It is recommended that no proxies be admitted to the convention, and that the delegates present be authorized to cast full votes of the delegation.

It is recommended that the republicans of every county in this state be requested to select their county central committee at the first county convention held in their respective counties. Said committee to serve until the county convention of 1893 be held.

DR. S. D. MERCER, Chairman.
WALT M. SEELEY, Secretary.

FIRST DISTRICT CONVENTION.
The republican electors of the first congressional district of the state of Nebraska are requested to send delegates from the several counties comprising said district to meet in convention in the city of Falls City, Wednesday, April 20, 1892, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing two delegates and two alternate delegates to the republican national convention to be held at Minneapolis June 7, 1892.

THE APPOINTMENT.
The several counties are entitled to representation as follows, being based upon the vote cast for Hon. W. J. Connell for congress in 1890. One delegate for each 100 votes and major fraction thereof and one delegate at large from each county:

| County | Del. Counties | Del. |
|---------|---------------|------|

| Total | 50 | 65 |

It is recommended that no proxies be admitted to the convention, and that the delegates present from each county cast the full vote of the delegation.

W. H. WOODWARD, Chairman.
FRANK MCCARTNEY, Secretary.

Call for Republican Primaries and City Conventions.

The republican electors of Plattsmouth City are hereby called to meet in primary convention Saturday evening, March 12, 1892, from 7 o'clock till 8, for the purpose of selecting one candidate for councilman for each ward; and for the further purpose of selecting delegates to the city convention, which is hereby called to meet in the Rockwood Hall Saturday evening, March 19th, for the purpose of nominating a city ticket as follows: Mayor, two members of the school board, police judge, city clerk and treasurer.

The representation for city convention is based on the vote cast for the Hon. G. H. Hastings for attorney general Nov. 1890, allowing one delegate for each ten votes and major fraction thereof, which entitles the several wards to representation as follows:

First ward, 10 delegates, to be held at Council Chamber.
Second ward, 10 delegates, to be held at Second ward school house.
Third ward, 14 delegates, to be held at Richey's lumber office.
Fourth ward, 12 delegates, to be held at county clerk's office.
Fifth ward, 5 delegates, to be held at fifth ward school house.
No proxies admitted but delegates present will cast the full vote of their respective wards.
By order of the city central committee, A. N. SULLIVAN, Chairman.

Captain W. S. Schley, the redoubtable commander of the cruiser Baltimore, is a man of about 45 years. There are streaks of gray in his closely-cropped "imperial" beard, but his hair is brown and he wears it combed down low over a broad forehead. His shoulders are broad, and he has the commanding presence of a typical naval officer.

Ex-Gov. Robert L. Taylor of Tennessee, in his lecture "The Fiddle and the Bow," gives imitations of the mountain dialect conversation of a number of old ladies, and of the speeches at an old-time backwoods, political meeting. Margaret Fuller used to be accounted a very wise woman, and doubtless she was. For Mrs. Sherwood credits her with having once said: "Never talk about yourself, your diseases, your domestic, or your dresses. Talk about your friend's interests, not your own." Perhaps it was by putting that precept into practice that Miss Fuller gained her great celebrity as a converser.

Judge Wheeler of the United States Circuit Court in New York, having been called upon for a decision as to whether corsets are to be scheduled as clothing or mechanical contrivances, has written an opinion in which, with becoming modesty, he says: "I think they are clothing. Dr. Richet, the famous physician, who died a short time ago of pulmonary congestion in Paris, described and analyzed the course of the ailment minutely and with the greatest precision, for several days preceding his death, for the benefit of his attending physicians, one of whom was his son. His last words were, when, with hardly any vitality left, he told them: "When the phenomenon which you have just ascertained has occurred, every chance is lost, and death is only a question of seconds. In fact, you see it, I am going to die. . . . I am dying." And so the man, who was his own clinical subject, died.

Sir Morell Mackenzie's household expenses were very great. He kept sixteen servants, besides a private coach for himself and another for his wife, and spent every cent of his $60,000 yearly income. Both the distinguished doctor and his wife were very fond of society, and their home in London was the resort of brilliant people. It was a rare thing for a caller to find them alone in the evening, and even then they were in full evening dress. Mrs. Mackenzie blazes with diamonds. The doctor's three daughters are said to be very handsome girls, and all as fond of society as their parents were.

A NIGHT WHEN ALL WAS PEACE.

M. Quad's Story of a War Incident in the Shenandoah Valley.

It was a bright moonlight night in October. The persimmon trees along the roadside were heavy with fruit just being touched by the first frosts, and now and then we caught the pattering footsteps of coon or possum on the dry leaves under the forest trees.

