

"How do I look?"
That depends, madam, upon how you feel. If you're suffering from functional disturbances, irregularities or weaknesses, you're sure to "look it." And Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the remedy. It builds up and invigorates the system, regulates and promotes the proper functions, and restores health and strength. It's a legitimate medicine, not a beverage; purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and made especially for woman's needs. In the cure of all "female complaints," it's guaranteed to give satisfaction, or the money is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold so. Think of that, when the dealer says something else (which pays him better) is "just as good."

"Times have changed." So have methods. The modern improvements in pills are Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They help Nature, instead of fighting with her. Sick and nervous headache, biliousness, costiveness, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured.

TUESDAY, JULY 5, 1892.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.

For President
BENJAMIN HARRISON of Indiana.
For Vice-President
WHITELAW RIED
of New York.

We have celebrated the Fourth and are now ready to have some manufactories located among us.

As was generally expected, Gen. Weaver was nominated by the alliance at Omaha yesterday for president.

The Kansas republicans have nominated a good ticket, and they will elect it by a majority of at least 50,000 if the wheat crop of the state turns out as well as is now expected.

The democratic platform is already having some of its planks pulled out, and before the election next November it will be in a much worse condition than the roof of their wigwam was at Chicago.

THE STUMP-TAIL MONEY PLANK.
The leading democratic paper of Iowa, the Dubuque Telegraph, complains that the republicans of that state were unfair in the platform they adopted at Des Moines a few days ago. The third plank in the platform denounced the democratic party for "insisting upon the abolition of the national tax on the issues of state banks." The Telegraph protests that the Chicago platform simply recommends its repeal and the party does not even approve of the recommendation.

It is entirely immaterial whether the form of expression in a platform is a recommendation or a demand. In either case it means simply and solely that the party standing on that plank is pledged to carry out the idea therein expressed. If the next congress or the one immediately succeeding to it should be democratic it would be bound in political honor to pass a bill repealing that tax and Mr. Cleveland, if elected, would be bound to sign it.

The only way he could escape that obligation would be for him to distinctly state in his letter of acceptance that he declines to stand on that plank of the platform. Perhaps he will, but there is hardly one chance in a thousand of his doing so. For ought that the public knows that recommendation meets with his especial favor and indorsement.

It is now forty years since General Scott was nominated for president, he being the last candidate of the whig party. It was at that time, we believe, that Horace Greeley, then the foremost editor of his party, publicly declared that he supported the ticket, but split upon the platform. That sort of support proved to be worse than open opposition, and presaged the ruin which soon overtook that party, for Mr. Greeley fairly represented a large element of it. No political organization can expect to stand when it is a house divided against itself in that kind of a way. The democracy is in a sorry fix, forced to either stand upon the platform adopted or accept the fate of self-repudiation.

There is and is not ground for the Telegraph's claim that the party does not approve the wild-cat plank. There is a very general disposition on the part of the democratic press to ignore it, and from that fact one may infer that the editors of the party at the north know enough about the calamitous effect of stump-tail money in the fifties and the first half of the sixties to appreciate the folly and peril of taking off the prohibitory tax; but they lack the courage of their convictions. The repeal of that tax would do more to demoralize the finances of the country and commercial relations than any other one imaginable stroke of congressional legislation.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—A desirable lot in Plattsmouth. Will sell for cash or will take a good buggy horse and horses in exchange. For particulars call on or address this office.

RISE IN FARM VALUES.
It has been nearly ten years since the business in Nebraska farm lands has been as encouraging as it is this spring. For a number of years there was a great rush to California, then to Colorado and Arizona, and finally to the Pacific coast northwest, with more or less diversion at intervals toward the south.

Now, however, a steady stream of emigration to Nebraska has set in, which is confined to no particular portion of the state, but embraces it all. This infusion of new "bone and sinew" is already making itself felt, although spring has been open but a short time and the Nebraska movement has little more than begun.

Good farms are in steady demand at good prices and principally for cash, and there is a perceptible increase in the market value of farms, both improved and unimproved.

