

LODER'S MISSION FAILS.

He Weakens and Tries to Get Under Cover.

VERY CHILLY RECEPTION.

The Cowardly, Treacherous Commissioner Crawls Under the Tent Under Pressure of Opinion.

Notwithstanding his treachery and double dealing Aaron C. Loder is neither the boss for Cass county nor of the board of commissioners. Riding two horses going in opposite directions Mr. Loder has discovered a very difficult job. True, he has succeeded in robbing the legitimate newspapers of this town by his flitting with the guerrilla newspaper. Now we shall see how much it will profit him. At the last minute when he saw that his game was up he attempted to appear to be for The Journal, while at the same time he attempted to curry favor with his original first love by his smart move in forcing a vote upon the different newspapers—all at an equal price—before the motion could be voted upon which would give it to both The Journal and THE HERALD on the same basis as last year—both newspapers to publish the delinquent tax list and each to receive half pay, one full legal price for the two. Here is the true story of his shameless hypocrisy, while pretending to be a friend of the taxpayer.

The present board of commissioners is composed of two democrats—A. C. Loder and Jacob Tritsch—and one republican—S. W. Dutton. The delinquent tax list was to be given out for publication. It ought to have been given to the printer at least one week ago, and would have been but for Loder's treachery and hypocrisy. When the matter was up for consideration last week it was considered certain, that as the board was democratic, the advertisement would of course go to The Journal. But no! There was an African in the woodpile. The News, which is a guerrilla sheet and knew that it could not win in a fair fight for the advertisement, said: "If we cannot win we will keep the straight newspapers from making anything on the job. When we have done that we have at least accomplished a part of our purpose."

Calling to their aid the alleged Hon. A. C. Loder they gave him "an offer" to do the work at half the legal price. Coward that he was, Loder did not want to show his hand and he handed the "offer" to Mr. Dutton with the request to present it and he staid in the background. The legitimate newspapers were informed of Mr. Loder's work and each filed "an offer" to be used in case of necessity, although protesting against the commissioners allowing themselves to be used to aid two guerrillas in thus seeking to revenge themselves in so dishonorable a manner against business competitors. At the Monday session, Mr. Loder attempted to force through a vote for his alliance-democratic-prohibition-republican party and was frustrated by being presented with "offers" from the two newspapers of Plattsmouth. He then wanted a postponement. He got it. The commissioners visited Nehawka to view a road. They returned yesterday about noon. Excusing himself Mr. Loder visited The News office, presumably for consultation with his fellow conspirators. His every step and move was known. At the afternoon session it was discovered by this pretended protector of the taxpayers' interests that he could not carry through his project of giving the contract to The News. Mr. Tritsch stood squarely and honestly by the Journal and Mr. Dutton equally manfully for THE HERALD, and the contest was laid over until this morning.

This morning came the tug of war. Mr. Loder had discovered that the taxpayers were not at his back not could furnish any semblance of foundation that they were. Still, knowing that he was compelled to vote against The News, rather than let the contract go to both The Journal and THE HERALD at the legal rate or to one or the other singly he proposed to give it to The Journal and the latter got it at half rate. Messrs. Loder and Tritsch voted for The Journal and Mr. Dutton for THE HERALD. This was won a victory for honest journalism, although no part of the credit is due to Loder. What he did he was forced to do by circumstances.

At ten minutes after twelve today the commissioners left the court house. What did they do? The two honest members, Messrs. Dutton and Tritsch, had no excuse or apologies to offer for their conduct.

They went about their way and to dinner. What did the guilty traitor Loder do? Knowing that his scheme had failed and realizing the necessity of "getting in out of the wet" and endeavoring to still pull the wool over Sherman's eyes, he rushed up The Journal office to tell Sherman the news and congratulate him. The democratic editor, who was well posted as to the double-dealing of his alleged democratic "friend" looked at him pityingly and answered: "This is not news to me, I expected it, but not in the way it came." The tone and manner told the would-be boss of the commissioners that his game was up, and without a word he slunk off as any traitor and hypocrite would.