There was war in the beautiful Shenandoah Valley—bitter war, with rough riders scouting the country to burn and pillage and add still further burdens to the old men and women left at home. We knew this, and yet as we rode softly along the highway growing up to grass, and heard the songs of the crickets and the cries of the whippoorwill, there was no bitterness in any man's heart. It was a night so calm and gentle that one forgot his enemies and remembered only his friends.

There was only a corporal's guard of us—an escort for the mail-rider. As we came to the east and west road and halted a moment to listen to the barking of a watch-dog afar off, there suddenly came to our ears the clatter of a horse's feet coming west at a gallop. We drew back into the shadow, dressed our line, and every man unslung his carbine.

"Fire at his horse if he refuses to halt," whispered the Corporal and the next minute he had cried "Halt!" to the stranger.

The unknown pulled up so suddenly that his horse reared, wheeled about, and fell down. Three of us were off our horses in a trice, and while two advanced upon the stranger the third caught his steed as it struggled up. "It's a woman!" exclaimed one of the men who had placed his hand upon her shoulder before he detected her sex.

So it was. She moved out of the shadow cast by the branches of a roadside tree and stood full in the moonlight. We drew nearer and looked upon her with wonder and admiration. She was not a woman, but a girl of 20, handsome of face and trim of figure, and she looked from man to man and uttered never a word. She had been within our lines; she was riding towards those of Fitzhugh Lee. A courier anyhow—a spy, almost without doubt.

And for what seemed five long minutes no one spoke. The soft, white moonlight seemed to counsel silence; the song of the crickets, the whippoorwill, the hush of the whippoorwill, called her mate. At length the Corporal slowly swung himself out of his saddle. He was a bronzed-faced old fighter of many battles. He motioned to the man holding her horse and the animal was led nearer. Then he knelt and held out his big, sunburned hand for her dainty foot. She placed it there and vaulted to her seat—we drew back and uncovered our heads, and with a nod of her head she was off to the west—to find a clear road to the enemy's lines.

Obviously the Remedy.

A woman complained to Sergeant Culver recently that a fortune teller had swindled her out of a $7 gold ring. "How did it happen?" asked the Sergeant.

"I went to consult the clairvoyant about a—well, about a little affair in which I am interested—and she said: 'I must have some of your gold before I can work the charm.' Well, the only gold I had about me was that ring, and of course I let her have it. She agreed to return it again after a few days, as soon as she had worked out what I wanted to know; but when I went there to-day I found she had moved, and none of the neighbors knew where she had gone."

"Well, why don't you consult another clairvoyant, and get track of her?" asked the Sergeant, sympathetically.

Do not confuse the famous Blush of Roses with the many worthless paints, powders, creams and bleaches which are flooding the market. Get the genuine of your druggist, O. H. Snyder, 75 cents per bottle, and I guarantee it will remove your pimples, freckles, blackheads, moth, tan and sunburn, and give you a lovely complexion.

Specimen Cases.
S. H. Clifford, New Castle, Wis was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven bottles Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one bottle Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by F. G. Fricke & Co.

A Fatal Mistake.
Physicians make no more fatal mistake than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Franklin Miles, the noted Indiana specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease" which may be had free of F. G. Fricke & Co., who guarantee and recommend Dr. Miles' unequaled new Heart Cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous and organic heart disease, short breath, fluttering, pain or tenderness in the side, arm or shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, smothering, drowsy, etc. His Restorative Nervine cures headache, fits, etc.

ALittle Girl's Experience in a Light House.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the Gov. Lighthouse at Sand Beach Mich, and are blessed with a daughter, four years. Last April she taken down with Measles, followed with dreadful Cough and turned into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones."—Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial; bottle free at F. G. Fricke Drugstore.

A Mystery Explained.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coaches. There are well known specialists, Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak, nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nervine. Trial bottles and a fine book, containing many marvelous cures, free at F. G. Fricke & Co's, who also sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures fluttering, short breath, etc.

Cough Following the Grip

Many persons, who have recovered from la grippe are now troubled with a persistent cough. Chamberlain's cough remedy will promptly loosen this cough and relieve the lungs, effecting a permanent cure in a very short time. 25 and 50 cent bottle for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Startling Facts.

The American people are rapidly becoming a race of nervous wrecks and the following suggests, the best remedy: alphonso Humpfling, of Butler, Penn., swears that when his son was speckled, from St. Vitus Dance Dr. Miles great Restorative Nervine cured him. Mrs. J. L. Miller of Valprai, Ind. J. D. Taolnar, of Logansport, Ind. each gained 20 pounds if an taking it. Mrs. H. A. Gardner, of Vastulr Ind, was cured of 40 to 50 convulsions easy and much headache, dizziness, backache and nervous prostration by one bottle. Trial bottle and fine book of Nervous cures free at F. G. Fricke & Co., who recommends this unequalled remedy.