Many farmers in the eastern part of the state who have sold out at good figures are going into central and western Nebraska, where they can buy cheaper and set up again with a cash surplus. And, by the way, the movement of itself is a good send-off for the more western portions of the state, for most of these farmers have lived in Nebraska many years, and their new investments are based on actual knowledge of the productiveness of this section.

And it may be added that there will never be a better year for investment in Nebraska's fertile farming lands.

That the tendency of prices will be steadily upward for the next five years is the judgment of every well-posted and observant person. Good lands in the "corn belt" will never be worth less than at present. They are sure to be worth a great deal more, and it is the Hub's judgment that no better investment can be made during the present year than in a Nebraska farm.—Karney Hub

She Committed Suicide.
Mrs. F. D. Boe, at Watkins, left this letter: "My husband—Forgive me if I cause you trouble, but I suffer so. You do not know what these long, wakeful, wretched nights are to me, and I am so tired, darling—the pain will never be better. It is not easy to take my own life, but I have been sick so long. Good-bye, my husband, I love you—your wife." This is but one of thousands that give up, instead of using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and being speedily cured of their wretchedness. Go to F. G. Fricke and get an elegant book and trial bottle free. 6

A carpenter by the name of M. S. Powers, fell from the roof of a house in East Des Moines, Iowa and sustained a painful and serious sprain of the wrist which he cured with one bottle of Chamberlain's pain balm. He says it is worth $5 to a bottle. It cost him 50 cents. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Idiosyncrasies Don't Count.

"Madam," said the street car conductor to a young lady in a blue calico frock, "you have a dog under your shawl, and you must leave the car."

"What! Leave the car?" vociferated the woman. "I have paid my fare and I'm going to stick right where I am."

"Then I shall put you off," replied the disciplinarian in blue.
All at once a law point came into the woman's head. "Give me back my fare," she said. "I got in here in good faith, and when I paid my five cents a contract was completed. You must either carry it out or return my cash. I'm not responsible because your cranky directors don't like dogs."

The street car official stopped the car and hailed a policeman. The point was stated, and the thief catcher, after pondering for a few moments, observed:

"I ain't no judge nor I ain't no jury, but I claim to have some sense."

"Under your system you might make rules that passengers mustn't wear red neckties or red noses or three dollar trousers, and after they had paid fare, show 'em the rules and put them off."

"There is no end to the rules you might make to bunko folks out of their ride, and every time a chap looked cross-eyed you could turn to rule No. 324, providing that he musn't look cross-eyed and then dump him in the gutter."

"The thing isn't fair. There ain't no law to it and it don't go."

Turning to the young woman he said, "You stay where you are, mum," and to the conductor, "If you try to put her off without giving her back her fare I'll club your head off."

Ting went the bell and on went the car, dog, young woman and all.—New York Herald.

A Mighty Feast.

At Fischhausen, in Germany, a wedding feast of Homeric proportions recently took place. The 168 guests got through one ox, three pigs, four calves, eighteen chickens, ten geese, and ducks and pigeons in proportion. Four hogs-heads of beer, forty quarts of rum and fifty of other liquors served to wash down the solids. The shade of Gargantua should rejoice at this noble feat.—London Globe.

Immense damage has been done in the County of Essex, England, by the pea weevil. In many cases whole fields of peas have been destroyed and have had to be plowed in and oats sown in their place.

The following item, clipped from the Ft. Madison (Iowa) Democrat, contains information well worth remembering: "Mr. John Roth of this city, who met with an accident a few days ago, spraining and bruising his leg and arm quite severely, was cured by one 50-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm." THE democratic papers have ceased all talk about the republican billion dollar congress. They have one of their own that is now occupying their attention. They have also ceased their talk about tin plate. The facts are, the democratic press has not got much to talk about these days.

Cholera infantum has lost its terrors since the introduction of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhea remedy. When that remedy is used and the treatment as directed with each bottle is followed, a cure is certain. Mr. A. W. Walters, a prominent merchant at Waltersburg, Ill., says: It cured my baby boy of cholera infantum after several other remedies had failed, the child was so low that he seemed almost beyond the aid of human hands or reach of any medicine." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

A GOOD corn crop means a big republican majority this fall, and the corn is looking as well as it did this time last year, consequently the democrats are down in the mouth, as they cannot win unless there is a big crop failure.
