THE present administration has not made any loud professions of devotion to the cause of civil service reform, but it has done ten times as much for the improvement of the service as was done by the preceding one.

THE democrats are now trying to carry the campaign on by the anti-silver men howling for Grover Cleveland for president and the free silver men are howling for Boies of Iowa, for vice president. If that isn't straddling the silver plank we do not know what is.

THE Charleston News and Courier says: "The 'American Protective Tariff league' has rolled up its sleeves and taken off its coat for active work during the presidential fight now forming." Certainly; why should it not? It has nothing to conceal and the more people know of the McKinley law and the tariff the better. No law ever spoke more eloquently and persuasively in its own defense.

CONGRESS is adding to the area of the Yellowstone park. With its new boundaries it will be larger than Connecticut. When the people at large do more long distance traveling the value of these incomparable public preserves will become more appreciated. It is a credit to us all that congress is adding this wonderland more actively rather than narrowing its boundaries.

THE SILVER CONFERENCE.
The consent of Great Britain to participate in the conference renders it highly probable that Germany also will accept the invitation. There has been no reason to doubt that France and the other nations of the Latin Union would accept the invitation and join with the United States in an earnest effort to settle the vexed question. Their difficulty has all the time been that they could not afford to adopt a monetary system antagonistic to that of Great Britain and Germany, even with the support of the United States. But if all the great commercial nations could unite upon any plan, so that the interests of some would no longer be sacrificed for the benefit of others, a monetary adjustment for the whole world might be reached. It is in the highest degree creditable to the administration that it has taken the initiative in the matter with such success. The silver producing states will assuredly be brought to realize that, while the administration can not and will not assent to free coinage of silver by the United States alone, throwing upon the country all the responsibilities, risks and sacrifices of an effort to strengthen and broaden the monetary system of the civilized world, it is nevertheless ready and anxious to do all that can be done in conjunction with other nations to correct the evils which have grown out of the disuse of silver.—New York Tribune.

THE river and harbor bill passed by the house makes provision for the expenditure of about $48,000,000, or over $11,000,000 more than was appropriated by the preceding house. We have heard a great deal about the "billion dollar congress," and here is a specimen of how the democrats corrected the extravagances of republican. With two exceptions, this is the largest bill of the kind that has ever been passed, and when the amount of contracts which it authorizes are considered it far surpasses any previous one. The most of the money goes to the south, of course, as that section not only has more creeks and sloughs than any other, but also casts more democratic votes. It was not at all difficult to get a quorum for the passage of a measure that is thus profitable to that part of the country. The democratic members were all in their seats and were eager to vote for it. Mr. Holman made a perfunctory opposition to some of its features, but it went through, nevertheless, by a majority of 120. The south demanded its passage, and what the south demands she always gets when the democratic party has the power to give it to her.

This is only a portion, however, of the appropriations made and to be made by the present house. The total to date, with the additions that are unavoidable, is at least $50,000,000 in excess of the amount appropriated at the first session of the last republican congress. These figures thoroughly refute the democratic pretenses of economy, and show that not a cent is to be left in the treasury if the house can have its way. Every democratic member has a job of some kind in the interest of his district, and the aggregate of such schemes is unprecedented in all the history of the government.

The Handsomest Lady in Plattsmouth
Marked to a friend the other day that she knew Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lunge was a superior remedy, as it stopped her cough instantly when other remedies had no effect whatever. So to prove this and to convince you of its merits any druggist will give you a sample bottle free. Large bottles 50c and $1.

A Strange Reunion.
A strange reunion took place at the Dunning Insane asylum Thursday afternoon, an error on the part of a criminal court bailiff leading to the meeting of husband and wife, who thought each other dead.

George and Lena Ebbegan lived happily at Oak Park. One night, not so long ago, George did not come home at his usual hour, and his wife started to look for him. He returned home and then went out on a hunt for her. While she was wandering around the police picked her up, and after a short stay at the Detention hospital she was sent to Dunning, her identity being unrevealed. Almost the same performance was gone through with the husband. He was to be sent to the poorhouse, but an intelligent bailiff got him mixed with an insane patient named Larson and he was sent to the asylum.
The chief physician, who knew Hillman, soon straightened the case out when "Larson" was placed on the books. He learned the unfortunate man's story, and Wednesday located the wife in one of the cottages occupied by women. The matter was reported by Superintendent Sawyer to the county commissioners, and Thursday, in the presence of Commissioners Spofford, Ballard and Stanbur, the reunion took place. Hillman will stay at the poorhouse until his wife is well enough to leave the asylum.—Chicago Tribune.

Hot Weather in Gold Fields.
The new African gold fields are proving profitable beyond all expectations. It was prophesied about one year ago that the output of the Witwatersrand diggings would reach 70,000 ounces in December, 1891, and one year later 110,000 ounces. Already the first prophecy has been borne out, the average being about 75,000 ounces a month. It is a warm thought and not unpleasant still, that when the latest reports from Natal were written, from which the facts above were taken, and when the people of this country were shivering before the blasts of winter, Natal was simply scorching under a temperature of 120 degs. in the shade, a figure which was reached on several occasions during Christmas week. All trade was abandoned, the people being content to exist without exertion in such an awful heat.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Needs of a Physician.
The physician needs more mental diversion. It would be well for him to cultivate flowers, to study some science, or some department of history, literature or art, or to take up some simple mechanical occupation, to which he could turn from time to time for refreshment.
He needs more active exercise. It would be well for him oftener to substitute the bicycle for the carriage. He needs more sleep, too—fully seven hours—and as his sleep is often broken in upon at night, he should form the habit of sleeping at odd moments, even by day.—Dr. Minot.

Newspapers Have Increased.
The number of newspapers published in the whole United States thirty years ago was less than 5,000. Now the number of newspapers published in the region west of the Mississippi aggregates 5,509, of which number 3,122 are published west of the Missouri river.—Edward Rosewater's Omaha Address.

F. G. Fricke & Co., the druggists desire us to publish the following testimonial as they handle the remedy and believe it to be reliable: "I bought a 50-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and applied it to my limbs, which have been afflicted with rheumatism at intervals for one year. At the time I bought the Pain Balm I was unable to walk. I can truthfully say that Pain Balm has completely cured me.—R. H. FARR, Holywood, Ken. Mr. A. B. Cox, the leading druggist at Holywood, vouches for the truth of the above statement.

Some of the Grand Army boys may be interested in the following from Alex. B. Pope, A. D. C., Commander, Dep't. Tenn. and Ga. He says: "We have had an epidemic of whooping cough here, (Stewart, Tenn.) and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been the only medicine that has done any good." There is no danger from whooping cough, when this remedy is freely given. It completely controls the disease. 50 cent bottles for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co., druggists.
