It's an insult to your intelligence, but some unscrupulous dealers try it. For instance: you're suffering from some Skin, Scalp or Scrofulous affection, or are feeling "run-down" and "used-up." There's a torpid liver, impure blood, and all that may come from it. You've decided, wisely, that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the medicine to help you. You know that it's guaranteed to do so, as no other blood-purifier is.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, you get your money back. But what is best for you to take isn't always best for the dealer to sell. He offers something else that's "just as good." Is it likely? If the makers of a medicine can't trust it, can you?

One of two things has to happen. You're cured of Catarrh, or you're paid $500 cash. That's what is promised by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. By its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties, it cures the worst cases.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET. For President BENJAMIN HARRISON of Indiana. For Vice-President WHITE LAURENCE of New York.

THE democrats say in their platform that they are in favor of pensions to disabled veterans, and they will prove it by citing Cleveland's numerous and insulting pension vetoes.

THE Louisiana legislature has rejected a bill providing for the adoption of the Australian ballot system; and the democratic majority in that state will accordingly remain at the present figures.

A FIRM of tin plate importers which has opposed the McKinley duty on tin plate now admits that prices of tin cans and utensils have not advanced. Well then what are democrats howling about? It is certain that the industry is rapidly becoming established in this country and there are many workmen being employed.—Hartford Post.

SATAN'S SIGNATURE. A Bates county farmer saw a bolt of lightning strike in the center of one of his fields, and, being curious to see the effects of the stroke, visited the spot. He found the subtle fluid had left its mark in the shape of an enormous "D" of an angry red color, and had no doubt it was the sign manual of the arch fiend himself.—Kansas City Journal.

SEIZURE OF THE OTERI. The steamship Joseph Oteri is named after its owner, who is an American citizen, resident at New Orleans, between which port and the harbor of the republic of Honduras his vessel does a regular trade. On her last outward trip the Oteri carried, among other goods, 250 Winchester rifles and a quantity of ammunition, consigned to the government of Honduras. But while the Oteri was on her way a revolution, headed by Colonel Nalla, broke out in Honduras. The revolutionists were in need of arms, and it happened that the Oteri touched at the port of Ceiba, which the revolutionists had been successful in capturing. The captain of the Oteri had no knowledge of the changed condition of affairs, and was astonished to find himself made a prisoner and his vessel and its cargo confiscated as soon as he entered the harbor. The insurgents were kind enough to tell him that if the revolution developed into a government it would pay $150,000 for the ship and cargo, and that if the revolution were suppressed and its leaders shot, which is the fate of unsuccessful revolutionists in Honduras, the owner of the Oteri could sue the regular government for damages inflicted by rebels.

It is a somewhat slow process to sue and collect money from any government by any civil method. And so the owner of the Oteri is to ask the government of the United States to demand reparation on his behalf from the government of Honduras. As the act of seizure is a flagrant violation of international law, and constitutes a gross insult to the United States flag, it is quite probable that President Harrison will act with his accustomed vigor in matters of international policy. But if Mr. Oteri of New Orleans be, as most of his fellow citizens are, opposed to all acts and appropriations that help to build up a war navy for the United States, he may be very thankful that the government of Honduras is a weak one, for southern democratic policy would not enable this government to enforce a just demand against a strong naval power. Trifling as the value of the Oteri may be, this lawless seizure emphasizes the need of increased facilities for the protection of United States persons and property when afloat in foreign waters.

GOWNS FOR DAINTY MAIDENS.

The brettele ruffles, commencing narrow and scanty near the center of the waist line and growing fuller and wider over the shoulders, where they end or continue down the back as in the front, were apparently invented for the stout girl, as they give her a longer and more slender waist, as does the pointed girdle now worn, writes Emma M. Hooper in her valuable department "Hints on Home Dressmaking" in the July Ladies Home Journal. For the slender girl, the berth trimming of lace, embroidery, silk, etc., outlines a round yoke, falling fuller over the shoulders and giving breadth to the form and fullness to the chest. Both wear bell and gathered skirts and full sleeves. One may wear any material, but the other looks better in narrow stripes, small figures and solid colors. Girls of fourteen to sixteen years wear the Russian blouse, and has been described many times, for their street and house dresses. Other pretty waists for them have a round back, where it buttons, and short, square jacket fronts opening over a plastron of China silk or surah. Neat challee frocks have the front shirred on cords from one armhole to the other, forming a yoke, with the fullness run into a pointed girdle made of six-inch ribbon, which is then folded narrowly around the waist and falls in two long ends at the back. A girl of fourteen wears a gathered skirt of crepon, three yards and a half wide, with a round waist gathered at the neck in shirred tucks to form a yoke. The sleeves are shirred at the wrists, and a corselet from the side seams is laced permanently in the front, as the frock fastens in the back. The corselet is well boned, straight on the upper edge, deep, and slightly pointed or round on the lower edge.

Wonderful Gains. Dr. Miles' Nerve not only cures all nervous diseases, headache, blues, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, fits and hysteria, but also builds up the body. "I am pleased to say that after years of intense suffering with nervous disease, headache and prostration, I tried Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, and in two weeks I gained eight pounds in weight. I could not lie down to sleep, but now sleep perfectly easy, and am improving wonderfully. Cannot say enough for the Nerve.—Mrs. L. B. MILLARD, Dunkirk, N. Y." One customer used Nerve and gained fifteen pounds in flesh.—BROWN & MAYBURY, Cortland, N. Y. Trial bottles and elegant book free at F. G. Fricke & Co.

A carpenter by the name of M. S. Powers, fell from the roof of a house in East Des Moines, Iowa and sustained a painful and serious sprain of the wrist which he cured with one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says it is worth $5 to a bottle. It cost him 50 cents. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

The following item, clipped from the Ft. Madison (Iowa) Democrat, contains information well worth remembering: "Mr. John Roth of this city, who met with an accident a few days ago, spraining and bruising his leg and arm quite severely, was cured by one 50-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm." This remedy is without an equal for sprains and bruises and should have a place in every household. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Bed Demolished, Occupants Unharmed. A strange freak of a bolt of lightning occurred at Jeannette during the heavy storm last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Krisman reside in a small tenement house close to the Catholic church. They were in bed and asleep when the storm began to rage. Suddenly their bed was torn from beneath them and reduced to splinters. A bolt of lightning had struck the house and passed through the wall into the room occupied by them. The couple were not hurt.—Pittsburg Post.

Again the Willipus-Wallipus! A couple of darkies raised considerable excitement Saturday night by declaring that they had seen the gyscutus, willipus-wallipus, or whatever it is that has been prowling around here for two or three weeks past. A big crowd turned out armed with guns, sticks, axes, etc., but after a thorough search failed to locate the varmint.—Turin Cor. Atlanta Constitution.

A wire netting fence 500 miles long is one of the late Australian wonders. The fence separates the colonies of New South Wales and Queensland, and its object is to keep the rabbits out of the latter country.

A recent order for books sent by Mr. Gladstone to a London dealer embraced works ranging in character from a volume of Eton verse to treatises on solar physics and myths. A model of sanity beside him. There was more or less testimony to show that Stephens had fallen off a pony very many years ago and hurt his head, and that he had always been high tempered, like any spoiled child. No one had bothered about his alleged insanity, though, until after he had killed his father's old friend. "Insane" was the jury's judgment after listening to the testimony and watching the gloomy makeup of the prisoner. They found him guilty of murder in the second degree, and he was sent to prison for life. Today he is a neat, well behaved and short haired convict.—New York Herald.
