

Arrested—the progress of Consumption. In all its earlier stages, it can be cured. It's a scrofulous affection of the lungs—a blood taint—and, as in every other form of scrofula, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a certain remedy. But it must be taken in time—and now is the time to take it.

It purifies the blood—that's the secret. Nothing else acts like it. It's the most potent strength-restorer, blood-cleanser, and flesh-builder known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, and all lingering Coughs, it's a remedy that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure.

If it doesn't, the money is returned. In other words, it's sold on trial.

No other medicine of its kind is. And that proves that nothing else is "just as good" as the "Discovery."

The dealer is thinking of his profit, not of yours, when he urges something else.

The white people of the south who insist that minority rule is proper where the majority is colored, excuse themselves on the ground that they pay the taxes. They talk about their consideration for the negro in trying to educate him. George W. Cable takes all the clarity out of this talk by showing that in many parts of the south the negroes are taxed to educate white children. In Georgia, Mr. Cable claims, the public school money for the year 1889-1890 was $226,000. Only 30 per cent of this, or $248,000, was allowed to the negro schools, although 47 per cent of the population is negro. The school fund of the state is from a poll tax, the rental of the state railroad, the tax on liquor dealers, and the hire of convicts. The poll tax of the negroes amounted that year to $101,920. Add 25 per cent of the other funds raised on state property and it makes the full amount of the negro school fund. The whites, therefore, had 75 per cent of the fund from these sources, which belong to the state at large, when there is no reason why they should have more than 33 per cent, which is the white percentage of the school population. It may be humiliating for the white gentlemen of Georgia to have it known that they are not supporting the negro schools, and they will have another round of abuse for Mr. Cable, but it will be necessary for them to refute his statement with figures as convincing as his—Chicago Inter Ocean.

TRUSTS.

Trusts are not due to protection. This is shown by the fact that the great Mecca of combinations of all kinds is free trade Great Britain.

They are the product of a human weakness common to all men, in every country and under every political system—cupidity.

Combination is the recognized commercial tendency of the day. It is natural for men to combine where they see an opportunity for their own profit; and they will do this whether there be a tariff or not, as all impartial judges, even free traders, will admit.

Protection is no friend of trusts; in fact, it is essentially opposed to them. It prevents the formation of international combinations, for which there could be no destructive remedy, and guarantees men who wish to compete with a trust a fair field and chance for competition. By protection, also, trusts are placed within the reach of our own laws; placed where they can be attacked and destroyed by the strong arm of the government.

Free trade, on the other hand, either leads to the establishment of international combinations, or, by destroying an industry in this country and causing us to become dependent for the product of that industry on a few foreigners, puts us at the mercy of a foreign trust from which there can be no escape, and which, of course, no legislation of ours can reach.

This is entirely in harmony with the ordinary free trade program—to subject us in everything to the domination of the foreigner.

The only effective remedy for combinations is a radical anti-trust law, such as that already passed by a protectionist congress.

The question of trusts can be formulated in a few words: Free trade and foreign trusts, absolutely our-masters. Protection, every difficulty in the way of forming trusts, new competition to nullify their influence, and prohibitory legislation to destroy them when formed.

AN independent writes to the Elmwood Leader a column article in which he scores the citizens' petition and the so-called citizens' convention and citizens' candidate (W. J. Bryan) for congress and asks his independent friends how they like to play the roll of tail to a democratic kite, and then goes on as follows: "I know you did not think when you signed that petition that you were marshal-

ing your forces under the leadership of such men as Broady, Calhoun, Wallace, Ireland and others of like ilk. Your independent friend who induced you to sign that petition, did not think to tell you that W. H. Dearing and other good democrats, were passing around another one of the same make up, with only one exception, viz. none but democrats need apply. Then, after both petitions were as liberally signed as they could be under existing circumstances, all being done in an underhand way, a little mischief done the rest of the work, the pastor being sure that the democratic end of the concern was put where it would do the most good. Now, my independent friends, did it ever occur to you that it was a little strange? We, as independents, never received any bid to go to the democratic county convention held at Union, where this deal was all cooked up and served out to the independents at so much a dish. We will give our reasons why: In our opinion the democrats felt able for the task; they had a congressional committee to make, and they wanted to give you such good independents to lead and care for it as Judge Broady, chairman; (he is a good independent); he withdrew last fall in favor of Joe Edgerton. Little Tommy Allen, secretary, another good independent. W. H. Dearing committeeman from Cass county; he's all right, too, and the thirteen delegates elected out of that democratic mob go down to Nebraska City and re-nominate a citizens' congressman, but mark you, never failing to pinch up and perfect genuine old moss-back democratic organization, and poor old Charlie Sherman, in trying to second the nomination of the young citizens' candidate, slopped over and choked down—words failing to give vent to his pent up feelings. Now, we account for that mishap in this way: If he took Bryan straight—free silver, free twine and free cotton ties, (is there anything else? we guess not), and then had to load up with the stuffed prophet, which he had to do, it would make a devil of a bad mix of medicine, and one that would be liable to get him into trouble. But it is all right now—the Journal is for Cleveland and it's for Bryan. "Oh, consistency thou art a jewel!"

Cholera infantum has lost its terrors since the introduction of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. When that remedy is used and the treatment as directed with each bottle is followed, a cure is certain. Mr. A. W. Walters, a prominent merchant at Waltersburg, Ill., says: "It cured my baby boy of cholera infantum after several other remedies had failed, the child was so low that he seemed almost beyond the aid of human hands or reach of any medicine." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by F. KIRK'S DUSKY DIAMOND TAR SOAP

NEVER STRIKES INDIANS. In the course of his New Haven (Conn.) lecture Rev. Thomas Dana, an educated Indian, made this singular statement: "The Indians never cook anything in the house. They always cook outside, giving as their only reason that if they cook inside the steam will collect in their clothing and draw the lightning. Whether this is true or not I do not know, but I know this—no Indian wigwam has been struck by lightning since the dawn of history, and no Indian has been killed with lightning for more than 100 years."—Hartford Courant.
