

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

October 21 Has Been Set Aside as a National Holiday.

KANSAS COMING BACK INTO LINE

John W. Foster of Indiana Appointed and Confirmed as Blaine's Successor—Interesting Nebraska News.

Republicans of Iowa assembled yesterday at Des Moines in state convention and renominated William McFarland for secretary of state. C. G. McCarthy was nominated for auditor, while B. H. Beeson was nominated for state treasurer by acclamation, as was also John Y. Stone of Glenwood for attorney-general.

The senate will to-morrow at 2 o'clock take up the bill for the free coinage of silver and the amendments, when a vote will be taken.

W. P. Tomlinson, for seven years past editor of the Kansas Democrat, published a card last night severing his connection with the paper and announcing that he would support the republicans in the coming campaign. Tomlinson was one of the original Hill boomers, and after Cleveland's nomination publicly stated that he would bolt if a fusion electoral ticket and the people's party state ticket was supported by the democrats. Yesterday a dispatch was received from C. K. Holliday, Jr., editor of the paper, from Chicago, stating that Cleveland's name must be at the head of the editorial page.

Tomlinson left the republican party during the Glick campaign and is given credit for having taken 50,000 republican votes out of the party on the prohibition issue. In the card announcing his return to the republican fold he says that the material welfare of the state demands the defeat of the "calamity howlers." It is recognized that the democrats will support the people's electoral ticket for the purpose of throwing the state out of the republican electoral column. Tomlinson announces that he "will join in no bastard fusion movement that is utterly devoid of principle and which is simply a disgusting scramble for loaves and fishes."

The dispatches this morning announced that President Harrison had appointed General John W. Foster, of Indiana, as secretary of state, and that he was immediately unanimously confirmed by the senate. On account of the absurd stories which have been published in democratic papers of alleged disagreements between Mr. Blaine and Mr. Foster in the Canadian negotiations the nomination of Mr. Foster was at once followed by rumors that the friends of Mr. Blaine in the senate would oppose his confirmation. This idle rumor, which was only another device of the democrats to encourage the false statements about dissensions in the republican ranks and among republican leaders, met a prompt death blow by the immediate and unanimous confirmation of Mr. Foster.

It is well understood that Mr. Foster's tenure of the office of secretary of state will terminate on March 4 next, when President Harrison will again be inaugurated and when he will announce his new cabinet.

The appointment of Mr. Foster is therefore only a temporary one, designed to bridge over the interval between the resignation of Secretary Blaine and the beginning of the second term of his administration. The appointment of Mr. Foster, although temporary, is especially desirable, not only on account of the personal character and diplomatic accomplishments of the appointee, but also because of his peculiarly intimate acquaintance with the business of the state department in general and especially with the details of the most important question now before that department—the settlement of the Bering sea controversy with England by arbitration.

Hon. Thos. Carter, commissioner of the general land office, has found that his official and private business will not permit him to serve as secretary of the republican national committee, and he will resign at the first meeting of the committee.

John King, editor of the Litchfield Monitor, was placed in the insane asylum at Norfolk yesterday. His friends have hopes of his speedy recovery.

Rainmaker Melbourne began operations at Nelson yesterday. Clouds began to gather about 2 p. m. and a few drops of rain fell. A heavy north wind drove them away but toward evening clouds began to gather and indications point to a heavy rain.

The delegates to the prohibition convention at Cincinnati put in a hard day's work, ending late last night after three sessions. A permanent organization has been effected, with Eli Ritter of Indiana as presiding officer, and Sam Small, the Georgia evangelist, as secretary, and to-day the convention will be ready to pass upon the platform and nominate their candidates.

In a general way Bidwell of California seems to have the lead for the presidential nomination, while Demorest of New York is hardly as prominent as yesterday. Judge McCullough of Illinois gained a great deal of ground during the day.

The proceedings before the platform committee show that there is a decided feeling in favor of the prohibitionists taking strong and advanced grounds on various public questions other than prohibition.

G. W. West of Polk county was yesterday appointed alternate for J. M. Weiss on the world's fair commission.

The house committee on the eleventh census have decided to report favorably on the bill to appropriate $250,000 to publish the eleventh census.

President Harrison has signed the joint resolution of congress making October 21, 1892, the 40th anniversary of the discovery of America, a general holiday.

25 Cents Until After Election.

The coming presidential and state campaign will be one of the most exciting ever known. During this time you will want a newspaper that is thoroughly in touch with public sentiment, and one that prints the news before it becomes stale. The Semi-Weekly State Journal prints the news several days earlier than the old-fashioned weeklies, and costs the same, $1.00 a year. A complete paper twice each week—Tuesdays and Fridays. Giving 104 papers a year, it is almost as good as a daily. The old-time weekly is not in it when it comes to printing news. A year's subscription will carry readers all through the campaign and the next session of the legislature. A big dollar's worth.

