

M'KINLEY IS CHAIRMAN.

The Governor of Ohio is Made Permanent Chairman.

M'KINLEY IS A HARRISON MAN.

The Permanent Organization Effected at 12:25 To-day—The Committee on Platform Will Not be Able to Report Before Late This Evening.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 7.—Perhaps it was fitting that the patriotic airs "Columbia," "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "The Star Spangled Banner" should prelude the national convention. Scarcely had the last echo of these inspiring melodies died away when Chairman Clarkson rapped the republican convention to order.

Wm. Rush, chancellor of the university of Lincoln offered a prayer. Hon. M. H. De Young, of California, one of the secretaries of the national committee, read the official call for the convention.

Fassett Unanimously Chosen. Chairman Clarkson then announced the selection of Hon. J. S. Fassett of New York for temporary chairman. There was a moment's hush, everybody awaiting possible action by the Harrison element in opposition to Fassett's selection, but the anticipated contest did not take place. No one was placed in nomination in opposition to him, and he was declared unanimously elected.

When Clarkson presented him the followers of Blaine broke forth in prolonged, rousing cheers.

Fassett, in his speech accepting the position, thanked the convention for the honor conferred, and asked the generous forbearance and co-operation of the convention. He said that it was eminently fitting that the republican convention should be held in a temple erected for the display of the products of the protection to American industries. [Great applause.]

McKinley Permanent Chairman. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 8.—At 11:25 this morning the convention was called to order by Temporary Chairman J. Sloat Fassett and at 12:25 the chairman of the committee on permanent organization announced the name of Hon. William McKinley, governor of Ohio, as permanent chairman. Major McKinley was escorted to the chair amid thunderous applause.

A Trip Up the River.

SUNNIT GARDEN, PLATTSMOUTH, June 6, 1892.—Editor HERALD: I thought that perhaps I could furnish a few items of interest to your readers in regard to a picnic excursion up the river from this place Sunday last on the sail-boat "Fred Thomas," which is forty-one feet in length and of about eighteen tons capacity. The weather was pleasant, accompanied by a good south wind. The company numbered thirty-one, consisting of eighteen children, of ages ranging from one year to thirteen years, and thirteen grown people, all equipped with baskets well filled with provisions of all kinds, and plenty of ice and ice cream freezers. They all assembled on the bank at 10 a. m., and inside of ten minutes we were sailing up the river at the rate of ten miles an hour, under the command of Capt. C. H. Petersen, who showed good skill in navigation. We had some trouble at the mouth of the Platte in finding the right channel, and it would have been better if we had kept to the Missouri, although we got through all right as it was. At about 11:30 we reached Dutch Point, above the mouth of the Platte. The natives there—numbering about twenty-five—were assembled on the bank to see what was coming, which made a miniature picture of the landing of Columbus at San Salvador. Salutes were exchanged by the waving of white handkerchiefs. We halted, but, hearing a hostile demonstration, did not land. At that time the wind was blowing furiously and we were moving along at the rate of forty miles an hour. In getting above Arkeo Bend we met with our first pipewreck, by the breaking of our mast-pole, thus letting our sail rip down. Then we floated back about two miles to Dutch Point, and up the vessel and selected our picnic ground, which was a beautiful glen, carpeted by blue-grass and shaded by native elms and boulders. In a short time the sound of the bark whistle was heard in the woods and the merry laughter of the children engaged in playing and swinging. While the ladies busied themselves in spreading a bountiful repast under a large elm tree and the gentlemen and some of the young ladies took part in an exciting game of base ball, Captain Petersen and myself went to the boat to repair the mast-pole, which was done in a few minutes. At about 5 p. m. we embarked for home and arrived at the place of starting at 7 o'clock.

On the return, in rounding Dutch Point, my attention was drawn to the fact that it would be very easy for the railroad company or the government to change the current of the Missouri river by cutting a ditch of about forty rods' length across Dutch Point at the mouth of the Tarkeo and letting the Missouri strike the Platte at the head of the second slough coming down the Platte, which would soon cut its own channel through, making the river straight from Plattsmouth to Dutch Point, thus getting away with that east bend of the Missouri and the unlimited expense of rippapping. Respectfully,

J. W. THOMAS.

From the Cigarmakers.

HEADQUARTERS OF CIGARMAKERS' UNION No. 26, PLATTSMOUTH, NEB., JUNE 8.

