REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.
 For President
BENJAMIN HARRISON
 of Indiana.
 For Vice-President
WHITELAW RIED
 of New York.

For Member Congress,
A. W. FIELD,
 Lancaster County.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVEN-TION.
 The republican electors of the state of Nebraska are requested to send delegates from their several counties to meet in convention at the city of Lincoln, August 4, 1892, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of putting in nomination candidates for the following state offices:

Governor.
 Lieutenant governor.
 Secretary of state.
 Auditor of public accounts.
 Treasurer.
 Superintendent of public instruction.
 Attorney-general.
 Commissioner of public lands and buildings.
 Eight presidential electors.
 And to transact such other business as may come before the convention.

THE APPOINTMENT.
 The several counties are entitled to representation as follows, being based upon the vote cast for George H. Hastings for attorney-general in 1890, giving one delegate-at-large to each county and one for each 100 votes and the major fraction thereof:

A LITERARY FUND.
 Mr. Bok has succeeded in unearthing a quantity of unpublished material by Henry Ward Beecher which will shortly be published as a series of articles in the Ladies' Home Journal. The material is especially valuable since it deals with a range of topics both timely and will advance for the first time in print, the great preacher's views on a number of such interesting questions as marriage, home government, women in public and private life, politics, etc. Mr. Bok has secured the co-operation of Mrs Beecher and Professor Ellinwood, Mr. Beecher's private reporter, in the editing of the material.

AULIA STEVENSON has proven himself a good democrat, for the Manhattan club drank $6,000.00 worth of liquor the other night, and the democratic candidate for vice, president was so overcome by the hospitality of the club that he was unable to appear in public for two days.

Little drops of whisky,

OUT here in Nebraska they call it a plain drunk, but the New York papers say Adlia was overcome by the hospitality of the club.

SINCE Judge Field's nomination for congress M. D. Polk is so jubilant that he has announced himself as a candidate for state senator.

The leaders of the democratic and alliance parties in Kansas having fused, the rank and file of the democratic party in Kansas object and have called a convention and will place a full party ticket in the field.
 Kansas will roll up her usual large republican majority this fall

WEAVER is going to have a rip roaring good time during the next four months and will succeed in gathering enough silver dollars together to keep him from living on liver next winter. Weaver absolutely lives off the people without giving a cents worth in return. Many people, however, are delighted when humbugged.—Indianola Herald.

WHEN any whitecap work is done or brutal treatment is meted out to anyone, when the investigating committee gets through the leader always turns out to be a democrat, and now, as usual, Col. Streater, who inflicted the barbarous treatment upon Private Jams, is the chairman of the democratic central committee of his county, and has been for several years. Also Bergman, the anarchist who tried to kill Frick, is a democrat.

The Louisville Courier-Journal complains of the McKinley bill because it induces laboring men to leave Europe and come to America to secure higher wages. The democratic remedy would be free trade, which would make wages as low in this country as in Europe. How do the American workingmen like this democratic remedy for emigration?
 The republicans have a simpler way.
 They will regulate emigration by statute and keep the wages of the American workingmen where they are. The democratic remedy is as objectionable as that against robbery—to never have anything that will tempt the robbers.—Inter Ocean.

DEMOCRATS often ask: "Who has heard of any manufacturer raising the prices paid for labor?" Well, here is an instance in point reported by an eastern journal: "The republican legislature of Massachusetts enacted a law limiting the hours of labor for women in factories and work-shops to fifty-eight a week. Thereupon, without the asking of the employes, the mill managers at Fall River, employing 25,000 people, voted to pay the same wages for fifty-eight as for sixty hours and raised piece-work 3 1/2 per cent. Fall River is the largest cotton manufacturing town in this country." Now let us hear from the managers of the democratic campaign about the rise in prices of labor in England.

THE CURRENCY OF THE COUN-TRY.

