HILL dodged the vote on the silver question in the senate the other day which emphasizes the fact that he is nothing if not a democrat.

The democrats of Kentucky seem to have the idea this year that it matters not who they put up for president they can not win; which is about correct.

The name of David B. Hill was hissed in the New Jersey democratic convention, a fact which will hardly facilitate the writing a letter of withdrawal on his part in favor of Cleveland.

It is true, as Senator Sherman says, that "the only way to make gold and silver work in harmony is to put them on a ratio fixed upon market value," and the republican party will never consent to any other method of adjusting the matter.

UNCLE SAM still leads the van. Just last Monday the government made a test of the new armor plate material, nickel steel. The armor plating used is the heaviest yet manufactured. The 500 pound projectile rebounded from the plate without breaking or penetrating it in a dangerous extent. One of the balls bounded back to the muzzle of the gun, a distance of 135 feet. One of the projectiles was of recent American manufacture and was unscathed by the contact. The foregoing projectiles used were broken by the impact. This shows that the United States is on the lead for both offensive and defensive armor.

COMMERCIAL disaster has followed the repeal of tariff laws or the radical reduction of duties in every instance in the history of this country except in 1846, at which time we were engaged in a war with Mexico, which was followed immediately by the Crimean war, when England had most of her pauper labor enlisted as soldiers. Even then distress was only delayed. When the facts of war abroad and of the discovery of gold in California wore off, the free trade tariff of 1846 got in its work and brought on the delayed but still inevitable panic. In 1857 the country learned that while the evil might be retarded and delayed, ultimate escape from the panic that always follows democratic "tariff reform" was impossible.

FRUIT JARS ARE ALSO CHEAPER. "Every poor man buys fruit jars, and fruit jars are going to be higher on account of the McKinley law." That was the cry of the free traders two years ago. A year ago it was actively proclaimed that the prices had "gone up." Terrible thing, and all on account of the McKinley law. But thrifty housewives went on canning cherries and raspberries and all the berries in their season. Meanwhile, prices on glass fruit jars are lower now than they have ever been before in the history of the United States. This declaration is made on the statement of the agent of one of the largest glass fruit jar dealers in the west. Presumably he knew what he was talking about, for he was prepared to sell the article in any quantity desired. He stated that last year for a short time there was an advance in prices, but it was not legitimately due to the McKinley law, or to any other law, except that the demand exceeded the supply of jars. The advance did not come early in the season. It came after the dimensions of the fruit crop began to be realized. But this year fruit canners can buy all the jars they want for lower prices than they ever paid before, and they will get American made jars for their money.

The Burlington, Ia., Hawkeye has made a new discovery in the road problem, which at least has the virtue of cheapness. It says that the discovery of his new idea was made at Carthage, Ill., several years ago during the fair of the Hancock county agricultural board. The weather had been very dry and by the middle of the week the roads leading to the fair grounds had become nearly hub deep in dust, no amount of sprinkling seeming to have any effect. Finally as a last resort a number of loads of straw were scattered along the principal highway to the fair grounds and water sprinklers kept going all night. To the surprise and gratification of the good people of that city the plan proved a fine success and the dust was kept "laid" during the remaining days of the fair without difficulty. Now comes the interesting part of the story. During the various muddy spells that have occurred since the plan was utilized, it was found that the highway thus "strawed" was always in the best condition. Some wise farmers down in the lower part of Hancock county, continues the Hawkeye, taking note of this have spread straw over several hundred yards of very bad roadway in their vicinity, and it is now stated that this piece of road is to-day the only good road in that part of the country. The Bowen Chronicle, in referring to the matter, says: "Straw makes a road that is not muddy in wet weather. Don't burn up old hay or straw; it is just as easy to have it on the roads. There is enough straw wasted each winter to cover the roads of the country."

Nothing New Under the Sun. Not even through cars to Denver, Ogden, Salt Lake City, San Francisco and Portland. This is simply written to remind you that the Union Pacific is the pioneer in running through cars to the above mentioned points and that the present through car arrangement is unexcelled. Catarrh in New England. Ely's Cream Balm gives satisfaction to every one using it for catarrhal troubles—G. K. Mellor drugist, Worcester, Mass. I believe Ely's Cream Balm is the best article for catarrh ever offered the public.—Bush & Co. druggists, Worcester, Mass. An article of real merit. C. P. Alden druggist, Springfield, Mass. Those who use it speak highly of it.—Geo. A. Hill, druggist Springfield, Mass. Cream Balm has given satisfactory results. W. P. Draper, druggist, Springfield, Mass.

