THE "good western democrat" can't carry his own state is the reason he is not in it.

JUDGE MAYNARD of New York has been exonerated by the senate of that state, but the people will never exonerate the senate.

ALL the republicans who have been mentioned for the vice presidential candidacy say that the present official is the right man for this honor. Morton should be renominated.

THE greatest mystery of which the "oldest inhabitants" have knowledge is why any American citizen with just ordinary sense can be a free trader, or what is exactly the same, a "tariff reformer."

A CLEVELAND organ referring to the Hill faction remarks: "No army was ever weakened by cutting the cowards out." That may be true, but this is a different case—it is cutting the fighting men out. Cowardice is not Hill's weak point.

BIG THING ON ICE.

The News stands by Editor Milton D. Polk, which pleases THE HERALD. This is as it ought to be; that is, Editor Milton D. Polk uses the News to give himself character; in other words, Milton D. Polk, as editor of the News, says Milton is a clean, able newspaper and business man and that THE HERALD is green with envy because it hasn't got this paragon of honesty on its hands. The News is hypnotized by its "attache" and there is but one remedy: We will have to turn our poet loose on that concern to dispel the charm. Of course, we are dead gone because we haven't got the moral influence and business character of the "tother" editor of the News. Our bankers, our lawyers, our courts, our merchants, our business men, all want him, all need him, but the News has a monopoly on him—it has got him—bad. "Alas, poor Yorick!"—that is us.

WARNING OF A DEMOCRATIC PAPER.

The New York Sun takes three defeats which the democratic party has suffered and preaches a homily to its fellow democrats as follows:

"In 1888 the democratic party went crazy for tariff reform, and trampled into the mud behind the elephantine economist of the mug wumps. Licking No. 1.

"In 1891 the Ohio democrats, sticking to the same old tariff reform as propounded by the same old corpulent Cobden, became unprotected mats for Major William McKinley, Jr., and the republican party to wipe their feet on. Licking No. 2.

"In 1892 the Rhode Island democrats took up the same old howl and fight for the same old tariff reform, and the same old sarcotic dervish. Licking No. 3."

But what is the democratic party to do? What can it do? The tariff is the only issue it dares to talk about "until after the presidential election" and even on the tariff the old party is sacred enough, heaven and Roger Q. Mills of Texas know. As a friend and acquaintance of the "new allies of the northwest," the Register suggests that the democracy abandon every consideration except to get back into the offices. On that kind of a platform, with D. B. Hill, they might carry the south.—Des Moines Register.

HOW IT WORKS.

What have reciprocity and the new protective tariff already done for the farmer of the United States?

This in part: Reciprocity has caused Cuba to import 83,643 bags of flour from America during the first two months of 1892. During the first two months of 1891 it imported only 5,758 bags of American flour. But during the first two months

Some Alleged Big Salaries.

The story is being told in New York that the proprietor of a certain well known morning newspaper has made an offer to a successful publisher of Chicago to come to New York for five years at an annual salary of $100,000. Whether this report be true or not, it has occasioned a good deal of gossip.

Perhaps in nothing more than in the question of salaries is there so much said that is untrue. I have no doubt there are a small number of gentlemen who are paid from $25,000 to $100,000 a year for their services, but whether they are worth it or not is another question. The tendency is always to exaggerate on the salary question anyhow, and it is more than likely that not half the sum mentioned is actually paid to any man.

It is the same way with the authors of books. A little while ago it was said that Ward McAllister had received $25,000 for his published volume on "Society as I Have Found It." Mr. McAllister now comes forward and spoils this pretty fiction by stating positively that he received only about $3,700, and that is why he hesitates about accepting an offer made to him by a Chicago firm of publishers. He says there is no money in books.

The men who are paid $100,000 a year in New York for any services whatever are so few as to be lonesome. Those who receive $50,000 could probably be numbered inside of a hundred. Those who receive $25,000 a year are of course more numerous, but there are not enough of them to cause any very general disturbance in financial centers. And I am quite inclined to the belief that any man who receives from $10,000 to $20,000 a year as salary is, like the famous Reilly who kept the hotel, doing exceedingly well.—Foster Coates in New York Mail and Express.

