

AGGRAVATED RIOT.

Thirty-six Informations Against as Many Ex-Employees.

SECY LOVEJOY MAKES A CHARGE.

All Those Heretofore Arrested for Murder Included in the New Warrants Issued Yesterday.

O'Donnell Says It Was a Joke.

The Policy to be Carried Out, PITTSBURG, July 27.—When Henry C. Frick was shot last Saturday he said while the doctors were engaged in probing the wounds that the tragedy would have no effect whatever upon the policy of the company toward the Homestead troubles. That he meant what he said was evidenced to-day when Secretary Lovejoy at 12:30 o'clock appeared before Alderman McMas-ters and swore out thirty-six informations against as many of the ex-employees of the company and upon which warrants were immediately issued. It was significant, however, that these informations made a change in the nature of the offense, the men being charged with aggravated riot instead of with murder. It is taken as indicating that the company now doubts its ability to sustain the main charges against the men and has concluded to content itself by preferring a charge upon which there may be a chance of obtaining some convictions. It was also significant that among the names included in the informations were those of nearly every ex-employee who has testified before the coroner's jury that the first shots fired on the morning of July 6 came from the Pinkertons. The fact that the company should have selected these men as victims, especially in view of the fact that as witnesses before the coroner's jury they would most likely be expected to testify in court, has created a great deal of comment, and that not very favorable to the company. The suppression of names in the matter of informations was again carried out to-day and the majority of the men against whom the warrants are issued will have no knowledge of the fact until they are placed under arrest. It is understood that new informations will now be made from day to day for some time to come, but the advisory committee is preparing for ample bail and not one of the men will be allowed to stay in jail an hour longer than the machinery of the law will allow. Private information is also to the effect that informations sworn out to-day include the name of nearly every member of the advisory committee, as well as some of those who have already been arrested on the charge of murder and released on bail. James Close, who was arrested yesterday, will have to answer to the new charge, as will also Sylvester Critchlow, who voluntarily surrendered to-day and whose warrant was issued at the same time as those of O'Donnell, McLuckie and others on the charge of murder. To-morrow morning Judge McKee will hear the motion for bail for both Close and Critchlow.

Taken to Hastings.

E. T. Hughes, the young man arrested Tuesday on complaint of Mrs. Grace Pennington and bound over to the district court, was released by Judge Borgelt yesterday on the discovery of the fact that the alleged offense was committed in Adams county. He was at once re-arrested on another warrant and taken to Hastings last evening.

Hughes claims, or rather his attorney does for him, that he and the fair widow were engaged to be married and that the wedding was only deferred until a $5,000 damage suit against the B. & M. could be pressed to an issue. He further claims that the $200 loaned him was made in good faith, while the $35 is an expense bill incurred in a trip to Omaha, which he and Mrs. Pennington enjoyed together. The lady indignantly denied the alleged betrothal and the story that she visited Omaha with the young fellow. The jury in the case will have to decide between the statements of the parties.—Omaha Bee.

IT WAS A JOKE.

O'Donnell Says He Did Not Authorize Newspaper Men to Act.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 27.—Hugh O'Donnell says he did not authorize correspondents to treat with the Carnegie people with a view of ending the trouble by a surrender of the men. The correspondents took a joking remark of his in earnest and endeavored to negotiate a settlement.

It has just been learned that an attempt was made to blow up Carnegie's union mills in this city. During the absence of the engineer some one turned on unlighted gas in the furnaces. The discovery of the fact was made just in time to prevent an explosion. There were 150 men in the department at the time and many lives would have been lost.

Bauer says there are 500 anarchists in Pittsburgh and 1,000 in Western Pennsylvania.

Frick passed a most satisfactory night.

THE ROUND-UP.

Through a mistake yesterday THE HERALD said the delegates were instructed for "Chapman and Field." It should have read Chapman and Sheldon.

Frank Dickson was the happiest man in town to-day, all caused by a boy baby making its appearance at his home. Frank says he is a good strong republican. Grandpa Richey is bearing the honor in a becoming manner.

