

SILVER ANNIVERSARY.

Nebraska Celebrating Her
Twenty-fifth Birthday.

LINCOLN DRAWING LARGE CROWDS

Distinguished Speakers Review the Past and Predict the Future and Recalling the Struggles and Trials of the Early Settlers.

The silver anniversary celebration of Nebraska's admission into the union was inaugurated at Lincoln last evening. The city was crowded with people and the streets were gaily decorated. Exercises last evening were purely of an oratorical and literary nature. The Lansing theater was crowded at an early hour. The main floor of the auditorium was reserved for the men and women who have resided in Nebraska for over a quarter of a century or more. The old settlers were out in full force and the entire auditorium was filled with men and women whose frosty brows bore the touch of time. Upon the stage was ex-Governor Robert W. Furnas, and James W. Dawes, and Judge M. L. Hayward, of Nebraska City; Hon. T. M. Marquette, of Lincoln; Hon. W. F. Norris of Norfolk; Mr. Mad. don of Fall City, the latter being the oldest living pioneer of the state and Mayor Weir.

Back of the speakers were massed the Lincoln festival chorus of 100 voices. The exercises of the evening opened with a magnificent rendition of "The Heavens Are Telling," from Hadyn's "Messiah." Short addresses were made by ex-Governor Furnas, ex-Governor Dawes, Judge Marquette and Judge Hayward, and the final oration of the evening was delivered by Hon. W. F. Norris of Ponca, who spoke on "Nebraska as a State." Judge Norris' address was a fitting close to the exercises of the evening. It was a masterly effort and seldom has the grand state of Nebraska been so eloquently described. The speaker touched upon the wonderful fertility of soil, the marvelous development of agricultural resources and the magnificent future of the state. "Nebraska," he said, "is the great home state of the Union, the highest dignity and honor which any state can attain. Nebraska is the central state of the Union—the keystone state of America."

Judge Norris' address closed the exercises at the Lansing opera house, the last word not being spoken until after 11 o'clock.

County Clerks Organize.

The county clerks resumed their session yesterday morning at 10:30 in the senate chamber, and the committee on constitution and by-laws reported a code, of which the preamble reads:

"We, the county clerks of the state of Nebraska, believing that by a united and vigorous effort, legislation may be effected that will inure to the benefit of the incumbents of the offices of county clerk and ex-officio registrar of deeds, etc., and to the welfare of the public at large, do hereby recommend the organization of an association to be known as 'The Association of County Clerks of Nebraska.'"

The constitution limits the membership to county clerks and their deputies, except that honorary memberships may be retained after expiration of office, and defines the association's officers.

The second Tuesday in December of each year is designated as the day to hold the annual meeting and the next meeting will be held at Lincoln.

After the constitution had been adopted, the following officers were elected:

President—J. D. Woods, Lancaster.
Vice-President—R. M. Taggart, Otoe.
Secretary—F. J. Sackett, Douglas.
Treasurer—J. Kavanagh, Greeley.
Executive board—G. W. Phillips of Platte, John C. Maher of Dawes, E. P. McCullom of Butler, S. O. Salisbury of Sarpy, and L. W. Shuman of Hamilton.

District Court.

The jury in the case of Hays vs. Mokaska Manufacturing Co., after being out forty-three hours, brought in a verdict for Hays for $50.

The jury is still out in the Fairfield vs. Karnes case.

This afternoon the case of Stoetler vs. Sam Archer will be tried. During Archer's term as chief of police he arrested Stoetler and kept him in jail over night and now Stoetler wants $1,000 damages for false imprisonment.

H. C. McMaken & Son are now prepared to deliver ice to any part of the city. Telephone No. 72.

THE ROUND-UP.

The schools close June 17. Telephone No. 72 for your summer's ice.

Dennis Murry and Mary Skomal were married this forenoon.

The 9-months-old babe of August Holmberg died this morning at 10 o'clock.

John Pittman of Nehawka came in this morning from Ottawa, Kansas, and is going on home this evening.

The young men will give their return dancing party Saturday evening, instead of Friday evening, as stated last night.

Shiloh's catarrh remedy—a positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria and Canker mouth. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

The Missouri Pacific is now running all stock trains to South Omaha through this city. Last Tuesday evening was when the first through stock train for the south passed through.

Miss Georgia and Maggie Oliver left this morning for Central City. They go to attend the wedding of their friend Miss Nellie Taylor, who will be married next Wednesday to a Mr. Withrow.

FOR SALE—Two desirable residence lots in Orchard Hill addition to Plattsmouth, within a block of the Missouri Pacific depot. For particulars call on or address THE HERALD office.

Mr. White, of the Brick and Terra Cota works, has contracted to supply 125 cars of brick for the new government building in Omaha. The contract calls for two cars every day until the 125 cars are delivered. This speaks well for one of Plattsmouth's industries and shows that the brick made here is of the first class.

Chief of Police Tom Fry informed a HERALD reporter that he took the men—sentenced by Judge Archer to work out their fines on the street—up where the street commissioner is cutting Eight street to work, but after he had taken them up there he had to bring them back on account of not having any shovels for them to work with.