The first of July is a new year's day with the general government, financially speaking. It seems from a statement for that date, made by the treasury department, that the circulation of the country increased during the year $103,005, 733. This is a showing which speaks well for our monetary system. The expansion is normal and about keeps pace with the needs of trade. The changes during the fiscal year are shown by the following table:

	July 1, 1891.	July 1, 1892.
Gold coin	$1,207,741	$1,207,741
Gold and silver coins	36,729,741	37,829,741
Subsidiary silver	67,326,518	68,226,518
Gold certificates	14,235,739	12,113,336
Silver certificates	33,880,533	30,736,174
Silver treasury notes	48,041,167	49,163,167
U. S. notes	21,018,519	21,507,519
National bank notes	167,214,741	167,214,741
Totals	$1,073,673,238	$1,530,673,238

It will be observed that the supply of gold did not change much, but of the two increased. The supply of standard silver dollars decreased nearly a million. Subsidiary silver increased over four million, which is an interesting fact.
 These new dimes, quarters and halves were needed for the convenience of exchange. There was a large increase in gold certificates, also in silver certificates, but the greatest of all in silver treasury notes. The government has paid out $38,051,657 under the silver bill of 1890 in the purchase of silver bullion, the payments being made in new certificates, redeemable in coin, the government being the judge of whether the coin of redemption shall be gold or silver.
 The rate of currency expansion by this agency is about fifty millions a year, or two hundred millions for a presidential term. If Grover Cleveland had a chance he would stop the purchase of silver and the consequent increase in the volume of currency, while Harrison would keep on expanding the currency.

"Hang Your Clothes on a Hickey Limb." After the rather unsatisfactory experience of last season the district commissioners have decided to experiment further with the free bathing beach. This time, however, there is to be no risk of life, provided the plans of the commissioners are successful. Last season the beach was open to all comers, but in the future none but experienced swimmers will be allowed to enjoy the privilege. With this end in view the commissioners have, through their secretary, Dr. Tindall, addressed the following communication to the superintendent of the beach:

"The commissioners direct me to notify you to permit persons who can swim to use the public bathing beach till otherwise notified. You will not permit any one to use the beach unless satisfied by personal observation that he can swim."

A perusal of this order will show that the commissioners have imposed a rather complicated and important duty on Superintendent Stevens. By a strict compliance with the order no candidate for cleanliness will be allowed to enter the water unless he can swim, and the superintendent is first to determine one's ability in that direction by "personal observation." Just how Superintendent Stevens is to separate the experts from the raw recruits by mere "personal observation" is rather difficult to understand, unless he should subject applicants to an exhibition of their natatory agility on dry land.—Washington Post.

Financially Embarrassed A large manufacturer, whose affairs were very much embarrassed and broken down with nervous exhaustion, went to a celebrated specialist. He was told that the old thing needed was to be relieved of care and worry, and have change of thought. This doctor was more considerate of his patient health than his financial circumstances. He ought to have advised him to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, the best remedy for nervous prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, headache, ill effects of tobacco, coffee, opium, etc. Thousands testify to it. Book and trial bottle

 The constant demand of the travcomfortable and at the same time an economical mode of traveling has led to the establishment as what is known as Pullman Colonist sleepers.

 These cars are built on the same general plan as the regular first-class Pullman Sleeper, the only difference being that they are not upholstered.
 They are furnished complete with good comfortable hair mattresses, warm blankets, snow white linen curtains plenty of towels, combs, brush etc., which secure to the occupant of a berth as much privacy as is to be had in first class sleepers.
 There are also separate toilet rooms for ladies and gentlemen, and smok-

Walled Cities in India and China.
 The first glimpse we get of an eastern walled city unfolds at once memories of our childhood days, which have never been awakened since, and the pictures of our childish books, which impressed themselves so vividly upon our minds, are reproduced in the bright colors of old, when we are brought face to face with the quaint battlements and the dark gateways, with the accessories of bright, burning sunshine and turbane figures and processions of camels and the listless calm of the tropical land.
 Such old cities are still to be seen in India, still walled in the old fashion and still peopled by the figures of the Biblical picture book.