Some of the Grand Army boys may be interested in the following from Alex. B. Pope, A. D. C., Commander, Dep't. Tenn. and Ga. He says: "We have had an epidemic of whooping cough here, (Stewart, Tenn.) and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been the only medicine that has done any good." There is no danger from whooping cough, when this remedy is freely given. It completely controls the disease. 50 cent bottles for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co., druggists.

To Aid Nebraska. The Burlington & Missouri River railroad has prepared and has now ready for distribution a new hand book, treating of the opportunities which Nebraska, northwestern Kansas and eastern Colorado offer to farmers, business men and investors.

This book has been gotten out for the information of eastern people, particularly those who have friends west of the Missouri; it is written in pleasant, easily understood style, by one who thoroughly knows his subject, and is confidently recommended as likely to stimulate immigration to a very considerable extent.

It pictures Nebraska and those portions of Kansas and Colorado adjacent to it, not as they might be, but as they are.

It is thought that the best method of distributing these hand books is as follows: Parties in Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado, having friends in the east who are likely to be interested in such literature as this, are invited to send the names and addresses of these latter to Mr. J. Francis, Gen'l Passenger and Ticket Agent, Burlington Route, Omaha, Neb., who will take pleasure in forwarding, postpaid, to such addresses as many copies as desired.

F. G. Fricke & Co., the druggists desire us to publish the following testimonial as they handle the remedy and believe it to be reliable: "I bought a 50-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and applied it to my limbs, which have been afflicted with rheumatism at intervals for one year. At the time I bought the Pain Balm I was unable to walk. I can truthfully say that Pain Balm has completely cured me.—R. H. FARR, Hollywood, Kan. Mr. A. B. Cox, the leading druggist at Hollywood, vouches for the truth of the above statement."

HOME PROTECTION COLUMN.

CONDUCTED BY THE W. C. T. U.

O the wrongs, the misery, the suffering, the woes unnumbered and unutterable which are being heaped to-day upon the heads of the helpless and the innocent, upon wives and mothers and little children through the agency of the drink traffic! Murder, outrage, suicide, ruin, disgrace—so the awful story of the work of rum goes on day by day through the hideous catalogue of vice and crime. What are you doing, christian men and women of the land, to turn aside this torrent of death and desolation? What have you done, what are you going to do?

The national commission of the Columbian exposition has decided to have a synopsis of all petitions against the opening of the gates on Sunday and the sale of liquor on grounds printed for the benefit of the commission, in order that the members might have them for reference when the time comes for the discussion of the questions. The right of petition was eulogized as one of the dearest of American institutions.

The New Jersey legislature passed with but three dissenting votes, a bill to close the state exhibit, and requested the closing of the Columbian exposition gates on Sunday. This makes five states that have responded to our women's earnest pleading.

We are glad to see that increased emphasis is being laid in many quarters upon the importance of temperance work in and through the churches. We need stronger, more frequent and direct teaching on this subject from the pulpit, and we need more of the practice of temperance, and especially of total abstinence, in the pews. A tremendous responsibility is resting upon the Christian church to-day with regard to the liquor traffic. It has the power within it to sweep this traffic from the earth, if it would but set forth. The only question is, when will it put it forth? Surely the cry of the multitudes who are being crushed under the merciless tread of liquor monster is not going up to God in vain: "Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord, I will repay."

Women throughout the state of Illinois voted on April 5 for school trustees. In Evanston Madame Willard, in her eighty-ninth year, cast the first ballot of her life, as the fulfillment of a lofty purpose.

To labor leaders, temperance leaders, one and all, we have to say: Be of brave heart, ye eager scouts of humanity's vast army. Strike out into the forest and blaze the trees. Slowly we march, we of the rank and file, but we are following straight behind you. Don't you catch sometimes away ahead there the muffled music of our coming feet? Oh, yes, the human biped is a timid creature who loves to march in platoons rather than to strike out swiftly and alone, but he carries a jewel here behind the forehead, and is therefore the single sentient creature concerning whom there is hope. You can change his opinions though they are bone of his bone, flesh of his flesh, and dearer to him than his own right eye. There are forces that can disintegrate from the igneous rock of his prejudice the broader stratifications of a righteous law. What with "line upon line, precept upon precept, here a little and there a little" of persuasion founded upon justice, the work is done.