The usual May day demonstrations in France passed off without a ripple to disturb the peace and serenity of the country. For months past the press on both sides of the Atlantic have teemed with highly sensational (imaginary) accounts of the terrible things that would happen on that eventful day. However, the day has come and gone, and, notwithstanding the predictions and dire forebodings of the fake press, has now passed into history, with nothing to mark its advent except the ringing speech of Julius Pepperberg on Main street of Plattsmouth on the night of the 7th of June, denouncing union men in general; and under the same union he has prospered ever since he returned from Omaha the last time. Now he wants to trample on the very men that made for him that which his foreman, C. J. Main, is so willing to sacrifice for the Plattsmouth Cigar manufactory. We hope that J. Pepperberg may take a tumble to himself and forever wipe the snake out of existence. He never did anything for himself, and much less will he do for Mr. Pepperberg, for he is a liar, and Union 267 stands ready to prove it any time he may see fit to call on them.

Union 276 wants nothing but that which rightly belongs to them—and Mr. Pepperberg is well aware of that fact—and that they must have, otherwise he cannot expect the union label. There is not money enough to purchase that little strip of blue paper, which is becoming the pet of all labor unions in the country.

Lookout for the blue label!

J. M. RAUDENBUSH, Corresponding Secretary.

Yesterday's Ball Games.

AT BEATRICE. Beatrice scored her ninth consecutive victory yesterday by winning from Grand Island in a hot game. For three innings Summers' for the visitors, was batted terrifically, three base hits and a home run being made off of him in the third and fourth innings, netting the locals five earned runs. Derrick was weak, but was well supported, retiring in the seventh in favor of Holmes. A big crowd was in attendance and the game was fully as satisfactory as the one the day before. Kennedy made several phenomenal stops and Holmes made his first fielding error of the season by muffing a fly after a hard run from outer left field.

SCORE BY INNINGS. Beatrice.....012310000-7 Grand Island.....000002100-3

SUMMARY. Runs earned—Beatrice 5, Grand Island 4. Two base hit—Slagle. Three base hits—Randall, Holohan, Holmes. Home runs—Holmes. Passed balls—Nurray 1, Jones 1. Wild pitches—Derrick 1, Holmes 1. Time of game 1:45. Umpire—Hart.

AT HASTINGS. Hastings participated in an exciting up-hill game yesterday afternoon. Kearney played a game full of ginger from start to finish. The visitors had the game won in the seventh, but the locals put on their batting clothes in the ninth and hammered out the game. Castone went into the box in the ninth, during the cannonading by Hastings, but could not save the game. The decisions of the umpire were frightful. He seemed to be completely beside himself. He received a great ovation from the grand stand. The features of the game were the hitting of Chiles, McFarland and Fear. Rohrer played a brilliant game, accepting nine difficult chances without an error. The pitching of Lippert was excellent. The score:

SCORE BY INNINGS. Hastings.....001000026-9 Kearney.....100000411-7

SUMMARY. Earned runs—Hastings 8, Kearney 1. Two base hits—McKibben, Mesmer, Pender. Three base hit—Packard. Bases stolen—Hastings 1, Kearney 2. Double play—Mesmer to Fowler to Sheehan. Struck out—Johnson 2, Hopp 4, Castone 1. Time of game—2:10. Umpire—Fulmer.

World's Fair Notes.

Jamaica has increased its world's fair appropriation to $25,000.

Chauncey M. Depew has been elected president of New York's world's fair board.

It is reported that one hundred tons of exhibits for the exposition have already been collected at Lima and Callao.

Owing to the recent increase of Great Britain's world's fair appropriation to $300,000, British exhibitors will not be charged for space, as at first determined.

The steamship lines covering the west coast of South America have agreed to carry government exhibits free and private exhibits at half price, as far as Panama. Passenger rates have also been greatly reduced.

Bavaria will send to the world's fair two professors from its institute of technology to report on the progress of the United States in technical matters.

Leigh S. Lynch, world's fair commissioner to the South Sea islands, has cabled that he has completed arrangements for an exhibit from the Philippine islands and is now devoting his attention to Java.

J. A. Bowan, special agent of the U. S. treasury and honorary commissioner of the exposition, will represent the interests of the fair in Paris.

The woolen manufacturers have resolved to make a united exhibit at the fair.

Karl Hagenbeck, famous for his ability in taming wild animals, is devoting his time in Hamburg to a group of lions, tigers, jaguars, and hyenas that he expects to bring to the fair. This group consists of fifty animals, all to be kept in one large cage. Hagenbeck has already spent a fortune on the group.

Baron de Jenne's valuable collection of prehistoric relics, it is believed, will be secured for exhibition at the fair. It comprises many rare specimens from caves in France. DeMaret, who made the collection, spent twenty-five years in the work.

A monster panorama, 445 feet long and 51 feet high, representing the Bernese Alps, with the Jungfrau in the background, has been painted for exhibition at the fair. A private exhibition of the work was recently given to the press in Berlin.
