

The seed is planted
when you feel "run-down" and "used-up." Malarial, typhoid or bilious fevers spring from it—all sorts of diseases. Don't take any risk. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery invigorates the system and repels disease. It starts the torpid liver into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, and restores health and vigor. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, and builds up flesh and strength. For all diseases that come from a disordered liver and impure blood, skin, scalp and scrofulous affections, it's the only remedy that's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure in every case, you have your money back. You pay only for the good you get.

The worst cases yield to the mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. That's why the proprietors can, and do, promise to pay $500 for a case of Catarrh in the Head which they cannot cure.

ORLANDO TEFT, Chairman.

A. L. TIMBLIN, Secretary.

THE president has nominated Mr. George Shiras, Jr., of Pittsburg, for the vacancy on the supreme bench.

THE number of postoffices in the United States is 67,105, an increase for the year of 2,776. What a field that would be for Adlai Stevenson!

THE solicitude of the editor of the Evening News for the financial welfare of the editors of THE HERALD and Journal is truly pathetic. And there is a four-foot vein of humor in it, too, to the average sensible man.

IN 1854, during the revenue tariff of 1849, there was a soup house in every ward of New York City; thousands of laborers paraded the streets in search of work; the number of paupers was greater than it ever was before or has been since. And this is the kind of a tariff that the democratic party pronounces for to-day.—Beatrice Express.

As Brother Sherman claims he can buy clothing so much cheaper in Canada than in the United States, H. C. McMaken called at this office this morning and requested us to make the Journal the following offer: Sherman to send to Windsor, Canada, and buy an all wool suit, known as middlesex, or one its equal. If Mr. McMaken cannot buy one just as good for the same price or less right here in Nebraska, he will pay Mr. Sherman for his suit and give it to him, provided Mr. Sherman will give him the suit if he can duplicate it in Nebraska. Now, Mr. Sherman, if what you say is true, you can get a suit of clothes free. Send and buy the suit and we will see who pays the tariff.

THAT the farmer has not been misled by the specious arguments of the tariff "reformers" in favor of free wool is shown by the following extract from the Texas Stockman and Farmer: "The free trade argument concerning free wool does not hang together. The theorists say to the workingman: 'A removal of the duties will make wool cheaper and give us lower priced clothing.' To the farmer they say: 'A removal of the duty will stimulate the manufacture of woollen fabrics and create such a demand for wool that sheep raisers will get higher prices for it.' There is no way of harmonizing them. If one be true the other is false. In point of actual fact, neither is true." You can't fool the American farmer, and the sooner the Cobdenite learns that the better.

CLEVELAND AND LABOR ARBITRATION.

Senator Voorhees incorporated into his speech on the Homestead riot the message of Grover Cleveland on the labor question, April 22, 1886, but he failed to state a subsequent fact much more to the point. That message was one of those commonplace generalities which seem to be specially natural to Mr. Cleveland. One would suppose from that message that a bill providing for the arbitration of labor troubles in any department of industry would meet his cordial approval. No other inference could be drawn from his language, but when, nearly a year later, a bill of that kind reached him he killed it. McPherson's Handbook of 1888 says, under head of "Labor and Arbitration Bill," that the bill which passed the house April 3, 1886, and is printed in his Handbook of 1886, pages 194-196, passed the senate without division on February 28, 1887, adding, "it was presented to the president for approval March 1, and, not having been acted on by him before final adjournment, it fell."

That is Grover Cleveland's record on legislation to secure labor legislation. It will be observed that the house passed it nineteen days before the message was sent to congress. The vote in that body stood 169 for it and 30 against it. Every negative vote was cast by a democrat. The present speaker of the house, Crisp, was one of the thirty opposers of the bill. The vote for it was non-partisan, but the vote against it was wholly democratic. The senate, as already noted, did not divide on the question, which was equivalent to its unanimous passage. It will further be observed that President Cleveland did not give any reason for not signing the bill. It was a clear case of sneak. He may be expected to be called upon before the campaign is closed to rise and explain his peculiarly inconsistent and reprehensible record on labor arbitration.—Chicago Inter Ocean.