The Missouri Pacific will run a sleeper to Denver to the conclave via the Union Pacific and return via Colorado Springs and Pueblo. One fare for round trip and will meet all reductions. For information as to berths apply to H. D. Apgar, agent.

The fourth annual interstate reunion of the soldiers and sailors of Nebraska and Kansas will be held at Superior, Nebraska, August 22 to 27. Speakers of national repute will be in attendance. Rates of one fare for round trip will be made on all railroads.

The rain which has been falling ever since last evening seems to be general all over the state. Whether the rainmaker had anything to do with it will probably never be known. The rain has done several thousand dollars' worth of good to Cass county's farmers, and in fact to everybody.

E. M. Uhler, a B. & M. engineer at Lincoln, had his right hand badly crushed under the wheels of his own engine yesterday and one of his fingers had to be amputated. He was oiling the engine and at his request the fireman started the engine. He attempted to walk in front of it when he slipped and fell, but managed to save himself except his hand.

Mrs. John Lynch of San Francisco writes Coroner Unruh regarding the man killed in the wreck on the B. & M. east of the bridge. She says her husband, in company with a friend, left San Francisco for this part of the country and she thought had just about reached here when the accident occurred. She says her husband was thirty-two years old and the man with him was twenty.

Old Cass county is nothing if not original, so when it came to the county convention it had to spring an entirely new candidate for governor. The thing was so sudden that Messrs. Cronse, Majors, Maxwell and the rest of them had no time to arrange a reception for Hon. Lawson Sheldon. He will doubtless be initiated into the order of the Ancient and Honorable Gubernatorial Grabbers at an early date.—Lincoln Journal.

A telegram to the Lincoln Journal from Ashland says: "Last evening two little boys about eleven years of age were drowned in Salt creek, just below town. They were sons of J. A. Downer and Guy White-lock, both living near the depot. The boys, in company with three or four other little fellows, were wading in a shallow part of the creek, and these two walked off into a deep hole and sank. The alarm was given by the other boys, but a half hour or more elapsed ere the bodies were found and both were dead. The funerals were held yesterday afternoon."

Natural Sand Blasts.

The idea of cutting designs on glass by forcing sand against the surface of plates and vessels of that material was first suggested by one of nature's freaks, just as hundreds of other inventions have been. An observing young man who was summering on the coast of New England noticed that the wind-storms in that section frequently gathered up large loads of sand and hurled it with much force against exposed window panes, and that these within a very short time were worn through and had to be replaced. In places where they were protected by leaves, vines, mosquito netting, etc., the glistening surface was left intact. He set about utilizing old nature's hint at once, the result being a machine which does work that cannot even be imitated in any other way.—St. Louis Republic.

His Memory Was Weak.

An elderly widower was so dull and stupid that it was very difficult to marry him. When told to give his right hand, he gave his left; when the minister said "Say this after me," he immediately remarked "Say this after me." But when the words he was to repeat were given, he was stolidly silent.

"At last," says the narrator, "he saw that I was somewhat bothered by his extreme stupidity, so in the middle of the service he upset my gravity by volunteering the following apology, 'You see, sir, it's so long since I was married afore that you must excuse my forgetting of these things.'"—Cornhill Magazine.

Chinese Long Lived.

From the following figures in a report submitted by the gentry of Kaoyao Hsien, Kuangtung, to their magistrate, of the number of old people in that district, we cannot help being convinced of the fact that the Chinese are a long lived race. In that single district there are three persons over 100 years of age, 180 about the age of 90, and as many as 3,000 who have reached the mature age of fourscore.—North China Herald.

Old Saws.

Some of the old forms of our commonest saws are pleasant enough: "That which cleid by the bone might not out of the fesshe." "A pot may go so long to water that at the last it cometh to broken hoom." "There is none that stondest so surely, but otherwhyle he falleth or slydeh." "Murde abydeh not hyd; it shal come out."—London Saturday Review.