The end is not yet. Let The News "bring Loder out" for what it may. The cowardly man and pretentious commissioner will be pretty thoroughly aired by the straight newspapers of Plattsmouth. The people shall see who has the most influence in affairs and Mr. Loder will discover that "Honesty is always the best policy."

Columbus Day. State Superintendent Gandy is doing everything in his power to further the success of the Columbus day celebration. He has sent samples of the official program to school officers and teachers, together with the following circular:

To school officers, teachers and patrons of the public and private schools of Nebraska: In consonance with a joint resolution of the senate and house of representatives issued by the president of United States and with proclamation issued by the president of the United States and governor of Nebraska, this department recommends to all officers, teachers and patrons of the schools of the state of Nebraska that the children, the patrons and friends of education and American patriotism be invited to join in a school celebration of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America to be held on the 21st day of October, 1892, in the manner set forth in the circular issued by the executive committee appointed by the department of superintendence of the National educational association of Brooklyn, February 17, 1892.

While the public school is the product of the American spirit, the perpetuity and the character of our institutions depend largely upon the training which the schools of the state give to the citizens of the state, and so it is peculiarly fitting that in this festival the schools shall lead; so let the schools lead and let all the people follow.

The boys and girls may be led to feel that in this celebration they are partakers in the opening ceremonies of the Columbian exposition in progress at the same time in the city of Chicago. I trust that every effort will be made in every community—in every school district in the state—to stir up the people to a realization of the far reaching results of the events to be commemorated on that day, and that the local press, so ready at all times to do its part in arousing and intensifying every proper sentiment, may be everywhere enlisted.

I am confident that those in charge of the educational interests of the state will be ready to respond to the recommendations of this department.

Full official programmes, including the ode, addresses, etc., may be had by application to Francis Bellamy, Boston, Mass., at the following rates: One to 100 copies at the rate of $1 per 100, post paid; 100 to 1,000 copies at the rate of $1 per 1,000, post paid, 1,000 and upwards paid at the rate of $1 per 100, post paid. Sample copies of the programme may be had of Mr. Bellamy on application, free of charge. Respectfully, A. K. GOLDBY, Superintendent Public Instruction.

PLENRY OF THEM LEFT. SOUTH SIOUX CITY, Neb., Sept. 28.—South Sioux City, as is well known is located in the hot-bed of democracy, but for all this South Sioux City has a republican club organized numbering seventy-five members, nearly all young men. A great many of them are country boys and will cast their first vote this fall, and there is not much doubt, judging from the present enthusiasm, but what it will be for the republican ticket from the president of the United States down to township officers. Arrangements have been made for Hon. George D. Neikjola to speak here Saturday evening, October 8. The republican clubs throughout this senatorial district have been invited and a number of them have accepted invitations. The weather permitting, the democrats in this section who have rarely had the pleasure of seeing a leading republican, and having been told by the democratic speech-makers of late that they are all dead, will realize that there are still a few left.

A SWORN STATEMENT.

The Tin Plate Testimony is Very Convincing.

WHAT SAYS BRYAN NOW?

Dr. Humphrey Writes to His Brother and Receives a Sworn Statement as to Facts—Read and be Convinced.

Tin Plate. There has been considerable printed "stuff" in The Journal and more "stuff" said by democratic orators about tin plate. The democrats have a habit of talking "stuff." We say "stuff" advisedly. Their whole argument in regard to the protective tariff is made of "stuffing." They misrepresent and apparently proceed upon the theory that "a lie well-stuffed to is as good as the truth." Such a procedure may work if the "lie" is not "found out." But when it is "found out"—fully exposed—even sticking to it does no good. Now the republicans in this campaign are in the business of exposing these misstatements of the democratic managers, orators and writers. In the language of Flannigan of Texas, "that is what we are here for."

