Discharged Them.

Andrew Buckley and Lafe Howard, the young men arrested in Antelope county charged with clouds roll by. stealing wheat last February, had their preliminary hearing before Judge Archer yesterday. County Attorney Travis prosecuted, while Mathew Gering defended. After the prosecution had concluded the testimony for the state, which was given by Jasper Clausen and wife -and Clausen is a monumental liar, not being able to tell the same story twice, and his wife is not much better-Attorney Gering made a motion to have Buckley discharged. The motion was sustained and the hearing of Howard went on, but as the evidence failed to prove conclusively that he was the man, he was also discharged.

Attorney Gering is not sure just at present, but thinks he will begin suit against S. Idyll for damages caused by the arrest of Buck-ft was a happy crowd that gathered at the commodious residence of ex-Commissioner John Clements last Saturday evening to do honor to Mrs. Clements' fifty-second anniversary. The guests, numbering nearly seventy-five, came in reponse to an invitation given by Mr. Clements, entirely unknown to his wife. To her it was one of those pleasant surprises better known to those who have been the recipient of such his whole left side being helpless. exhibited riendship. Mrs. Minnie Clements and Mrs. Belle Church prepared the refreshments for the occasion, which were delicious and palateable to the most fastidious epicurean, being supplemented with strawberries and cream. The evening was spent in games and pastimes usually indulged in at ashionable gatherings. As the hands of the clock neared Sunday he guests prepared to go, only recretting that time had sped so uickly by. Before the gathering ispersed Rev. C. H. Gilmore offered word of prayer, invoking divine pprobation upon her in whose onor this gathering was instituted, idding her many returns of pleasnt anniversaries.-Echo.

A Fleasant Gathering

The Staid Old Missouri Becomes a Raging Torrent.

The Lincoln Journal says: The erratic Missouri has not made up her mind just what she will do up in the region of Florence lake, but there are signs of her cutting loose and sweeping down through the old channel of remote ages. If she does, the damage would be tremendous. As the case now stands the river is higher than it has ever been since the memorable spring of 1881, when on April 25 it reached an altitude of twenty-three feet and nine and one-half inches above low water mark. The river is now Reeves and Green, two of the base eleven feet and three inches above alarming rate of eight inches an Mrs. Geo. E. Dovey and daughter hour. At this rate it will require Ethel, were Omaha passengers this but six or seven hours to bring it on a level with the surface of Florence lake, in which event an avalanche of water would rush down this narrow valley and engulf in the twinkling of an eye almost the whole surrounding country.

ANXIOUS CROWDS WAITING.

Large crowds of excited men and anxious property holders are gathered at the threatened point, breathlessly watching the inroads of the current. Separating the extended that will not require more than the time above mentioned to turn the raging waters of the river into the channel cut years before the settlement of the country. The opinion prevailing among the men watching the earth-annihilating torrent is teen districts have fine natural that if the rise continues until morngroves, twenty-five sent no report ing the river will inevitably be willows, reeds and rice stalks.

A Wild Goose Chase. Yesterday afternoon a part of the freshman zoological class of the high school went pigeon hunting. Hearing that Miss Grace Walker had an over-abundant supply of the desired birds at her home a few miles south of town, they decided to make the raid in that vicinity So Mr. Luke Wiles, who is always very obliging on such occasions, furnished a team and lumber wagon. After reaching the farm the hunters made straight for the pigeons. When most of them had been frightened away a raid on the nests began. The boys proved to be the most merciful hunters, as Dennis McHugo, the blacksmith they, on finding a young pigeon without feathers, and two eggs, restroke yesterday afternoon.
