PRESIDENTS who deserve second terms usually get them. Only two presidents—Lincoln and Grant—since Jackson have been thus honored because only two have deserved the honor. Harrison is all right.

The editor of this paper met Judge Ramsey this morning and told him that we were opposed to his being city attorney. The judge replied that he knew nothing of the attempt to appoint him as city attorney and that he would not accept, as he had more work than he could attend to properly already.

Isn't it strange that the tariff "reform" press has quite avoided all mention of the fact that the Hon. T. Jefferson Coolidge, who has just been appointed minister to France, is a great grandson of Thomas Jefferson? Mr. Coolidge is an enthusiastic believer in Jeffersonian principles of democracy, and was always a member of the democratic party until 1888; but in that year Cleveland's free trade message drove him over to the republicans. Free trade never did harmonize with Jeffersonian principles.—American Economist.

WILSON ANSWERS CLEVELAND AND McMILLIN.

Ex-President Cleveland delivered a stump speech in Rhode Island on April 2; Congressman McMILLIN, of Tennessee spoke on the Free Wool bill on March 9; Congressman Wilson, of West Virginia, addressed the house of representatives on that measure April 7. The following are extracts from these speeches:

MR. CLEVELAND. At any rate, the country has found life harder since this year has been a cheapening of form. I, e. the McKinley everything that men may law than before, make to sell except MR. McMILLIN. The laborer has been controlled by the forces of trusts, and this temporary for the roof that temporary cheapening shelters him, for the McKinley bill as it is that cover his back. He has had to pay more for the lin- en he wears, the ham- mer and the hoe with which he works.

MR. WILSON. During the past year there has been a cheapening of form. I, e. the McKinley everything that men may law than before, make to sell except MR. McMILLIN. The laborer has been controlled by the forces of trusts, and this temporary for the roof that temporary cheapening shelters him, for the McKinley bill as it is that cover his back. He has had to pay more for the lin- en he wears, the ham- mer and the hoe with which he works.

Messrs. Cleveland, McMILLIN and Wilson are all free traders. The only difference between them is this: Mr. Wilson is honest; Messrs. Cleveland and McMILLIN are not.

TRIUMPHS OF REPUBLICANITY.

In making sugar free, the republican party looked both before and after. We found our farm products practically excluded from Spanish America and Central Europe. The very countries whose sugar products we were about to relieve of duties maintained against us a solid war of commercial exclusion; some at the dictation of home governments, as Cuba; others to provide revenue, as the republics of the south; others, like France and Germany, to save their markets for their own farmers.

The act of 1890, without exposing a single domestic interest, by a brief provision, gave the president a limited discretion to restore the sugar duties, with others heretofore remitted, in our dealing with every country that after a specified time refused to deal fairly by the American farm. Under that simple provision, already sustained by our highest court, we have concluded treaties opening nearly all of Latin America to our merchandise, including breadstuffs and meat, at nominal rates of duty in exchange for the free admission of sugar into our market place.—Congressman Dolliver.

The democratic city administration showed its hand last night in great shape, disappointing the public generally and expectedly. The nomination of George Poisal for street commissioner will be looked upon as the result of a bargain and sale from the late lamented city election. THE HERALD has no personal war on Mr. Poisal, but, as a republican, we cannot understand why he is taken up by this democratic administration and given the fat office of street commissioner.

The nomination of Judge Ramsey is another curious arrangement open to criticism, demonstrating the lack of available timber in the democratic camp for city attorney. THE HERALD believes that Judge Ramsey has no business with this appointment. Attorneys of this bar who have business know that he has scarcely the time to transact the county court business and is carrying, continually, a large share of his business under advisement. If Mayor Butler is appointing republicans to office, here is an office he could fill with a good lawyer who would have the time to attend to city business. Going into the county court and appointing a judge whose court has jurisdiction of a majority of the cases which will arise against the city corporation is an unheard of thing. The appointment is ridiculous, and without precedent. We admit the scarcity of first-class democratic timber for city attorney.

NOT ELIGIBLE.

Judge Ramsey is not eligible, in our opinion, to hold the office of city attorney. If he is, the mayor can close the county court against all citizens who have claims against the city for all amounts up to $1,000.

NEBRASKA WEATHER SERVICE

Report of Crops in the Different Counties for Week Ending May 6.

The week has been everywhere cool and cloudy and the condition of the ground, saturated by previous rains, has delayed farm work which is now fully a week behind last year.

The temperature has been everywhere low, varying from three to seven degrees below the normal in various parts of the state and there has been less than the normal amount of sunshine. Over the state generally the rainfall has been below the normal amount and in most places less than half an inch in the southern part of the state more than an inch fell, and in the Blue river valley it exceeded four inches falling principally in local rains on Saturday night.

Plowing for corn has progressed slowly and little or no corn has been planted during the week, owing to the cold, wet condition of the ground, and in the southeastern part of the state all farming operations have been practically stopped. Small grain although backward is generally reported as in good condition but in a few localities if it has been somewhat damaged by the wet weather.

In southern Nebraska plum and cherry trees are in bloom being about a week later than last year.