Mr. Bryan and other orators and The Journal and other democratic newspapers have told a great many things which were not true about tin plate, and especially about the industry at Elwood, Ind. It seems to be a failing of democratic managers to decry all industries in their own country. If any other country's interests are at stake they are quick to uphold them, but not one word have they to say in defense of our own country. But republicans like to clutch matters, and THE HERALD takes pleasure in presenting a very forcible clasher in these columns today.

Dr. W. A. Humphrey of this city has a brother in Middleport and he wrote to him to learn the facts in regard to the tin plate industry. He got it. Not only got the information but he got it sworn to. UNDER OATH these statements are made. Read them. This is a campaign of education and republicans are endeavoring to educate. They do no bluffing. They tell the truth. They deal in facts. Theories do not count in this campaign. Here is the answer which came back:

This is to certify that the Middleport Steel Works (Blessener) has been making steel plates for the last three months, for the manufacture of tin, at the rate of 350 thirty-five tons per day. About twenty tons a day have gone to Elwood, Ind., to the American Tin Plate Co., where it is being made into the finest tinned plate in the market. I have been in person at Elwood, Ind., and have SEEN our product manufactured into FINISHED TIN. N. M. PETERSON, Attest: Gen. Supt.

S. B. HUMPHREY, STATE OF OHIO, Meigs County, Ohio. Sworn to and subscribed before me a notary of public in and for said county, this 19th day of September 1892. J. C. McMASTER, Notary Public.

Last Night's Meeting. The Young News Republican club held a rousing meeting Friday night at G. A. R. hall. Gen. Geo. S. Smith of Omaha came down upon invitation and addressed the club. The speaker talked for an hour and his speech was of a high order, and one well worth hearing and when he had finished he was applauded to the echo. Judge Chapman then made an able talk upon the tin plate question.

John A. Davies, was then called upon and he spoke for a short time on the tariff, in his usual pleasing manner, and the way he handled the subject was a caution. Mr. Davies is the best tariff speaker in Cass county and when he is discussing the matter it's made so plain that any one can see the difference at a once. He showed where the tariff benefited the American manufacturer, the American merchant, the American farmer and the American workman.

Mr. Davies speech created a good deal of enthusiasm as did Gen. Smith and Judge Chapman.

HER CLOTHING MIGHT BURN. Charlotte the five-year-old daughter of Ezra Jones of Nebraska City, was fatally burned last night. While putting wood in the stove her clothing became ignited and before extinguished she was fearfully burned. She died at 7 o'clock this morning.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—A desirable lot in Plattsmouth. Will sell for cash or will take a good buggy horse and horses in exchange. For particulars call on or address this office.

PEOPLE AND AFFAIRS.

THE POLITICAL WHORL. O. Bryan, desist from your canvass for votes. "Useless to buck a stone wall; We sent you to congress one term as a joke, But will not repeat it this fall. The hot breath of Heaven had burned up the corn. And blighted and busted the grain; You rode on the crest of calamity's wave because—it neglected to rain. Your party, O. Bryan, its platform and all, Maintains a sepulchral smell. Composed of a mixture of everything vile This side of the confines of—well— The crop yield is great in Nebraska this year. And prices are on the up-grade. And no man can sail into congress from here Upon the dead sea of free trade. The country is prosperous, wages are high And Field has no reason to fear. "Conditions, not theories," favor the judge In this grand republican year. Then Bryan, O. Bryan, come back to your friends. Come home, for the tempest is high, Remember, the words that were spoken to Saul— You can't be elected; don't try. —Lincoln Journal.

The trial of W. H. Irvine for the murder of C. E. Montgomery at Lincoln has been postponed until October eleven.

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS. The trial of Chancellor Creighton commenced yesterday at the Congregational church at Nebraska City, before a jury of fifteen fellow ministers, presided over by Bishop Warren. The inquiry is to be held behind closed doors. The prosecution has three attorneys on hand and the chancellor two. The line of defense is to be malice and spite work. A number of witnesses were examined in the afternoon, and the testimony was said to be of a damaging character to the chancellor, the exact nature of which could not be learned. Bishop Warren is trying the case strictly on facts.

