That there is a strong and distinct social caste in Creede, despite the practical democratic conduct of the masses in their business intercourse, was luminously exemplified by an event of no inconsiderable proportions at the Brainard & Bebee hotel on the evening of Feb. 22. It was the initial hop given by the fire company in commemoration of Washington's birthday. Tickets of admission were issued, and the closest vigilance was kept on those to whom tickets were given, lest some improper characters would gain admission to the dancing hall, which was the hotel dining room. There were present fifty-three ladies and about four times as many men. All the ladies were dressed in handsome ball costumes, and the decollete gown was there in force. The men-or a great many of them-wore the conventional swallow tail broadcloth.

The programme contained all the latest fashionable dances, round and square, and they were executed with an ease and grace that would do credit to St. Louis. A fine Italian orchestra furnished the music and the hotel people gave a spread that was a marvel of completeness. The cards were handsomely embossed, and premiums are being ofdelegates, county clerk's office, 5 to fered for them by people who were not there, to treasure them as souvenirs of the first ball in Creede.-Cor. Fought Under Custer.

A very happy family reunion occurred six miles west of Muncie a few days since at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Russell.

For over thirty years a member of the family has been mourned as dead, but Wednesday he made a happy surprise to his old parents and friends with his presence. Ernest, the oldest son, a lad of sixteen, ran away from home in 1859, going to Minnesota, where he remained until 1862, when he enlisted in the civil war and remained until the close, when he joined the regular army under command of that gallant general, Custer. Nothing was ever heard of the young man until his name was by mistake placed in the list of killed in the great massacre at Little Big Horn.

The young man was severely injured in the fight, but recovered and lives to once more enter his home, where ho will remain. Ernest well remembers the famous Indian fight, and relates the horrible spectacle he witnessed in a manner that chills a person's blood.-Cor. Indianapolis Sentinel.

Damages for Grief.

A new cause has arisen for a lawsuit. A woman in France was notified by the authorities of a lunatic asylum of her brother's death. She went to the funeral and ordered a handsome tombstone. Her mother was so grieved at her son's death that the plaintiff had to give up her situation to take care of her. Then she learned that the directors of the asylum had made a mistake, and that her brother was alive. After unsuccessful efforts for compensation she has gone to the court, claiming heavy damages for grief and injury .- New York Sun.

An Indignant Burgler.

On a recent morning about 3 o'clock a burglar visited Johnston's drug store, corner of Tenth and O streets, and instead of entering through the regularly provided doorway after ringing the night bell, he climbed over the transom and was about to help himself, when his noise aroused the clerk, who threw his boot at the intruder.