Closely akin to them are those walled towns standing on the canals of mid-China, passing through which, say at the close of day, when every tower and every roof stands out clearly cut against the brilliant western sky and we are challenged by a grotesque figure, armed with a spear and probably wearing armor, the illusion is complete, and for the moment we find it hard to realize that we are traveling at the end of the Nineteenth century.

Even in much changed Japan there are old cities which still retain their walls of the age of feudalism, and in the very heart of the capital the imperial palace is surrounded by the same quaint fortifications which in old troubled times made it an imperium in imperio, although the walls are crumbling and the gates are never shut, and the moats have been abandoned to the lotus and to carp of monstrous size and fabulous age.— Cor. Chicago Herald.

The Azores.
 In 1580 the Azores came under the power of Spain, and in the history of the next twenty years their name is frequent as the favorite battleground of the English and Spanish fleets. The partiality was, indeed, mainly on the side of the former, and for a good reason. These islands lay right in the track of all vessels sailing to and from that enchanted region known then to all men as the Spanish Main. On the highest peak of Terceira, whence in clear weather the sea could be scanned for leagues around, were raised two columns, and by them a man watched night and day. When a man was seen approaching from the west he set a flag upon the western column, one for each sail; if they came from the east a similar sign was set up on the eastern column.

Hither in those days came up out of the mysterious western seas the great argosies laden with gold and silver and jewels, with silks and spices and rare woods, wrung at the cost of thousands of harmless lives, and cruelties unspeak-able from the face of lands which lie between the waters of the Caribbean sea and the giant wall of the Andes. And hither, when England began to turn her eyes to El Dorado, came the great war galleons of Spain and Portugal to meet these precious cargoes and convey them safe into Lisbon or Cadiz before those terrible English sea wolves could get scent of the prize.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Important Advice.
 A gentleman who believed that to an important extent clothes made the man, even when the man is a royal personage, visited the Comte de Chambord at Frons-dorf a few years ago. The Comte de Chambord was the grandson of Charles X, the last Bourbon king of France, and the French Royalists called him Henri V, and hoped, until his death, in 1883, to restore him to the throne. The marquis, of whom this story is told, was a Parisian, a man of fashion and an ardent Royalist. The Comte de Chambord was glad of an opportunity to talk over political affairs with a man who must know what was going on in Paris; so after a few minutes' chat he said: "Marquis, it is not often that I have a chance to talk with any one so well informed on the signs of the times in Paris as yourself. Now in case I return to Paris, what would you advise me to do?" He waited for a bit of profound political philosophy. The marquis looked at "Henri the Fifth" and hesitated.
 Should he venture on a great liberty?
 But his advice had been asked; as a loyal subject he would give it frankly.
 "Sire—monseigneur," he stammered, "I think you had better give up your German tailor and have your trousers made in Paris." "My trousers!" "Yes, sire; pardon me, but your trousers are out of fashion."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Strange Effects of Extreme Cold.
 Dr. Moss, of the English polar expedition of 1875-7, among many other things, tells of the strange effects of the extreme cold upon the candles they burned. The temperature was from 35 to 50 degs. below zero, and the doctor says he was considerably discouraged when upon looking at his candle he discovered that the flame "had all it could do to keep warm." It was so cold that the flame could not melt all of the tallow of the candle, but was forced to eat its way down, leaving a sort of skeleton candle-stand. There was heat enough, however, to melt odd shaped holes in the thin walls of tallow, the result being a beautiful lacelike cylinder of white with a narrow tongue of yellow flame burning on the inside and sending out many streaks of light into the darkness.

An Unlucky Number.
 "I should think Pope Leo XIII would be a very unhappy man?" said Judge Pennybunker. "I should think he would be troubled with dreadful forebodings?"
 "Why so?" asked Colonel Yergler.
 "Because he can never sit down to the table without being the thirteenth—Leo XIII," replied Judge Pennybunker.—
