

CHINESE EXCLUSION.

Some of the Provisions of the Bill Passed by the House Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—A bill held by friends and foes alike to be one of the most important now pending in congress was passed by the house to-day after only thirty minutes' debate. The bill in question is commonly known as "the Chinese exclusion bill," and was reported by the committee on foreign affairs and to-day taken up on motion of Mr. Geary of California. Mr. Geary said that the Chinese government, both through its officers at home and in this country, had done everything in its power to violate the spirit of the treaty.

Messrs. Herman and Cutting also favored the bill, and, after further debate, it was passed—yeas, 179; nays, 43. The bill absolutely prohibits any Chinese whether or not subjects of China, excepting diplomatic and consular officers and servants, from entering the United States, and the Chinese who may hereafter leave this country are prohibited from returning to this country. It makes liable to arrest on a warrant issued by any justice, judge or United States Commissioner, Chinese entering this country by crossing its boundaries or found unlawfully in the United States and provides for the punishment of the Chinese by imprisonment not to exceed five years, and subsequent removal from this country to that from whence they came and provided that they when they come here from China by way of contiguous foreign territory, shall be returned to China. The act applies to subjects of China and all Chinese, even if subjects of any other foreign power. A proviso allows the secretary of the treasury to admit Chinese other than laborers or artisans to temporarily visit the United States under such rules as he may prescribe. The last clause repeals all acts inconsistent with this and sets aside the provision of all treaties now in force between the United States and China which may conflict with the provisions of this act. Violations of the law will be followed by fine and imprisonment.

The negative vote was cast by Messrs. Alexander, Andrew, Beeman, Belknap, Beltshoover, Bergen, Brosius, Bushnell, Cheatham, Coburn, Coolidge, Craig, Culberson, Curtis, English, Epes, Flick, Grady, Greenleaf, Harter, Heard, Hemphill, Henderson, Illinois; Herbert, Hitt, Hooker, Mississippi; Hopkins, Illinois; Johnson, Indiana; Johnson, North Dakota; Lawson, Georgia; Little, Lodge, Miller, Perkins, Post, Powers, Randall, Robinson, Pennsylvania; Stevens, Stockdale, Storer, Stout, J. D. Taylor—43.

IT IS A FACT that Snyder has more Wallpaper than any other house in town. Handsomest and latest styles and lowest prices. An examination will convince you of this. He has the goods to back it up.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

One of the largest audiences ever gathered in the opera house greeted Midaugh, Pfaff & Goodman's original New Orleans "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company on Tuesday evening, and everyone appeared perfectly satisfied. The specialties introduced were very clever. The company includes a fine orchestra, which adds much to the entertainment.—Smeihport (Pa.) Miner.

Ex-Governor Furnas writes: Send me one dozen Rail Road Pain Cure with bill. It cures more aching ills than any other preparation I have used or known. 25c and 50c at O. H. Snyder and Brown & Barrett.

I feel it my duty to say a few words in regard to Ely's Cream Balm, and I do so entirely without solicitation. I have used it more or less half a year, and have found it to be most admirable. I have suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since I was a little boy and I never hoped for cure, but Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many of my acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostrum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

If the ladies do not vote any better than they did to-day, we do not see what good the right of franchise does them.

The Election

The day opened up this morning with a strong cold wind, which was very disagreeable to be out in; and the sky was overcast with dark clouds, which were driven over the city by the strong wind, and it looked very much as if we would have a snow storm before the day was half gone.

Although it did not snow, the strong wind kept up all day, and it remained cloudy except now and then when the bright sun broke through the clouds for a moment and then was hid.

The voting passed off very quietly. There was no jarring or the least trouble anywhere. In fact it was the quietest election ever held in this city. Every one was in a good humor and the contest for votes was all friendly.

There was a great deal of scratching done, so that no one was able to say anywhere near how the election was going, but all seemed to think the republicans were carrying the day.

The First ward is the only ward that is likely to cast a full vote; in all of the other wards about a two-thirds vote will be cast.

It is generally conceded that the republicans have elected all the councilmen, unless it be in the Second and Fourth wards, and in these wards the chances are in favor of the republican candidates.

As to the school board, it is generally conceded that J. I. Unruh, of the republica nominees, is elected by a big majority; also W. N. McLennan, the other republican candidate, will be elected by a good majority.

But few ladies turned out and voted—not near as many as had been expected. In fact, the ladies do not seem to take the interest in their school board that they ought to.

World's Fair Notes

The Italian government has selected its war ship, America, to convey to the United States the Italian exhibits to the exposition free of charge. The kommerzhändler of commerce has invited other chambers to form committees to promote the securing of Italian exhibits.

Norwegians living in Chicago, with the help of their countrymen in other parts of the country, are engaged in raising sufficient money to erect a building for Norway at the exposition. Norway's appropriation of $56,289 is to be devoted entirely to securing an exhibit.

