THE republican party is for a dollar that is worth 100 cents.

Now will the Journal please tell us which side of the silver question it is on?

WONDER if the Journal will have to have a five-story brick building fall on it before it knows when its idol (the silver-tongued Bryan) is sat down upon?

A NEBRASKA statute prohibits the killing of robins, blackbirds and meadow larks from January 1 to November 1, under a penalty of $25 for each bird killed.

THE republican party in 1888 was in favor of the use of both gold and silver as money, and it is in favor of the same to-day, as long as the silver dollar contains 100 cents.

THE Kansas democrats have endorsed Cleveland, who has come out strong against free silver, and they also endorsed free silver. It takes a democratic convention to be inconsistent.

THERE is a pearl button factory in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, and the Pearl Button Republican Club of that city will go to the Minneapolis convention wearing pearl buttons and linen dusters, the manufacture of pearl buttons having been fostered in that city by the McKinley law.

THE Des Moines Democratic Leader says: "It is extremely doubtful if Cleveland could be elected. There is little doubt that Boies would sweep the country." There is a mania just now in democratic circles to get hold of some old renegade republican, such as Boies, Palmer, Gray, or Campbell. The old wheel horses of democracy have to take back seats when "a convert" wants a place.

THE Journal asks us to explain our attitude on the silver question. We will do it, as that is the easiest question the Journal could ask us for we were not on the fence like the Journal is. We know right where we are.

We are in favor of an honest dollar, one that has 100 cents in it. One that will pass for a dollar and buy a dollar's worth of goods in any part of the globe.

We are opposed to any 70-cent dollar, stamped with the Goddess of Liberty, that, as soon as it gets beyond our shores, will not buy a dollar's worth of goods.

ON THE WRONG TRACK.

Last evening's Journal credits an editorial which appeared in this paper the evening before to the pen of Judge Chapman. Mr. Journal you are on the wrong track. Judge Chapman did not write the article, he knew nothing of it till he read it in this paper. It was written by ourselves in this office and we consulted no one out side in regard to it.

If your valiant Bryan was not sat upon in the democratic convention in Omaha, we do not know what the expression "being sat down on" means.

CRISP'S ADMINISTRATIVE WEAKNESS.

Mr. Bailey of Texas, in objecting to the passage of any bill in the house unless a quorum votes, is administering to his party some of the medicine which it dealt out to the republicans in the Fifty-first congress. The Texas statesman, of course, has moral and technical as well as poetic justice on his side in this matter, and his party was right in the preceding congress in insisting on the observance of this requirement. But the equities of the case had much less to do with the democratic position on this point at that time than had the desire to impede and embarrass the republicans. At the beginning of that congress the republicans had in the house only six or seven members in excess of a quorum, and naturally they had the utmost difficulty in keeping a quorum on hand at all important exigencies. They were obliged to rely chiefly on their own party in this endeavor, for the democrats often contrived to be absent in critical emergencies, and thus prevented the speaker from counting them in making up the quota. In such cases the point of "no quorum," which some democrat left behind for the purpose would make, often placed troublesome obstacles in the way of legislation.

In this way Mr. Bailey has been the means of revealing a surprising lack of administrative efficiency in the leaders of his party in the house. The democrats have about seventy members in that body in excess of a quorum, yet on many important occasions a quorum, even after counting the republicans on hand, has not been present. For a large part of the time nearly half of the 236 democratic members of the house have been away from their seats. This is a record of absenteeism which is altogether without example in recent years. Apparently the speaker and the heads of his chief committees are powerless in the matter of securing the attendance of their colleagues. They either lack the respect of their party or culpably neglect the elementary precautions to secure the presence of a sufficient number of their followers to carry on the business of legislation. Their is no cohesiveness or zeal in the party interest and advancement among the members of the organization or else their chief and his "whips" are grossly and amazingly derelict in their duties. At all events the discipline which was enforced in the republican house last year and the year before is utterly and conspicuously absent now, and the democracy, with all its dominance of strength on the rolls, often finds itself pitifully and contemptibly weak at important exigencies. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

According to the census of 1890, Chicago takes rank, by virtue of her population of 1,098,576 people, as the eighth largest city on the globe. Most of us desire, at one time or another, to visit a city in which so many persons find homes, and when we do, we can find no better line than the "Burlington Route." Three fast and comfortable trains daily. For further information address the agent of the company at this place, or write to J. Francis, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Omaha, Nebraska.

