

Nothing can be said in favor of the best medicine in the world that may not be said of the most worthless. In one case, it's true; in the other, it isn't;—but how can you distinguish?

Judge by what is done. There's only one blood-purifier that's guaranteed. It's Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and this is what's done with it; if it doesn't benefit your cure, in every case, you get your money back. Isn't it likely to be the best?

All the year round, as well as at one time as another, it cleanses and purifies the system. All blood-poisons must go. For Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Scrofula, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Erysipelas, or any blood-taint or disorder, it is an unequalled remedy.

It's the cheapest, too. With this, you pay only for the good you get. And nothing else is "just as good." It may be better—for the dealer. But he isn't the one that's to be helped.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.

For President
BENJAMIN HARRISON of Indiana.

For Vice-President
WHITELAW REID
of New York.

LET the good work in our schools go on.

OUR schools have advanced more in the last year than they ever did in any previous three years.

THERE is not another city in the state that can make such a showing for her public schools as Plattsmouth.

THERE will be more ex-officio holders at Chicago next week than have ever been known to be at a national convention before.

THE exhibit made by our public schools in Rockwood hall has changed all the growlers at the school board and teachers into giving praises to them.

THE democrats should take notice of the fact that not one of the men who tried to defeat Harrison at Minneapolis has said a word about opposing him any further.

THE closing exercises of our public schools and the exhibit which was made in Rockwood hall, speaks volumes for our public schools and excellent corps of teachers that we now have.

THE exhibition given by our schools should by all means be sent to the state fair next September. It will make one of the best advertisements that the city could invest in.

WE venture to say that a selection could be made from the exhibit by our public schools that would not only reflect credit on our town, but the whole state, if sent to the world's fair at Chicago next year.

VIRGINIA may be the mother of presidents and Kentucky of speakers of the house, but New York is decidedly and emphatically the mother of vice presidents. Eight New Yorkers—Aaron Burr, George Clinton, Daniel D. Tompkins, Martin Van Buren, Millard Fillmore, William A. Wheeler, Chester A. Arthur and Levi P. Morton—are on the roll already. Whitelaw Reid will make the ninth.

SPEAKING of "The Red, White and Blue," the Memphis Commercial says: "The republican's love for these colors is due to the fact that they are always associated in his mind with an appropriation. 'Well, hardly always,' they used to float around Memphis when 'the boys' thought they meant more than that, and democrats in Memphis thought so, too, didn't they? Our esteemed contemporary will do well not to sneer at the 'colors.' They are there to stay.

WHITELAW REID is described as a typical American by Chauncey M. Depew. Mr. Reid's career entitles him to this distinction. Starting out a poor boy at Xenia, Ohio, he educated himself, taught school, edited a small country paper, went to the war as a correspondent, won distinction as one of the best war correspondents of the Union army, became editor of the New York Tribune and then its proprietor, and distinguished himself as an American diplomat who could say what he meant and mean what he said to the people who once had a very different definition for diplomacy. Mr. Reid has not only been thoroughly American himself, but he has spread American ideas in his letters from the battle-field, in his editorial utterances in a great newspaper, and as a United States minister. No man better deserves the name typical American than the republican candidate for vice president.

THE NOBLER LOVER.
If he be a nobler lover, take him!
You in you I seek, and not myself.
Love with men's what women choose to make him.
Scraph strong to soar, or fawn eyed elf.
All I am or can, your beauty gave it.
Lifting me a moment high to you.
And my bit of heaven, I fain would save it—
Mine I thought it was, I never knew.
What you take of me is yours to serve you.
All I give, you give to me before.
Let him win you! If I but deserve you,
I keep all you grant to him and no more.
You shall make me dare what others dare not.
You shall keep my naturo pure as snow.
And a light from you that others share not
Shall transfigure me where'er I go.
Let me be your thrall! However lowly
Be the bondsman's service I can do,
Loyalty shall make it high and holy:
Naught can be unworthy, done for you.
Men shall say, "A lover of this fashion
Such an icy mistress well besecems."
Women say, "Could we deserve such passion,
We might be the marvel that he dreams."
—James Russell Lowell.

Cats of Long Ago.
The piercing and cutting teeth of some of the cats of long ago are the most perfectly adapted instruments for cutting purposes that ever were seen, being unequalled by any manufactured tools for such uses.