Rev. L. F. Britt, of Plattsmouth, one of the most popular ministers in the state, and one who is much liked by every one in this city, regardless of their religious beliefs, is here striking hands with his scores of warm friends. He is looking much better than he has been for years which is very gratifying to all.—Nebraska City News.

FLAG FROM FRANCE. Lieutenant-Governor Majors has received two beautiful flags from Lyons, accompanied by the following note:

CONSULATE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, LYONS, FRANCE, Sept. 7, 1892.—Hon. Tom Majors.—Dear Sir: Please accept the little flags, which I herewith enclose, with which to celebrate your election in November. The only question I can possibly entertain as to the size of your majority. Nebraska is sure to shake off the last election. Yours very truly, EDMUND B. FAIRFIELD.

The prisoners in the county jail at Columbus came near effecting their escape last night. They sawed off a bar which enabled them to get in to the corridor, but were found before they had gone any further.

The city council of Plattsmouth have a queer way of doing business. After advertising for paving and printing bids, they gave the work to the highest bidders on both occasions.—Weeping Water Eagle.

Lieutenant Davis, a former Weeping Water boy, says the Weeping Water Republican, arrived Tuesday and will be the guest of the Misses Wolcott for a couple of days. He has been attending the military school at West Point for a number of years and after graduating is on his way to Fort Russell, Wyo., where he has been appointed to report. "Wife" old friends are delighted to see him.

FOILED A HIGHWAYMAN. A desperate attempt was made to hold up Mrs. Nellie Davis of Nebraska City last evening. She was driving through Morion park, when a highway man suddenly sprang from the gloom and seized her horse by the bridle, bringing the animal to a stop. Mrs. Davis at once cut the horse with her whip and the assailant was thrown to the ground.

To all Justices of the Peace of Cass county you are invited to attend a meeting of said officers on the 31st day of October 1892 at Louisville, Nebraska, at 1 o'clock p. m. Business of importance to you will be before the meeting. Papers of the county please copy. By order of committee.

CHAPTER NO. THREE, Nebraska City News.

Will Ince made another effort yesterday to secure his little daughter, who has been given to Dr. Gibbs by the authorities. It will be remembered that some days ago Le made a similar attempt and even succeeded in slipping her out of town and taking her to his home in Plattsmouth. Both he and the child were brought back, and after receiving a letter from Judge Eaton the little girl was given to her legal guardian and Ince was let out of jail. But yesterday afternoon he tried his old plan again. He obtained permission to go out with the child, and was already on his way toward the bridge to get into Iowa, when Constable Gran Hall was informed of his object and headed him off near Eighth street. Ince promises not to trouble the child again and was let go, the child being surrendered to its guardian.

UNION'S LATEST ENTERPRISE. Work was commenced yesterday for the erection of a creamery and cheese factory at Union, and it is thought it will be in operation within forty days. The stock has all been taken and there is a surplus on hand with which to start the work.

NEW YEAR, 5633. Last evening at sunset the Hebrew New year commenced. The year is 5633. Festivities were commenced last night in every Jewish community throughout the world. At the Hebrew temple, Twenty-fourth and Harvey streets, at Omaha services were begun at sunset and will be continued today.

The first day of the Jewish seventh month is called Tishri. The tenth day of the seventh month is Yom Kippur. This is the day of atonement and consists of continued religious services at the synagogues from sundown of the ninth day to sundown of the tenth day. In common computation New Year's day begins at sundown this evening and ends at sundown tomorrow. The day of atonement begins Friday at sundown and lasts twenty-four hours. The three festivals are commemorative of certain periods in Hebrew history, being the Feast of the Passover, which is similar to the Fourth of July, celebrating the day of Jewish redemption from Egyptian bondage; and the Feast of Pentecost, or Shewborth, commemorating the giving of the Ten Commandments on Mount Sinai to the redeemed Hebrews. There are three feasts, the Feast of Tabernacles, or Succoth, commemorating the wandering of the Hebrews forty years in the wilderness, after redemption from Egypt, prior to reaching their promised land. The former and latter holidays last eight days, and the first and last days synagogue services are held. The second festival is the sixth day of the third Hebrew month, called Sevan. The Feast of the Passover celebrates the first Jewish month of the thirtieth day of Nissan. The third festival is celebrated the fourteenth day of the seventh month and is called Tishri.