We knew Editor Polk of the Plattsmouth News was tricky, but we did not believe him capable of stooping so far beneath his profession as to garble an article in such an untruthful manner as the one he credited to this paper last week. The News is welcome to use the shears on the Republican, but it is not showing a fraternal spirit to use the lead pencil in the manner referred to above.—Weeping Water Republican.

A purse has been raised for the benefit of Editor Burton of the News to get him to come out here to write up the little springs of water and lovely shady dells. His poetic fabric can be sharpened on the Eagle's beak.—Weeping Water Eagle. Burton has found it impossible to go to Weeping Water to write up the "little springs of water and lovely shady dells" on account of increasing business (?) but has delegated the slick and smooth Editor Polk to do the business.

Twenty-five young men from the First congressional district assembled at the office of Congressman Bryan in Lincoln yesterday to undergo the competitive examination for an appointment to the West Point military academy. But three of them succeeded in passing the somewhat rigorous physical examination. Their names are John P. Jack, Peru; Edward Y. Porter, College View; Horace F. Bishop, Lincoln. They were undergoing the regular examination as to their knowledge of English branches yesterday afternoon.

A large sized smile stole over the countenance of the public last evening on reading "Current Comments" in the Evening News, Editor Polk's paper. It appears Editor Sherman has started out on a tour of the county, probably collecting from his democratic subscribers, who take their democracy "without money and without price," and the News grows humorous over it in its usual placid style when its political editor descends to humor. But the richness of the joke comes in when it is understood that the News concern, with its paucity of subscribers, readers and supporters, is starting the great and only reliable political editor out on a tour of Cass county to beat up subscribers for the News. When that missionary of morals and veracity gets home, the one subscriber which Brother Sherman caught will be just about one hundred per cent in advance of the support the "slick" editor of the News will bring in. Polk poking fun at Sherman is enough to give the horses of all Cass the lockjaw. One blessing, however, arises from the pilgrimage of the editor and proprietor (?) of the News, and that is, Gus Hyers will give us a readable paper in his absence.

The second series of the league games will open in this city Saturday with Hastings, who play two games. Both games will be called at 3:30. Beatrice will be here for two games on Monday (Decoration day). The first game will be called at 10 in the forenoon and the second at 4 p. m. As Tuesday is an open day, and Beatrice and Plattsmouth have a postponed game to play, there will be a game Tuesday between the two clubs, called at 3:30 p. m. Kearney will play here Wednesday and Thursday, June 1 and 2. On Wednesday a postponed game will be played with Kearney, besides the regular game. Both games will be played in the afternoon, and it will only cost 25 cents to see them both. The games will be called at 2 and 4 p. m. Grand Island will play a postponed game Friday afternoon, in addition to the regular schedule game, and one game Saturday. Fremont has two postponed games to play. One will be played Sunday at 10:30 and the other Monday afternoon, when two games will be played, called at 2 and 4.

There will be five postponed games played, and three of them will be played in such a manner as to allow the people to see two games for the price of one.

THE HERALD predicts that by the time the team leave on their next trip they will be in second place in the per cent column, if not first.

Plattsmouth will play an exhibition game to-morrow with Glenwood. A large crowd of the cranks expect to go to Glenwood to see the game played.

"Just Like a Woman."

Marie Heath, the comedy sunbeam of "A Turkish Bath" company, is singing with great success a new song entitled "Poor Little Dolly," or "Just Like a Woman." It was written and composed by Miss Heath, and ranks first in her extensive repertoire.

There is a sad story in connection with this song, whereby a soubrette loses her life, and an ingenue is horribly married.

In singing the song Miss Heath uses a doll. At the beginning of the season she engaged a small doll of the soubrette order, rather small for the part, but the best available doll talent at liberty. She was named "Lady Washington," in honor of the city where she made her first appearance. She appeared with Miss Heath until the company reached San Francisco. The fatigue and wear were telling on her delicate constitution, so Miss Heath engaged an ingenue doll, who made her appearance at a children's matinee under the name of "Lady Francisco."

Like everything else in San Francisco, she was beautiful, a perfect blonde, tall and graceful, with lovely blue eyes. She could use her head and arms with artistic effect, and made a most pronounced hit.

A great rivalry sprung up between "Lady Washington" and "Lady Francisco," and Miss Heath had to relegate "Lady Washington" to the position of understudy, which so grieved her sensitive, artistic nature that she threw herself under a falling trunk and was crushed to death.

"Lady Francisco," having the field to herself, was more charming than ever. She made herself a favorite with the company, and shared the applause with Miss Heath. She stood the long, tedious journeys very well until she reached the Northern Pacific railroad; then she became rheumatic. Her neck and arms grew stiff, and she failed fast, until at last she could not appear on the stage, and finally poor "Lady Francisco" met her death in a Taylor theatrical trunk at Helena, Montana.

Miss Heath sent her remains to her home in Galesburg, where she was laid away with nothing but the sad memories of a past greatness to be told about her.

Poor Little Dolly! Just like a woman when gifted with youth and beauty, all bow at her shrine, but when age with stealthy steps overtakes her, she is neglected for some new favorite, and left to dream over her past conquests in solitude, "the world forgetting and by the world forgot." * * * * * On Christmas Miss Heath was presented by the members of her company with a large French doll, and she is now one among the many beautiful things to admire in "A Turkish Bath."
