

Big, but bad
—the old-fashioned pill. Bad to take, and bad to have taken. Inefficient, too. It's only temporary relief you can get from it.

Try something better. With Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the benefit is lasting. They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels. Taken in time, they prevent trouble. In any case, they cure it.

And they cure it easily; they're mild and gentle, but thorough and effective. There's no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. Sick and Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

They're purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, the smallest, and the easiest to take—besides that, they're the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get. This is true only of Dr. Pierce's medicines.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.
For President
BENJAMIN HARRISON
of Indiana.
For Vice-President
WHITELAW RIEDE
of New York.

COLONEL WATTEKSON thinks that "Cleveland and Stevenson are long names," and advises the boys "to hurrah for Cleveland and Steve." Why not make it Grove and Steve?

MR. WHITNEY understands the art of pouring oil on the troubled waters. In other words, he has not been a member of the Standard Oil company all these years without acquiring a thorough knowledge of the philosophy of lubrication.

A KENTUCKIAN is on the vice presidential ticket. There will be a chance for a southern man to become president by and bye. The old ark's a-moving—Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal.

Yes, when all the "befoh the wah" patriots are dead and a new generation leads, possibly northern democrats will allow a southern man to aspire to the presidency. But they don't do it now.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

AND now comes the report that Grover Cleveland has promised the southern brigadiers that if they will elect him president of these United States once more he will return to them the rebel flags that the boys in blue took away from them during the civil war, no matter what the north said or done. This alone should be enough to defeat him, and every old soldier should make it his duty to work from now till after election to defeat Grover Cleveland.

THERE is no mistaking the significance of the money plank in the republican platform. It says what it means and means what it says in the declaration that the "republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restrictions and under such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal." The republican party favors the circulation of the largest quantity of gold and silver that can be kept at par, but not the coinage of a single dollar under conditions that will make it worth less than 100 cents.

WAS IT A FAIR TRIAL?
After Mr. Cleveland's defeat four years ago the democratic New York World claimed that it was not a fair trial, and that the democracy should not be judged by Mr. Cleveland's administration. "It was not a fair trial," said the World, "because the democratic party neither controlled nor lay claim to having controlled the administration of Grover Cleveland." It then proceeded to show wherein Mr. Cleveland ignored his party in the selection of his cabinet, in his official appointments, in his doing "the right thing at the wrong time," by writing a free trade message just before a national election, and in many other administrative acts which were not democratic. In closing that remarkable editorial the World said: "If it had know all this before election day of 1884, then Grover Cleveland would not have been elected president, and the democracy of the United States can not be held responsible for what he has done and left undone in an office thus gained and thus administered. It was not, therefore, a fair trial." This editorial appeared in the New York World Jan. 12, 1889.

All democrats who agree with Tammany and the New York World, which is against Tammany, will have the satisfaction of knowing that Mr. Cleveland has a fair trial in November. He can not be elected under false pretenses. They know his election means just what the platform says—a tariff for revenue only.

NO OLD SOLDIERS NEED APPLY.
The democratic hatred of every one who wore the blue during the dark days from '61 to '65 is well illustrated in the national ticket which it has just placed in the field.

Grover Cleveland, the sole proprietor of the party, the man who does its thinking for it, dodged the call for troops to put down the rebellion and hired a substitute to go into the army for him. Later on, when by a freak of fortune he was placed in the presidential chair, he tortured the feelings of the braver men who had rushed to the country's defense, the men who had gone to the front and come back with maimed bodies and broken health by cracking ponderous jokes at their expense when they appealed to the government they had helped to preserve to keep them out of the poorhouse.

Adlai Stevenson masquerades under the title of "General," but he was very careful to keep out of any position where such a title could have been earned. He was one of those northern doughfaces who opposed the war openly and secretly, and in 1864 was a democratic presidential elector on a platform declaring the war a failure and demanding the immediate cessation of hostilities.

No old soldier need apply for recognition by the democratic party, and it is probable that very few of them will vote for its ticket.—Quincy Whig.

Taking Thackeray Seriously.
The obscurity in which Thackeray has left the beginning of Newcome, Bart., is an instance of his forgetfulness about his people which, glaring as it is, has hitherto escaped comment. Thomas Newcome, the elder, is said to have been "the founder" of the Newcome family. We are given to understand that he was a foundling. Up to the time of his demise there was no Newcome, Bart. Mr. Newcome "might have been made" one, but "he eschewed blood red hands." As he said, "It wouldn't do; the Quaker connection wouldn't like it."

But his twin sons by his second wife, Sophia Alethea Hobson, are stated to have been called Hobson and Brian, respectively, "after their uncle and late grandfather, whose name and rank they were destined to perpetuate." The "rank" is clearly the Newcome baronetcy, but equally clearly the uncle and grandfather must have been Hobsons, the founder of the Newcome family being "himself alone." The twins at first take order as above. Then Brian is declared to be the elder "by a quarter of an hour." He is referred to as "Mr. Brian." All at once he becomes "Sir Brian," and "perpetuates" a "rank" to which, for all that appears, he had no right whatever.—Notes and Queries.

Gold Fillings for False Teeth.
"Funny business, this," remarked a dentist, turning from his workbench and addressing the reporter. "What?" "Filling false teeth. Every now and then, when we make a set of false teeth, we are asked to fill two or three of the front ones, so that the gold when the wearer smiles will shine like a darkey's heel. This takes away the counterfeit appearance of the teeth to some extent. It's a counterfeit upon a counterfeit." "Persons who have this kind of work done are willing to pay for it, and as they always want a good showing of gold, and are very particular as to the appearance of the work, we have to charge well for it. Somehow I don't like to do it. When we have made the counterfeit teeth it always seems to me that the deception has gone far enough."—Indianapolis Journal.

Yankee Thrift.
The Maine man who cannot turn his hand to another source of profit when one fails him is a scarce article. An engraver and carver of old time repute, in the palmy days of Maine shipbuilding, now a resident of Kittery, finding his occupation gone as a sculptor of figureheads for vessels, is engaged in making idols and graven images for the heathen! He has a large order that will employ most of his time for over two years, from a missionary just returned from Central Asia to this country. This missionary, by the way, is evidently something of a Yankee himself.—Kennebec Journal.

Johnson's Peculiarities.
Johnson was a eulogist of the metropolis, and it was down Fleet street that he took his daily walk, which, owing to the series of tasks he made compulsory on himself, was a really curious performance. First, every post required to be touched as he passed it; next it was a point of honor to step exactly in the middle of each paving slab, and lastly, as he approached his destination, a series of graduated strides had to be employed in order to reach the door with one particular foot.—Hygiene.

A Novel Watch.
One of the most ingenious and ingenious novelties of the day is a gun metal watch, keyless, and showing upon its face, through small apertures, the day, date, month and state of the moon. The watch requires only to be wound in the usual way, and when the hour of 13 o'clock—midnight—arrives, with a slight click the day and date change in a magic, although automatic, manner.—New York Journal.

Huge English Bedsteads.
The English four posted bedstead was a huge affair. There is one at one of the inns at Ware, a small market town near Hertford, which is large enough to hold a dozen people, and it is one of the curiosities of England. It is referred to in Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night."—Table Talk.