For example, there was the "gomphodus," which was as big as the largest panther and had two teeth in its upper jaw resembling daggers, each five inches in length. As weapons for penetrating flesh they are unrivaled among carnivorous animals, recent or extinct. They are rather like the teeth of some huge flesh eating dinosaurs, the "terrible reptiles" of the Mesozoic epoch, which had cutting teeth that nothing could resist. Doubtless this creature was inconceivably bloodthirsty. Quite as fierce, however, and even more formidable by reason of its greater size, was the contemporary "pogonodon," which was as large as the biggest jaguar.

There were two species of this animal, which held the field in Oregon during the period I speak of against all rivals. It was undoubtedly a great destroyer of life among the herbivorous beasts.—Interview in Washington Star.

Carrier Pigeons in France.
Englishmen, it appears, enjoy in France a curious privilege, which is rigidly withheld from Germans and Belgians. It is that of flying carrier pigeons. This, however, as explained by Mr. Tegetmeier in his curious lecture on this subject, is on the strict condition that both the birds and the senders are English. In Belgium alone, according to this authority, there are 600,000 racing birds, which in case of a war would be put at the disposal of the government, and every one of these is a trained bird.

They used, it is stated, to train them over the south of France, but that is now interdicted, and no bird from Belgium or Germany is allowed to be trained in France. The fear of course is that in the event of a war these trained pigeons would be smuggled into the interior, and thus information could be carried out.—London News.

How the Englishman Likes His Game.
One fad I noticed among the English I am unable to express my contempt for. The Britisher, you know, is nothing if not outre, and this is as true of his eating as others of his affairs. What would you think of the restaurant or hotel that would serve you a duck or other bird that smelled like a dead mule that the buzzards wouldn't eat? And yet that's the way the Englishman has his bird served, and he is bhlled headed enough to swear that he loves game meat only when it is tainted. I hope that form of Anglomania will never run riot in this country.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

How He Came to Write a Book.
How Professor E. A. Freeman came to be the author of the famous work on the Norman Conquest is curiously interesting to those taking part in competitions. That subject was selected for an English prize essay at Oxford, but the essay that he sent in did not win. He went on studying the matter, wrote the foregoing standard book and was, in consequence, afterward elected by the university to the lucrative post of professor of history.—London Tit-Bits.

Mothers Afraid of Sterilized Milk.
Sterilized milk in bottles, one for each feeding, can be procured in almost all large cities, but it is generally beyond the reach of the really poor. One of the greatest difficulties, however, to be encountered in establishing the general use of this milk will lie in the effort to convince mothers of its desirability.—Lippincott's.

A Poor Contrivance.
Mamma—You are not satisfied with your new doll? Why, it creeps and says "mamma," and opens and shuts its eyes, and I don't know what all.
Wee Pet—Its fingers doesn't move, an its tongue doesn't wag, an it never frowns up.—Good News.

In some strangely shaped fossil trees accidentally dug out of a stone quarry were found treasured up the petrified looking bodies of reptiles, birds, bats and such small deer, which had thus been honored by preservation in massive mausoleums.

Through the whole range of human, plant, goat's hair and sheep's wool, however, nature shows such close gradations that it would be difficult to draw an exact line or to distinguish beyond a question of doubt between wool and hair.

Few accidents approached in horror to that at the Victoria hall, at Sunderland in 1883, when 182 children were crushed to death. That disaster was all due to a block on the staircase.

Instantaneous photography has shown the former method of representing lightning as a fiery zigzag to be quite as false as were the old pictures of racing horses.

The total money of the world in gold and silver coin is given at $7,862,072,000, an average of $5.31 for each individual.

The following item, clipped from the Ft. Madison (Iowa) Democrat, contains information well worth remembering: "Mr. John Roth of this city, who met with an accident a few days ago, spraining and bruising his leg and arm quite severely, was cured by one 50-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm." This remedy is without an equal for sprains and bruises and should have a place in every household. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Financially Embarrassed
A large manufacturer; whose affairs were very much embarrassed and who was very much overworked and broken down with nervous exhaustion, went to a celebrated specialist. He was told that the only thing needed was to be relieved of care and worry, and have change of thought. This doctor was a bona considerer of his patient's health than of his financial circumstances. He ought to have advised him to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the best remedy for nervous prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, headache, ill effects of tobacco, coffee, opium; etc. Thousands testify to it. Book and trial bottle free at F. G. Fricke & Co's.

The wisdom of him who journeyeth is known by the line he selects; the judgment of the man who takes the "Burlington Route" to the cities of the east, the south, and the west, is never impeached. The inference is plain. Magnificent Pullman sleepers, elegant reclining chair cars and world-famous dining cars on all through trains. For information address the agent of the company at this place, or write to J. Francis, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Omaha.
