"Our Irish Visitors" Saturday Night-Very Good Specialties.

Thomas E. Murray and his company presented the time-worn farce comedy, "Our Irish Visitors," to a very fair audience at the Waterman Saturday night. The attendance would have been much larger but for the fact that the weather was so abominably bad during the day. Murray has evidently endeavored to reduce his expenses to the minimum, for his company, outside of himself and Katie Rooney, is very weak. Frank Davis, the "Jerry McGuinness" of the play, suffered much in comparison with the work of his predecessor, Mark Murphy. Will Petrie did several very capable specialty turns and received well-merited applause. Hattie Delaro Barnes sang a solo which was well received by the audience, and for an encore gave "Comin' Thro' the Rye." Thomas E. Murray sustained the reputation he has justly earned as an Irish character actor and was received with the old-time enthusiasm that had signified the appearance of the famous team of Murray & Murphy. Katie Rooney gave a very laughable and life-like imitation of her father, Pat Rooney, and also gave some of her superb dancing. The entire company suffered from comparison with Anderson's comedians, the "Two Old Cronies." The music sounded very thin and stale after having heard the full orchestra perform. Any of the musicians are first-class artists in their line, but piano, violin and cornet can hardly fill the vacuum made by the removal of the full orchestra.

On Thursday evening our people will be treated to one of the best comedies on the road in Charles A. Loder's "Oh! What a Night." The house should be packed throughout.

"Oh! What a Night."

It gives me pleasure to present to the amusement public of Plattsmouth the best comedy entertainment of the season on next Thursday night, March 31, when Charles A. Loder, the German dialect comedian, supported by a metropolitan company of artists, will for the first time in our city present the great farce comedy success, "Oh! What a Night," for its very funny, awfully funny, and cannot fail to please everybody, especially the wonderful dancing by the famous English twins, the "Sisters Leigh," in the "Delusion and Mirror" dances, which alone is worth the price of admission. Secure your tickets early at the usual place. Price, 75 cents.

Yours truly,
J. P. YOUNG.

GETTING READY FOR BUSINESS.

The County Convention Called for April 6 and the Primaries for April 9.

The republican county central committee met in A. L. Timblin's office at Weeping Water, Saturday for the purpose of preparing a call for a county convention to select delegates to the state and congressional conventions. A call was issued by the committee to meet in convention at Weeping Water April 16 and the primaries to be held April 9. The basis of representation is on the vote of Geo. H. Hastings for attorney general in 1890. Read the call in another column which gives the time and place of holding the primaries.

A GRIEVOUS LOSS.

Sustained by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayer in the Death of Their Little Son.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayer will be grievously shocked to learn of the death of their bright little baby boy, which occurred at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. It is but three and a half months since little Paul came to gladden their home, the first fruit of their union and the idol of their fondest love and most tender care, but in spite their watchful ministrations the little stranger fell a victim of inflammation of the bowels and convulsions. The funeral will occur from the residence of the parents, 631 South Eleventh street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Mayer will realize the kindly sympathy of hundreds of friends in their sore bereavement, the greatest grief which falls to the lot of humanity.—Lincoln Journal.

REPUBLICAN ORGANIZATION.

An Address to the Workers of the Republican Party.

The following circular letter issued from republican headquarters in Lincoln, will command the attention of republicans in every precinct of the state:

HEADQUARTERS STATE REPUBLICAN LEAGUE OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, NEB., March 25.—To the Republican Voters of Nebraska—Fellow Workers: The time is at hand for thorough organization of the state republican league, which is composed of the local republican clubs in the state.

The object of the republican league, embracing all republican clubs of the state, is to advocate, promote and maintain the principles of republicanism as enunciated by the republican party, and to have a perfect concert of action and cooperation. At least one club should be organized in every city, ward, election precinct or school district. Also by this organization in each city and county, and promptly reporting the names of the officers to these headquarters, literature can be more promptly and systematically distributed. Upon application to these headquarters a copy of constitution suitable for republican clubs will be forwarded. Make the policy of the club so broad that any republican can work under it. Invite membership every person who sympathizes with the republican party. At your meeting invite full and free discussion on republican lines of all political subjects. Permit every member to express himself, free speech being one of the cardinal principles of the republican party. The league clubs do not take the place of but are auxiliary to and will co-operate with the regular committees of the party. Let organization be perfected at once. Send names of the officers and strength of club to these headquarters. Prompt organization, combined with united and energetic action, will crown our efforts with a grand victory in the coming campaign.

I feel it my duty to say a few words in regard to Ely's Cream Balm, and I do so entirely without solicitation. I have used it more or less half a year, and have found it to be most admirable. I have suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since I was a little boy and I never hoped for cure, but Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many of my acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago Ill.

An Officer's Tragic Death.

A lieutenant of the Twenty-fourth regiment of Chasseurs, named Tavernier, met with a most tragic death near the port of Nice yesterday. His horse, a big, fiery roan, which had been very little ridden, became restive shortly after leaving headquarters. While passing the well known Chateau Smith the horse took fright and bolted down an incline. Some octroi officers saw this, but were unable to arrest his progress. The officer managed to steer the animal around the Nice port, but coming to a rapid curve in the road at a spot known as Rabau Capen he lost all control. The horse rushed madly at a wall, cleared it, and both horse and rider were dashed over the rocks into the sea below.

The admiral of the Mediterranean squadron sent a steam launch, four boats and fifty men with grapnels to try and find the bodies. They found a key on the rocks, which has been identified as that of the officer's chamber in the barracks, and some hair of the horse stuck to the rocks. Up to the present, however, the bodies have not been recovered. They have probably been taken out to sea by currents. M. De Freycinet, who is now in Nice, visited the spot to make inquiries. The unfortunate officer, who was only thirty years of age, was most popular.—Pall Mall Gazette.

An Elephant's Toothache.

The elephant in the Zoological gardens in Paris must be a very reasonable creature. He suffers from toothache, and if in proportion to his size, he must suffer a good deal; yet, while it is being stopped and filled, we are told, he is exceedingly patient, only "gently moving his trunk" when the operation is particularly painful. A word of praise is also surely due to the dentist. A man might have earned the Victoria Cross and yet have some misgivings when that trunk began to wave. In the case in question it was only employed "to caress the operator," by way of fee, when the proceedings were concluded; but it might have been put to a different use.

The report does not inform us whether the elephant is placed in a chair with his head well back, a position with which most of us are only too well acquainted. There is a little difficulty, it seems, in inducing him to take laughing gas, which he may think beneath his dignity.—James Payn in Illustrated London News.
