

A woman who can see. She's the woman who gets well. It's the woman who won't see and won't believe who has to suffer.

And it's needless. There's a medicine—a legitimate medicine—that's made to stop woman's suffering and cure woman's ailments. It's Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's purely vegetable and perfectly harmless—a powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, imparting vigor and strength to the whole system. For periodical pains, weak back, bearing-down sensations, nervous prostration, and all "female complaints," it's a positive remedy. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

No other medicine for women is guaranteed, as this is. If it fails to give satisfaction, in any case, the money paid for it is refunded. You pay only for the good you get. On these terms it's the cheapest.

But more than that, it's the best.

MONDAY, JUNE 20, 1892.
REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.
For President
BENJAMIN HARRISON of Indiana.
For Vice-President
WHITELAW RIED
of New York.

HE SMELLETH CHICAGO AFAR.
There's a pounding on the planking,
There's a thumping in the stall,
There's a dark horse in the stable—that is all.

WHAT the democrats want now is a man with no record and no reputation, with no platform to stand on.

MR. BLAINE'S eldest son died Saturday at his home in Chicago. The heart of the whole country will go out in tender sympathy to Mr. Blaine in his latest domestic affliction.

MR. CLARKSON has gone to work for the republican ticket as if he had never opposed Harrison, and Iowa will be all right this fall, for she will roll up her old-time majority.

THE Cleveland men say they will hold out for Cleveland till they get him, if they have to stay in Chicago three months. They propose to just freeze the other fellows out.

BEFORE AND AFTER ELECTION.
The American people are often accused of displaying short memories, but they have not yet had time to forget the democratic cries about the "billion-dollar congress," the prospective ruin of foreign trade by the unconstitutional McKinley tariff and the czarism and tyranny of ex-Speaker Reed in counting a quorum.

A few months ago these cries were repeated with such seeming honesty and sincerity that many people were led to believe there was something in them, and they were not merely the latest cut and style of campaign lie just from the hands of democratic artists long trained in the production of such false issues.

A short time elapsed and the people learned from a decision of the federal supreme court that the McKinley tariff was strictly constitutional and valid in all respects, and that there was nothing to support democratic charges to the contrary.

Next in order came the official report of imports and exports showing that under the McKinley tariff our foreign commerce instead of being ruined had swollen to proportions never known before. So another democratic campaign lie went by the board. Further: the supreme court at Washington not only upheld the McKinley tariff, but (the democratic justices concurring) declared the course of ex-Speaker Reed in counting a quorum legal and valid in all respects. So much for czarism, tyranny and oppression in the last republican house.

There remains one democratic campaign lie not yet entirely disposed of, although rapidly disappearing, viz., that about alleged extravagant appropriations by the so-called "billion-dollar congress." But that particular hasn't much life left in it. The people have learned that there was no "billion-dollar" congress, that no such amount of money was appropriated, and the democrats now find they must expend as much as the republicans, or else take the responsibility of starving some branch of the government. That democratic leader, Senator Gorman, in a recent speech in the senate, thus exposed the hypocrisy and false pretenses of his party in dealing with this question:

"I mean to say, Mr. President, that there is no power on earth, as the government is now constituted, to enable the democratic party to reduce the appropriation of $150,000,000 or more for pensions; there is no power in the party to which he and I belong to reduce the fixed expenditures of the government, the interest on the public debt, etc.; there is no power on earth to reduce the expenditures for offices; there is no power to reduce taxation, and you cannot diminish expenditures."

In other words the democrats lied when they charged the republicans with extravagance, and they lied again when they promised to practice economy and reduce expenses. Exposed and discredited at every point, what sort of campaign lies will the bourbons produce this year? Do they really expect the people to believe anything they may say?

A LONDON correspondent of the mugwump-New York Times has discovered a nest chuck full of little horses just hatched. He has found that Lord Salisbury has uttered his plaintif wail for protection in collection with President Harrison and the president will, in return, remove the duties on Sheffield cutlery, Manchester fabrics and other English goods, under the authority given him "in the reciprocity clause of the McKinley bill." The benighted mugwump and many other adulated chatters are continually crying out that reciprocity is, in reality a step towards free trade. They are evidently ignorant of the fact that the reciprocity clause gives the president no authority to take off the tariffs on Sheffield cutlery and Manchester fabrics nor, in fact, to take off any tariffs. It gives him power to reimpose duties on a very few articles, off which congress has taken the duties, if the countries from which these articles are imported decline to take duties off American exports to those countries. This is reciprocity. It is a very simple, easily-comprehended arrangement, yet it has wrought such results as to wring this cry of distress from the prime minister of the leading commercial nation of the world.

To Protect the Public from fraud and imposition, the genuine medicines of Dr. R. V. Pierce are now sold only through druggists, authorized as agents. They are the cheapest medicines to use, as well as the best, because in every case you pay only for the good you get. The money is refunded if they ever fail to benefit or cure.

Being sold on this peculiar plan of "value received or no pay," the prices of the genuine guaranteed medicines always have been, are, and always will be, as follows:

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery (the remedy for all diseases arising from a torpid liver or impure blood), $1 per bottle.
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (the remedy for female weaknesses and derangements), $1 per bottle.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets (the original and best liver pills), 25 cents per vial.
Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, 50 cents per bottle.

Suspicion naturally and rightfully attaches to any medicines purporting to be Dr. Pierce's, when offered at any other prices than those above given.

The Test of Table Manners.
Speaking of favorite dishes the gourmet said: "I am daily more convinced of the profundity of Brillat-Savarin's famous dictum—'Dis moi ce que tu manges et je te dirai ce que tu es'—tell me what you eat and I will tell you what you are. At hotel table, in restaurant or at the club, if you want to get an infallible guide to a man's innate disposition just note what he orders and when it is served observe how he eats it. It beats palmistry hollow."—St. Louis Republic.

Giant Powder in Their Boots.
It is a curious fact that not one miner out of every hundred who has had any experience will do anything but put the sticks of giant powder into his bootlegs. He knows just about how much giant powder he will need during the shift and these he receives before he enters the shafthouse to go down. Then he carefully places it in the leg of his boot, and in this manner conveys it into the mine.—Great Divide.

A Coachman's Footgear.
It lately happened that on an accident occurring to the equipage of a rich merchant, the coachman, though apparently faultlessly dressed, could not be induced to leave the box. At last, when he jumped down, the whole crowd burst into laughter, for he wore a pair of tattered slippers and blue woollen stockings.—Berlin Cor. Chicago Inter Ocean.

People Who Smoke Domestics.
Philadelphia cigar dealers keep imported cigars for visitors and for show. A cigar dealer near Walnut street told the reporter that he was the first man to buy an imported cigar since that cigar shop had been opened.—Cor. New York Sun.

At a marriage banquet, when Richard, Earl of Cornwall, wedded Cincia, the daughter of Raymond, Earl of Provence, the tables groaned beneath the weight of more than thirty thousand dishes.

At Lubbenau, in Prussia, it is said that small, reddish brown mice have appeared in great numbers in the fields and are destroying everything. The cats will not touch them.

Changes from heavy to light underwear and the reverse are dangerous. It is better to depend on one's outer clothing, which should be removed on coming into a warm room.

If it were left to the angels above they would probably say that fairly good English is more generally spoken in the United States than in the United Kingdom.

A boy found a £25 note in London, and his mother, on taking the note to the owner, was rewarded with thanks and the sum of twopence.
