LAST Saturday Governor Boies

paroled "Story" Jordan the notorious saloon-keeper, of Oitumwa, Iowa.

The condition was that Jordan forever give up the saloon business.

He promises to never allow his building to be used again for a saloon as long as he or his heirs own it.

The oldest inhabitant of Atchison risers to remark that he has never seen a spring like the present one since 1849, when the people were compelled to keep fires in their houses all summer to dry them out.

In houses where fires were not kept up, everything moulded and was ruined.

Excellent crops were raised. During that year Asiatic cholera came up the river, and a great many people died.

DOES ITS OWN TALKING.

"The tariff is doing its own talking," said Governor McKinley. It is a happy aphorism that may do good service during the campaign.

The tariff is doing a great deal of talking on its own behalf. It is saying, for example, "the 's' your sugar, twenty pounds for a dollar," used to be eight and a pound before I went to work for you." Or, "there are 'you' Americans-made crepes, ready and truly as good as any of foreign make, and they are selling as cheap as a Chicago as England's best of the quality in London. The tariff is saying that the tariff would make crepes dearer, but you see they didn't know anything about it; they are cheaper than ever!" Or it says, "just look in the store windows, just read the advertisements in the newspapers, and see what I am doing for you. The free traders told you that dry goods and clothing would be dearer on account of the tariff, but you remember what you paid for a dress or a suit of clothes a year or two ago, and you know what you would have to pay for a dress or a suit of clothes to-day; I have not made them dearer, rather cheaper." This is the tariff's own talking.

Two years ago a well-to-do merchant, who a series of papers for the later Ocean and called them "tariff bills," but to-day the tariff is very little needed that any one should talk on behalf of the tariff. Nowadays, as the governor of Ohio truly said, "the tariff is doing its own talking." And very pleasant talk it is for the American wage-earner and the American purchaser of goods.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

OUR FOREIGN COMPETITORS.

In Great Britain the wages average about one-half of the wages in the United States. Few of the working people own their homes. They have few, if any, luxuries—in fact many of our necessities of life are considered luxuries by them. Every penny earned is needed to make both ends meet, so that after years of toil there is not a dollar saved, and the poorhouse is the last home of hundreds of thousands.

In France the condition of the working people is not to be compared to that of the laborers of this country.

In Belgium two-thirds of the working class are women. Together with children they work in the mines, in the fields and in the mills. Home life as we know it is not found. They simply exist.

In Holland a man considers himself fortunate if he earns $20 a year, eats meat but once a week, and saving is out of the question.

In Italy meat is seldom eaten even by a skilled mechanic. Average wages of males, $3 per week; females, $1.50.

In Austria a mere pittance is all that is had by a large portion of the men and women even after working seventy-two hours and more per week. Coarse clothing, poor and but little food and a miserable life is the result.

In Germany, perseverance, patience, industry and economy make the laborer's lot somewhat better than in some other foreign countries.

In India and China a few cents must suffice the laborer, who lives on rice and rats.

Free trade in the United States means one of two things:

Either our goods will be made by the laborers whose condition is described above—

Or our laborers must accept the same wages and mode of living.—American Economist.

Nebraska's Combined Debt

Census bulletin No. 176, issued by the general government for the month of April, was received yesterday by Deputy Labor Commissioner

Andres. It gives a summary of national, state and local indebtedness which is to be a part of a report on wealth, debt and taxation for the eleventh census, now in preparation by J. K. Upton, special agent. This report will contain some startling facts. The average annual decrease in the material debt during the decade exceeds $100,000,000. The decrease per capita of combined national, state and local debt during the same period was from $60.73 to $32.37, while other statistics show that the value of property assessed for taxation increased meanwhile from $17,000,000,000 to $25,500,000,000, or 50 per cent, indicating a reduction of public debt and an increase of wealth for the country unprecedented at least in modern times.

The summary by states of this bulletin gives Nebraska a good standing, as a comparison of indebtedness for the years 1890 and 1880 shows, considering at the same time the population of each year.

The total combined indebtedness including counties, municipalities and school districts of Nebraska less the sinking fund of 1890, was $15,536,720, population, 1,058,010; for 1880, $7,489,974, population, 452,402.

The per capita of the combined debt in 1890 was $14.67, and in 1880, $16.56. The state debt of 1890 was only $253,879, while in 1880 it was $439,799. Older states make less favorable showing in the matter of decrease in the per capita debt. For instance, the per capita of Iowa's combined debt in 1890 was $5.90, while in 1880 it was only $5.01. While Iowa's per capita debt is small it has increased instead of decreased. A majority of the states have a per capita debt ranging from above that of Nebraska's and very few go lower.

This state makes a very good showing in county and municipal debt. The county debt in 1890 amounted to $5,510,175, and in 1880 it was $5,126,362. The municipal debt in 1890 was $7,124,506; in 1880, $1,102,172. Quite an increase is apparent in the school district debt, which is accounted for by the vast number of magnificent new buildings erected within the past ten years. The school district debt of 1880 was only $728,641 as compared with $2,648,212 in 1890. Like Nebraska a large number of surrounding states show an increase in county and municipal debt, corresponding to an increase of population.

On the first of this month I was attacked in the knee and suffered severely for two days, when I prepared a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it relieved me almost instantly. I therefore most cheerfully recommend it to those who are similarly afflicted everywhere.—R. D.