GENERAL THAYER'S TRIP EAST. General John M. Thayer started east yesterday in answer to a telegram from his family physician announcing the serious condition of Mrs. Thayer, who is sick at their old home in Massachusetts. General Thayer returned from Massachusetts a few days ago, leaving his wife much improved in health. Her condition has grown alarming and her friends apprehend the worst. The serious illness and poor health of Mrs. Thayer have been a source of apprehension to her many friends for the past year. The low state of her health has prevented the general to take the prominent part in the present campaign that he would like to take.

THE ALLEGED SHORTAGE. Omaha Item.

Thomas W. Shryock, father of the late W. B. Shryock, ex-treasurer of the Louisville, Neb., school board, writes to The Bee in answer to what he styles "the many unjust imputations cast upon my name and that of the family," embodied in the resolutions of the Louisville school board, a copy of which appeared in The Bee last Saturday. He states that he, as executor of his son's estate, instead of telling the board it must look to the bondsmen for the funds, informed the members that he found a balance in the banks in favor of W. B. Shryock amounting to several hundred dollars, but no specific deposit of school money. He also told them, he says, that the necessary amount was not in sight, but that as there was no immediate need of the money, if they would give a little grace, the money should be forthcoming soon, as the assets of the estate would be ample. Mr. Shryock also declared that the full amount, $3,175.05, was not received from the attorney for the bondsmen, as stated in the published resolutions, but was paid by the widow through the attorney for the estate. Mr. Ellis, the correspondent avers, was not a candidate for re-election. Mr. Ellis declared that the board was equally responsible with the treasurer for the error, shortage, "and," writes Mr. Shryock, "to properly bring this to light will say that it has been customary for the board to issue warrants for funds in the treasurer's hands blank, the amount being filled in by county treasurer, which was done in this case, the same in violation of section 16, subdivision 4, the Nebraska school law."

DEAD SORE ON THE CITY.

The democratic county convention of Otoe county was held in Nebraska City Friday and the following ticket nominated: Sen. John Mattes, jr.; representative John Sinclair and George Leidig, county attorney, John Morgan, county commissioner, James Callin. The convention was presided over by H. M. Boydston, with Marnell as secretary. During the reading of the report of the credential committee it developed that Palmyra precinct had held primaries. Frank Ball, a resident of that precinct, was present and stated that when it became known that the convention was to be held in this city the chairman refused to issue a call. He was no traitor and wanted to cast six votes for Palmyra and was allowed to do so. There is a big split in the western part of the county which means republican success.

Strictly Pure White Lead is the Best Paint.

Care is necessary though, to obtain strictly pure, as the market is flooded with so-called Pure White Leads that in reality contain but very little white lead. The following analyses of two of these misleading brands show the exact proportion of genuine white lead they contain. The analyses describe the labels and brands on the packages and give the contents as follows:

Table with columns: Misleading Brands, Materials, Proportions, Analyzed by. Includes entries for 'C. F. Lawson & Co. Strictly Pure White Lead' and 'Masonry's Railroad White Lead'.

We have a book which gives the analyses of a large number of misleading brands. If you are going to paint it will pay you to send for it.

In Painting use strictly pure White Lead (see that you get either "Southern," "Collier," or "Red Seal"), tint it with the National Lead Co's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, and you will have the best paint that it is possible to put on a building. For sale by the best dealers in paints everywhere.