THE ETIQUETTE OF THE TABLE.

As a people, we Americans have been laughed at for eating too fast, and we are credited as being a nation of dyspeptics, writes Ruth Ashmore in her interesting department "Side Talks with Girls" in the May Ladies' Home Journal. Now, of course, this is generalizing, but you, the eldest daughter, have it in your power to make the hour at the dinner or tea-table one of real delight. It is an easy matter, you will find, to start some pleasant topic; to get your father and brother interested in the talk of the day, so that you all will eat your food more slowly, and you will achieve what the Frenchmen consider the great art—you will dine, not merely feed yourself. But there are a few little questions about the etiquette of the table that some girl wants to know, and these I am going to tell her. She must hold her knife by its handle, and never let her fingers reach up to its blade. Whenever it is possible, a fork must be used in place of a spoon, and that same spoon, by the by, must never be left in a coffee or tea cup, but laid to rest politely and securely in the saucer. Glasses with handles are held by them. A goblet should be caught by the stem, the fingers not entwining the bowl part. Don't butter a large piece of bread and take bites from it; instead, break your bread in small pieces, one at a time, and butter it, that is, if you are eating butter, and convey it to your mouth by your fingers. Olives, celery, radishes, strawberries with stems, and asparagus are all eaten from the fingers. The old method of eating cheese with a knife has been given up, a fork being used in its place. The uses of many small dishes for vegetables is not in good taste; indeed, many vegetables should not be served at one time.

Carried a Barn on His Back. Matthew La Page, of Woodhaven, had a small barn he wished to move to another site. He told Cyrus E. Smith, superintendent of the Woodhaven public schools, of his plans, and explained that it would cost him considerable to put the building on a new foundation. Smith laughingly offered to move the barn for nothing. La Page ridiculed the idea, when Smith asked to be shown the spot to which the building was to be carried. Upon learning this he visited the barn, which is a shell, weighing about 500 pounds. He rigged a number of ropes so that he could take the weight across his shoulders. Harnessed in this fashion, the man of muscle lifted the barn with ease, carried it twenty-five feet and set it easily on the new foundation.—New York World.

A Dog's Fidelity.

A living example of a dog's fidelity is presented by that noble Newfoundland owned by the late Oscar C. McCulloch. He is a large dark brown fellow and is well known to the congregation of the Plymouth church. He was generally permitted to attend church services during the life of his master, and in fact was considered a privileged character about the institute. On rare occasions he was even dignified with a place at the Rev. McCulloch's feet in the pulpit. At the meeting of the National Association of Charities last year at Plymouth church this dog appeared regularly every morning and afternoon upon the rostrum with his master.

The dog still goes to church and walks about the room as though he were looking for somebody—no doubt he is. Frequently he curls up under a seat in the auditorium at the beginning of services, and if anybody attempts to take the seat over him he offers a prompt protest that settles matters. This dog is very popular about the church and is as dignified as any potentate under the sun, but when it comes to a question of personal rights the handsome canine is decidedly patriotic.—Indianapolis Journal.

For a number of years, I have been subject to violent attacks of inflammatory rheumatism which generally lasted about two months. On the first of this month I was attacked in the knee and suffered severely for two days, when I procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it relieved me almost instantly. I therefore most cheerfully recommend it to those who are similarly afflicted everywhere.—R. D. Whitley is a very prominent man in this place and his disease was widely known as he suffered such severe pain. W. M. Houston & Co., Merchants, Martindale, N. C. 50 cent bottles for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co. Druggists.

Colored Statues.

Boston has a new fad. At the Museum of Arts two statues, one the Hermes of Praxiteles the other Venus Genetrix, both colored in the manner of the ancient Greek statues, are displayed. The statues are in the colors of nature, and the critics are enthusiastic as to their beauty. The artist is Mr. Joseph Lindon Smith.—Boston Letter.