Railroad Cough Cure is the true Antidote for Throat and Lung Troubles. Fully warranted at Brown & Barrett's and O. H. Snyder's.

For a number of years, I have been subject to violent attacks of inflammatory rheumatism which generally lasted about two months. On the first of this month I was attacked in the knee and suffered severely for two days, when I procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it relieved me almost instantly. I therefore most cheerfully recommend it to those who are similarly afflicted everywhere. —R. D. Whitley is a very prominent man in this place and his disease was widely known as he suffered such severe pain. W. M. Houston & Co., Merchants, Martindale, N. C. 50 cent bottles for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co. Druggists.

Brought Into Court.

Messrs. Cage and Sherman, of Alexander, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable cure for rheumatism there, as follows: "The wife of Mr. Wm. Pruitt, the postmaster here, has been bed-ridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer any one to her to verify this statement." 50 cent bottles for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co., druggists

Irena for the Complexion

Preaching Over Old Sermons.

The scandal arising from bought sermons, which unfortunately are often sold in duplicate and even triplicate, has caused at least one bishop henceforth to forbid their use in his diocese. He has no objection to his clergy preaching the sermons of other divines if the authorship is acknowledged, and ever considers that an original discourse once a week is as much as can be reasonably expected from the average curate; but there must be no duplicity in the matter. There has always been a danger in the purchased sermon.

Recognition of the borrowed work, if from a well known source, is also always possible, or nearly always. A Welsh curate confessed to the following ingenious plan for evading it, which, must, however, have given him a great deal of trouble: "I've got a volume of sermons by one Tillotson, and a very good book it is; so I translate them into Welsh and then back again into English, after which Tillotson himself would not know them again."—Illustrated London News.

Exercise in the Open Air.

"A man should take exercise in the open air if possible," said he enthusiastically, "but some kind of violent exercise just before going to bed. There is no medicine that will do him as much good or put him to sleep quicker. When I was a boy I smoked a great deal, and finally became so nervous at twenty-one that I couldn't keep the covers on my bed at night. The doctors told me to quit cigars and take exercise. I followed their advice. I never go to bed now without taking a hand spring or two and swinging the clubs, and I sleep like a top."

This man is a reporter on a New York daily paper, and his suggestion cuts a new artery for gentlemen of that sedentary occupation. —New York Herald.

Pavements of Jerusalem.

The principal pavements made in Palestine are in Jerusalem, and it is only within recent years they have been constructed in accordance with anything like modern requirements. The superior and massive Roman pavements, over 2,000 years old and still in fair preservation, are here not taken into consideration. The material for streets is stone, cut about the size and shape of ordinary bricks or a little larger. This is laid in sand, the long and narrow side up. The stone used is the well known Jerusalem marble. The cost varies from one to two dollars per square yard. The foundation is almost invariably the rubbish of the ancient city, which has accumulated during centuries. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Can't Always Depend on What You See.

While it is very reasonable to trust the verdict of our consciousness, yet it is equally desirable that this confidence should be accompanied by an understanding of the conditions under which the evidence is presumably valid and when likely to mislead. Sense deception, faulty observation, exaggeration, neglect, fallacy, illusion and error abound on all sides and emphasize the need of a calm judgment, a well equipped intellect, a freedom from haste and prejudice, an appreciation of details and nice distinctions, in the determination of truth and the maintenance of mental health. —Professor Joseph Jastrow in Popular Science Monthly.

The wisdom of him who journeyeth is known by the line he selects; the judgment of the man who takes the "Burlington Route" to the cities of the east, the south, and the west, is never impeached. The inference is plain.