Mrs. Palmer, president of the board of lady managers, is in receipt of communications through the state department showing that the women of Russia are greatly interested in the woman's exhibit at the world's fair. Secretary Blaine, at Mrs. Palmer's request, had asked the appointment of an imperial commission of Russian women to collect an exhibit of woman's work in the empire. Minister Smith, who presented the request, informs Secretary Blaine that the request was received most graciously and the commission was appointed with Mme. Vishnegradski, wife of the minister of finance, as president. Mme. Vishnegradski is greatly interested in the peasant lace industry of Russia, and has already had considerable correspondence with the board of lady managers on the subject of an exhibit.

Minnesota will supplement its world's fair appropriation of $50,000 by $100,000 raised by subscription. Nearly three-fourths of that amount has already been secured. Hennepin county, in which Minneapolis is situated, has contributed $25,000. Minnesota will expend $25,000 for a building.

Idaho will show some splendid specimens of mica in the mines building. It has ledges of mica eight feet thick and apparently inexhaustible. Sheets of it as large as 10 by 12 inches, without a flaw, and as thin as tissue paper, are not uncommon. It is proposed to have some of the windows in the Idaho building glazed with mica.

The trains from the west this morning were all late caused by a heavy snow storm in the western part of the state.

COMPARISON.

With a frown on her brow And a pout on her lips, She seems sweeter far Than most women are Whose foreheads, I vow, Are smooth all the while, And who fairly eclipse A saint with their smile; With a frown on her brow And a pout on her lips!

With cold tears in her voice And deep woe on her face, She fascinates more Than a whole motley score Of maids who rejoice In the pleasures of earth, Whose features show trace But of laughter and mirth; With cold tears in her voice, And deep woe on her face! —Yankee Blade.

Looks on the Bright Side of Things. Devices for bringing this boy to a sense of the material disadvantages of wrongdoing have been tried, but his uniformly happy disposition is proof against the punitive influence of any of them. If he is sent to bed early because he has so torn and soiled his clothes as to be unrepresentable in the drawing room, he turns up the next morning with a beaming smile and some remark about the delicious rest he has had. If his diet is reduced to plain bread and water for the violation of a rule of the table, he discovers—without the slightest hypocrisy, mind you—what uncommonly fine bread the cook bakes, and how much better water quenches the thirst than milk or cambric tea.

If he is kept indoors because he has abused a privilege of the yard or street, he sets cheerfully about amusing himself in the house, just as content apparently to lie on his back for hour after hour and indulge in day dreams as to do anything else, and the chances are that when it is all over his little voice will be raised in praise of the comforts of homes in general and of his own in particular. The only punishment he seems to dread is a whipping. That has been resorted to sparingly and always for some overt and aggressive act which was wholly without excuse; never for a mere matter of habit, however reprehensible.—Babyhood.

Laws Against Low Necked Dresses. A correspondent who has been unfavorably impressed by the recent police raids suggests a new field for official activity in the protection of public morality, as follows:

I find in my scrapbook a newspaper clipping where, under the heading of "Old Pennsylvania Laws," appears the following:

"If any white female of ten years or upward shall appear in any public street, lane, highway, church, court house, tavern, ballroom, theater or any other place of public resort, with naked shoulders (i. e., low necked dresses), being able to purchase necessary clothing, she shall forfeit and pay a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $200."

If this be really Pennsylvania law, still in force, it seems to me that the police officials at a recent ball were derelict in their duty as conservators of the public morals in not immediately sending for officers and patrol wagons when so many flagrant violations of the law must have been visible to them.—Philadelphia Record.

The Dates of Easter.

It has been over 1,500 years since the rule was adopted which makes Easter the first Sunday after the first full moon after the sun crosses the line. By this arrangement of things Easter may come as early as March 22 or as late as April 25. I have compiled the following facts concerning the days of the month upon which it has fallen from 1803 to 1891, inclusive. In looking over the dates I have been struck by the variety of days represented, which include every one in the month of April except the last five.

Since 1803 it has occurred three times on the 19th, five times on the 16th, five times on the 1st, four times each on the 2d, 11th and 12th, four times on March 31, four times on April 6, three times on the 4th, 5th, 7th, 8th, 10th, 13th, 14th and 22d of April, and 27th and 28th of March. March 22, 1818, was the earliest date upon which it has occurred.

Cheap Telephones.

The natural inquiry arises what will telephones cost when their manufacture is free, and what will be the expense of equipping a private line? It is scarcely necessary to go into detailed estimates at this juncture, especially as the cost must necessarily vary with the conditions, such as the class of work required, the finish of the instrument and so on. A telephone that will speak can be made for very little, and small instruments for household work need cost no more than electric bells of the same quality and finish.

Some years ago I put in a large hotel in Spain an installation of electric bells and telephones; the telephones were in the form of ordinary push buttons; you pressed the button and then pulled the wooden case from the clamp which held it to the base fixed to the wall and spoke into the back of the push, which contained a telephone of the ordinary pattern with a very short magnet. The cost of these instruments was very small.—Engineering Magazine.