A few of our offers: The Journal a year and "Stanley in Africa," $1.40; Journal and Weekly N. Y. Tribune, both one year, $1.25; Journal and Oxford Bible, $2.75; Journal and Neeley's Political Map, $1.80.

As a trial subscription we will send the Semi-Weekly until after election for 25 cents. Address, NEBRASKA STATE JOURNAL, Lincoln, Neb.

ANTONI ADLI KILLED

Three Cars Passed Over the Unfortunate Man.

CRUSHED INTO A SHAPELESS MASS

An Accident Near Happy Hollow on the B. & M. in Which One Man Was Killed and Three Wounded.

The Drew and Kennedy families are out at the Cummins farm to-day. Mrs. Cummins is giving a farewell party before moving into the city.

Willie Ramsey is eight years old to-day, and to commemorate the day he invited a large number of his little friends to his home to spend the afternoon.

A dirt train with about fifty Italian laborers, who had been unloading a train load of dirt up at the foot of the cut, was backing down to the depot for dinner this noon, when an accident occurred which resulted fatally to one and seriously wounded three others. The men were sitting on top of the dirt on the cars when the train started for the depot. Antoni Adli was sitting about three cars from the caboose, and all of a sudden and without any warning, the trucks of the car upon which he was riding, jumped the track, throwing him between the cars which passed over him, cutting him all to pieces. Three others were more fortunate; two men and a boy were also thrown from the cars. One man had his leg badly bruised and the other had his left arm badly hurt. The boy was scratched in the face and was bruised on the legs but not seriously.

No one seems to know what caused the trucks to jump the track.

Aldi, the man who was killed, was crushed and mangled in a horrible manner. The cars passed over him, cutting him into and crushing him, from his stomach down, into a shapeless mass. His left eye was gone, and on his breast were several bad cuts. Drs. Livingston and Cummins were soon upon the scene and in a short time had the wounded resting as easy as possible, while Coroner Unruh took charge of the remains of the man who was killed.

The accident happened down opposite Happy Hollow. The Italians were all from Omaha and came down last night. The remains of the unfortunate man is at Unruh's undertaking establishment, where the inquest will be held this evening.

THE ROUND-UP.

Don't forget the social at Mrs. Swearingen's tonight.

The new Bohemian band will hold a picnic in Bajek's park next Sunday afternoon.

Chas. Vandeventer has commenced suit in the county court against Lawrence Stull and Anton Siler for the recovery of the lumber that caused the shooting affair last Sunday.

Judge Ramsey to-day issued marriage licenses to the following couples: John W. Pritchard and Lettie M. Crozier, aged 16, and J. P. E. Salline and Konstina Madsen. Both couples reside at Weeping Water.

Mrs. Holmes, Miss Warner, Miss Gass, Mr. Davis, Mrs. Mapes and Mrs. Lovein were delegates to the W. C. T. U. convention held at Weeping Water yesterday. They drove down with a team, returning in the evening. They report a splendid time and that the Weeping Water citizens are a very clever people.

Plattsmouth's Fourth of July celebration is attracting considerable attention. The committee is making arrangements for a special to run between here and Nebraska City on that day and Nebraska City agrees to fill a train with people to come up. At Rock Bluffs the citizens will attend the barbeque there in the forenoon and come up here in the afternoon. Union and Murray will send large delegations besides large delegations from all over the county are coming.

A reporter of THE HERALD visited the Brick and Terra Cotta Works superintended by Walter White, and found everything working harmoniously. Quite a supply of brick is now on hand—this being a dull season. The brick is made according to the German patent, which saves fuel but requires more labor than the old process. About 20 men are employed and very good wages can be made, depending, of course, upon the amount of work done. We had a very pleasant talk with Joe Kelley, the foreman, and we were convinced in the short hour we had to stay, that he understands his business.

For the Fourth of July the B. & M. will sell round trip tickets, not over 200 miles, for one and one-third fare. Tickets on sale July 2, 3 and 4, and limit for return July 5, the minimum to be 25 cents.

J. FRANCIS, General Passenger Agent.

Mrs. Charley Black, who has been ill for about ten weeks with la grippe, is able to sit up some.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE, T. H. POLLOCK, Agent.

The B. & M. will sell round trip tickets for the Council Bluffs and Omaha Chautauqua assembly, July 2 to 16, to Omaha for one fare for the round trip from Plattsmouth. Tickets on sale July 2, 3, 4, 7, 8 and 15, and limit for return to five days from date of sale, this limit in no case to exceed July 17.

J. FRANCIS, General Passenger Agent.

Dr. Livingston's team ran away this morning, throwing the boy who drives for Dr. T. P. out on the ground, breaking his jaw.
