industrial school building at Geneva is well along toward completion, and is said to be admirably arranged for its purpose.

A Mystery Explained.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coachmen. The well-known specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nervine. Trial bottles and a fine book, containing many marvelous cures, free at F. G. Fricke & Co's, who also sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures fluttering, short breath, etc.
