THE RICHMOND (Va.) State mourns

the loss of so many of the old Confederate songs, and urges the southern people to adopt some means of preserving these which are not already forgotten. There may be many of the Confederate songs which the people can preserve and teach to their children without conflicting in any way with their teachings of patriotism and loyalty to the Union, but it is doubtful if they will ever take their place beside the songs sung in the north and in the Union camps, because these latter were songs of the Union as appropriate now as in the days of war. They were filled with patriotic sentiment and love of country. Few of them were sectional. All were pervaded by the spirit of loyalty to the flag. It has often been said by Confederates that they would have had a better chance of ultimate victory if they had had the same inspiring songs to cheer their soldiers. The south had, like the north, learned to love "The Star Spangled Banner," and kindred patriotic airs. In the attempt to destroy the Union the leaders were often driving the people against their better sentiments and a flag they had been taught to love. The Confederate songs, which are simply an outgrowth of the rebellion, are better forgotten.

THE FISHERIES OF LAKE SUPERIOR.

At little Port Arthur alone the figures of the fishing industry for the market are astonishing. In 1888 the fishermen there caught 500,000 pounds of white-fish, 360,000 pounds of lake trout, 48,000 pounds of sturgeon, 90,000 pounds of pickerel and 30,000 pounds of other fish, or more than a million pounds in all. They did this with an investment of $3800 in boats and $10,000 in gill and pound nets. This yield nearly all went to a Chicago packing company, and it is in the main Chicago and Cleveland capital that is controlling the lake's fisheries. The white-fish, is, in the opinion of most gourmets, the most delicious fish known to Americans. The lake trout are mere food. I am told that they are rather related to the char than to the salmon. They are peculiar to our inland waters. They average five to ten pounds in weight and yet grow to weigh 120 pounds; but whatever their weight be, it is a mere pressure of hard dry flesh, circulated only to appease hunger.

From "Brother to the Sea," by JULIAN RALPH in Harper's Magazine for April

If we had a navy that was as large or nearly as large as Great Britain, the Behring Sea question would be simplified immensely.

CONGRESS should have a half dozen more modern war ships built at once. It is the best way to insure peace, for when England knows we have a navy she will not dispute with us the Behring Sea fisheries.

RUIN D.

"Baa, baa, black sheep, Have you any wool?"

"Yes, sir; yes, sir; Three bags full.

Two for the master, One for the maid, But all of it ruined By Springer's free trade."

SECRETARY FOSTER has repeatedly

said that the $100,000,000 gold reserve fund for greenback redemption will not be treasured upon. It is about time for the democratic papers to stop saying that this fund is to be drawn on for the current needs of the treasury.

ONE of the first advocates of free trade in this country, a senator of the state of South Carolina, once said that the northern free laborers were all "mud-sills" and "greasy mechanics" and "small-fisted farmers." His meaning was interpreted by another free trade apostle of his time, who more boldly declared that "capital should not own labor, white or black." They were the fathers of existing free-trade democrats, but the latter are less courageous and honest.

GOVERNOR MCKINLEY of Ohio

the other day received a letter of thanks for his championship of the tariff from a gentleman who has always voted the democratic ticket. This gentleman is J. B. F. Champin, of the Cattaraugus Cutlery Co., at Little Falls, N. Y., and he thanks McKinley for making it possible to revive that industry in this country. With business questions before the country it is possible to give practical illustrations of the benefits of a party policy. The McKinley act opened the eyes of many business and working men to the advantage of the republican policy of protection to American industries.

It is the motto of a great labor

organization that "An injury to one is the concern of all." Free trade invites and expects the competition in our markets of the products of foreign cheaper labor with the products of our better paid home labor, on the plea that the foreign products are cheaper than the home products. But it is not a plain case that home labor is deprived of compensation or employment, or both, to the extent of the use of these foreign products, or to the amount of the reduction of wages compelled by home competition with cheaper labor? The free trade scheme thus becomes an "injury" to all home labor of giant proportions, dwarfing the promised benefits of cheapness into a trifle, with even that trifle uncertain and delusive.

SENATOR HILL is cutting quite a wide political swath on his tour through the south, and he doesn't appear to care who knows the real animus of the tour, either. G. Cleveland feels his heart in his No. 19 throat when he reads how warmly this Tammany leader is being welcomed in democratic hot beds. Mr. Hill's speech in Birmingham, Ala., Wednesday was as follows, or something like it: "[Applause] Mr. Chairman—[Applause] I am a democrat. [Applause] So was [Applause] Boss Tweed. [Applause] I believe in states rights. [Applause] If you of Alabama [Applause] want to kill the niggers [Applause] to keep from voting, why you should be allowed to kill them. [Applause] The government has no right to interfere with such peaceful methods of electing its officials. [Applause] I am for democracy. [Applause] Democracy must triumph at any cost. [Applause] I am for Hill. [Applause] New York will be for Hill. [Applause] We should all be for Hill. [Applause] I—[Applause] I—[Applause] [Applause] [Applause] [Tremendous cheering.]"

Russian Discipline.

Much comment has been excited by a recent occurrence at Wilna, in western Russia. The men of one of the batteries of an artillery regiment stationed at Wilna mutinously refused to salute one of their officers when he came among them. He summoned them more than once to pay him the due sign of respect, but the soldiers paid no attention. The officer, enraged at this behavior, at length drew his revolver and shot two noncommissioned officers, one after the other. He was taking aim at a third when the soldiers, in fear of their lives, at length gave the proper salute. The incident is being hotly discussed in military circles, some officers maintaining that their confrere was justified in his act while others condemn his extreme conduct.—London Times.

A Strange Explosion.

Seth Williams and Morris McClelland met death in a mysterious explosion at Cave City, Ky. They were digging a cistern and had reached a flat rock eight feet down. Williams struck the rock with a sledge hammer, causing a terrible explosion, which buried McClelland beneath flying boulders and killed him, and threw Williams into a tree fifty yards away. McClelland lived just long enough to tell what had happened. Several persons have closely examined the scene of the explosion, but discovered nothing beyond bluish vapor with a sulphurous smell issuing from between two large rocks.—Exchange.

An Engineer in Rare Luck.

By the death of Patrick Costello, in Detroit, Tom Costello, of Wichita, an engineer on the Atchison road, will get $60,000. Patrick, the elder brother, left Ireland forty-five years ago for Australia, and ten years later Tom came to America. About 1865 Patrick wrote to his family that he was rich and that he was leaving Australia for America, and they never heard from him again. He had lived in Detroit, it seems, for many years, but no one knew much about him.—Kansas City Times.
